International Relations In A Global Age A Conceptual Challenge:

International Relations in a Global Age Gillian Youngs, 2013-05-02 The book investigates the ways in which state centred approaches to international relations have limited our understanding of global political economic and cultural processes By assessing a wide range of such state centred work Youngs identifies the challenges we must address to grasp the complexity of the contemporary world

The New Agenda for International Relations Stephanie Lawson, 2013-07-08 There have been significant political eras which have shaped not only the structure of world politics but the way in which it has been studied The geopolitical and ideological contours of the Cold War period for example had an impact on almost every aspect of world politics and the study of international relations for around 45 years This book argues that just as the collapse of the Soviet Union in the period following the fall of the Berlin Wall signalled the end of strategic polarization it also marked the apparent end of a particular form of polarized debate around political social and economic ideas The various new directions taken by scholars of international relations in the post Cold War era constitute a large part of a new agenda for the discipline This collection reflects the variety of issues and approaches that have become part and parcel of this agenda over the past ten years Issues tackled in this volume include the power of culture and ideology the concept of globalisation inequality human rights and security as well as reflections on new forms of polarization in the post Cold War world Each contributor addresses the nature of changes and continuities in world politics considers how the discipline of international relations itself has changed and reflects on possible directions for the twenty first Century This book will be of great interest to scholars of international relations global politics economics and related disciplines

Feminist International Relations Through a Technospacial Lens Gillian Youngs, 2024-11-14 Feminist International Relations Through a Technospacial Lens is a rich thought provoking and wide ranging assessment of power and empowerment in the digital age Artificial intelligence AI innovations have launched a new era of policy and public engagement with the workings of digital economy and the scale of its possibilities and risks How beneficial will its data driven technological advances be across scientific medical and commercial sectors and what are the dangers of its increasing capacities to replace human presence and interactions with convincing replications These are the kinds of big new questions societies confront Answers will need to draw on deep understanding of technospacial and technosocial dimensions of digital economy and how it has extended deepened and transformed automation as a continuing feature of earlier industrial economy transitions These are the central themes addressed in this book which presents a new analysis supported by a range of material related to more than a quarter of a century of Gillian Youngs applied research and practice on power and empowerment in the digital world The book examines the complex masculinist abstractions and structures that have framed technology as intrinsic to the momentum of change in unquestioned ways in political economy and its state and market drivers including in research policy corporate and profit driven strategies To transcend these abstractions and open up pathways for full sociotechnical interrogation of the promise and hazards of advances such as AI the author's distinctive critical approach combines insights from feminist theory and practice political economy and media and communications Contributing to advancing feminist international relations and consolidating its distinctive place in cutting edge social and political science this book will speak to scholars and students of international relations politics women's and gender studies as well as geography sociology and media and communications

Feminist Interventions in International Communication Katharine Sarikakis, Leslie Regan Shade, 2008 This cutting edge work critiques today's global mediascape through feminist perspectives highlighting concerns of policy power labor and technology Starting with the general state of international communications the book uses feminist political economic and policy analyses to explore the globalization of media industries including questions about women's employment and media content that is globally produced and consumed A top notch group of authors covers cases on online news pornography and explicit material political participation and democracy policies for women's development violence against women labor practices and information workers print media and publishing public telecentres media coverage of HIV AIDS and more Providing fresh feminist insights into international communication this essential book shows the important strides taken toward women's justice in these areas and how far there is yet to go

State/Nation/Transnation Katie Willis, Brenda S. A. Yeoh, 2004-05-05 This edited volume examines the relationship between the nation and the transnation focusing on transnational communities in the Asia Pacific region Setting the book within a theoretical framework the authors explore a range of themes such as migration identity and citizenship in chapters on China the Philippines Malaysia Vietnam Japan Indonesia Australia Singapore and Cambodia

The Follies of Globalisation Theory Justin Rosenberg, 2020-05-05 The Follies of Globalisation Theory is an erudite and lively critique arguing that current fashionable preoccupations such as the concern with spatiality have generated deep intellectual confusions that stand in the way of a clear understanding of the modern world It shows how and why these confusions ultimately condemn the globalization theorists themselves to a peculiar and quixotic stance the more clearly they attempt to articulate their arguments the more equivocal and evasive those arguments become yielding at best the intellectual equivalent of an architectural folly

Rethinking Empowerment Jane L. Parpart, Shirin M. Rai, Kathleen A. Staudt, 2003-08-29 Rethinking Empowerment looks at the changing role of women in developing countries and calls for a new approach to empowerment An approach that adopts a more nuanced feminist interpretation of power and empowerment recognises that local empowerment is always embedded in regional national and global contexts pays attention to institutional structures and politics and acknowledges that empowerment is both a process and an outcome Moreover the book warns that an obsession with measurement rather than process can undermine efforts to foster transformative and empowering outcomes It concludes that power must be restored as the centrepiece of empowerment Only then will the term and its advocates provide meaningful ammunition for dealing with the challenges of an increasingly unequal and often sexist global local world

Globalisation and Equality Keith Horton, Haig

Patapan,2004-07-31 Is globalisation creating a more unequal world Is it creating new forms of inequality Does it make certain pre existing forms of inequality more morally or politically significant than they would otherwise have been Globalisation and Equality examines these and related questions exploring the way increasing globalisation is challenging our conceptions of equality The contributors explore these themes from both theoretical and empirical perspectives Some adopt a more abstract approach exploring foundational questions concerning the meaning of equality its social and political dimensions and more specifically its moral implications in a global context Others engage the general themes of globalisation and equality by focusing on specific topics such as welfare citizenship gender culture and the environment Original in the questions it poses and interdisciplinary in its approach this collection of essays will appeal to all those with an interest in globalisation and equality

Gender and Global Restructuring Marianne H. Marchand,Anne Sisson Runyan,2005-08-08 First published in 1999 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company

Women's Activism and Globalization Nancy A. Naples,Manisha Desai,2004-04-16 Women s Activism and Globalization is a broad and comprehensive collection that shows how women activists across the globe are responding to the forces of the new world order in their communities The first person accounts and regional case studies provide a truly global view of women working in their communities for change The essays examine women in urban rural and suburban locations around the world to provide a rich understanding of the common themes as well as significant divergences among women activists in different parts of the world

Mapping Women, Making Politics Lynn Staeheli,Eleonore Kofman,Linda Peake,2013-03-07 Mapping Women Making Politics demonstrates the multiple ways in which gender influences political processes and the politics of space The book begins by addressing feminism s theoretical and conceptual challenges to traditional political geography and than applies these perspectives to a range of settings and topics including nationalism migration development international relations elections social movements governance and the environment in the Global North and South

Palestine and International Law Sanford R. Silverburg,2009-02-12 This collection of thirteen essays explains and analyzes the conflict between the Government of Israel and the Palestine Authority over the granting of sovereignty to Palestinians from the point of view of international law The dispute emotional so far intractable often violent is of global not merely Middle Eastern concern The essays cover two general topics the political nature of the conflict and the economic issues The collection includes eight respected contributions previously published and five newly written essays The contributors represent a range of political alignments and differing perspectives providing the widest possible scope for understanding the issues and beliefs relating to the conflict Includes bibliography and index

Community Resources Johanna Gibson,2016-12-05 Protection of traditional knowledge and resources is of critical concern not only to the groups involved but also to the international trading community for which these resources are of increasing economic importance This work examines the concept of community intellectual property models and additional sources for protection at international law including environmental and human rights frameworks Intellectual property law is critiqued as an inadequate framework to address the fundamental object of protection for the communities themselves the management of traditional use as well as the biological and cultural sustainability of this use The work sets out an international framework based on the concept of community resources recognizing the unique claims embodied in traditional knowledge incorporating customary law and facilitating community management of resources International in perspective and scope the book will be a valuable resource for academics and researchers in law international relations and cultural studies

Globalization Eleonore Kofman, Gillian Youngs, 2003-03-20 This revised second edition of a popular textbook provides a powerful new context for debates about globalization through its identification of both continuities and new concerns and demonstrates the cross disciplinary imperatives for investigating these areas Selected contributors Spike V Peterson Simon Dalby Philip Cerny Jan Jindy Petman Anne Sisson Runyan Marianne Marchand

Governing Financial Globalization Andrew Baker, David Hudson, Richard Woodward, 2005-02 This volume provides a wide ranging discussion of both the potential and the problems arising from the application of multi level governance literature to the monetary and financial domain

Globalization, 3rd edition Eleonore Kofman, Gillian Youngs, 2008-04-28 This fully revised and updated textbook focuses on the major topics of globalization today These include the impact of migration relations between the northern and southern hemispheres how gender and power plays into the globalization process and the politics and economics of freedom of movement in the world Two new chapters on the impact of technology on global communications and the effect of the emerging economies of India and China bring the book fully up to date Further current issues such as the debate concerning environmental security natural disasters the broad spectrum between women s empowering impact in the marketplace and the continued exploitation of women in the sex and service trade are also examined Eleanor Kofman and Gillian Youngs have edited an excellent and comprehensive collection essential for both undergraduate and graduate students trying to gain an understanding of theories and practices driving globalization as we enter into the twenty first century

Interventions E. Castelli, J. Jakobsen, 2004-11-26 This collection brings together top scholars to discuss the significance of violence from a global perspective and the intersections between the global structures of violence and more localized and intimate forms of violence Activists and academics consider questions such as are there situations in which violence should be politically supported Are non violent or anti war movements in the US able to effectively respond to violence Do we need to rethink our understanding of both religion and secularism in light of the current world situation Have new paradigms been developed in response to violence The essays in this collection offer inclusive analysis of particular situations and creative alternatives to the omnipresence of violence

Arming Conflict M. Bourne, 2007-07-12 This book argues that the arming of conflict is complexly structured and highly dynamic It uncovers and describes the construction and interaction of structures and dynamics at global and regional levels which shape the arming patterns of both state and non state actors

Gender History Across Epistemologies Donna R. Gabaccia, Mary Jo

Maynes,2013-02-19 Gender History Across Epistemologies offers broad range of innovative approaches to gender history The essays reveal how historians of gender are crossing boundaries disciplinary methodological and national to explore new opportunities for viewing gender as a category of historical analysis Essays present epistemological and theoretical debates central in gender history over the past two decades Contributions within this volume to the work on gender history are approached from a wide range of disciplinary locations and approaches The volume demonstrates that recent approaches to gender history suggest surprising crossovers and even the discovery of common grounds

Gender, Violence and Security Laura Shepherd,2013-07-04 How do understandings of the relationships between gender violence security and the international inform policy and practice in which these notions are central What are the practical implications of basing policy on problematic discourses In this highly original poststructural feminist critique the author maps the discursive terrains of institutions both NGOs and the UN which formulate and implement resolutions and guides of practice that affect gender issues in the context of international policy practices The author investigates UN Security Council Resolution 1325 passed in 2000 to address gender issues in conflict areas in order to examine the discursive construction of security policy that takes gender seriously In doing so she argues that language is not merely descriptive of social political reality but rather constitutive of it Moving from concept to discourse and in turn to practice the author analyses the ways in which the resolution s discursive construction had an enormous influence over the practicalities of its implementation and how the resulting tensions and inconsistencies in its construction contributed to its failures The book argues for a re conceptualisation of gendered violence in conjunction with security in order to avoid partial and highly problematic understandings of their practical relationship Drawing together theoretical work on discourses of gender violence and international security sexualised violence in war gender and peace processes and the domestic international dichotomy with her own rigorous empirical investigation the author develops a compelling discourse theoretical analysis that promises to have far reaching impact in both academic and policy environments
