American Roadkill Don H. Corrigan,2021-11-03 Slaughtered along our highways roadkill may be observed regularly but aren t likely to be given much thought Research scientists animal rights activists roadkill artists writers ethicists and lyricists however are increasingly sounding the alarm They report that we are killing the very animals we love and are driving many of them to the brink of extinction Detailing the death and destruction of mammals reptiles amphibians and insect pollinators this study examines the ways in which we are thus jeopardizing our own futures Beginning in the Model T era biologists counted the common carnage of the time cottontails woodchucks and squirrels mostly That record keeping continues today Beyond the bleak statistics zoologists are rerouting migratory paths of animals and are advocating for cat and dog companions This book illuminates both our successes and failures in keeping animals out of harm s way and what those efforts reflect about ourselves and our capacity to care enough to alter the road ahead

Environmental Anthropology Helen Kopnina,Eleanor Shoreman-Ouimet,2013-07-18 This volume presents new theoretical approaches methodologies subject pools and topics in the field of environmental anthropology Environmental anthropologists are increasingly focusing on self reflection not just on themselves and their impacts on environmental research but also on the reflexive qualities of their subjects and the extent to which these individuals are questioning their own environmental behavior Here contributors confront the very notion of natural resources in granting non human species their subjectivity and arguing for deeper understanding of nature and wilderness beyond the label of ecosystem services By engaging in interdisciplinary efforts these anthropologists present new ways for their colleagues subjects peers and communities to understand the causes of and alternatives to environmental destruction This book demonstrates that environmental anthropology has moved beyond the construction of rural small group theory entering into a mode of solution based methodologies and interdisciplinary theories for understanding human environmental interactions It is focused on post rural existence health and environmental risk assessment on the realm of alternative actions and emphasizes the necessary steps towards preventing environmental crisis
