The Internet and Democracy Building in Lusophone African Countries Susana Salgado, 2016-03-03 This timely book fills an important gap in the literature on the influence of the Internet and new media in Portuguese speaking African countries Based on extensive field work throughout the region the author examines the influence of the Internet in the transition to democracy in Africa and asks whether there are new possibilities for popular activism to emerge from evolving communication environments and media systems The book analyses the different forms of democracy the concept of development and addresses the debate about the relationship between democracy and development and explores the influence of the media in the democratization process the promises that digital media bring to this process and to development and the implications of the African digital divide In certain countries in this region democracy and independent news media are in their infancy but are starting to take hold giving an excellent opportunity to observe the dynamics of civil society and the influence of increased freedom new voting powers and new media in particular The book offers important insights into the roles and functions that the media in general and the Internet in particular can perform in the creation of a more democratic society as well as in empowering and educating citizens in democratic values Experiencias, Annotated Instructor's Edition Diane Ceo-DiFrancesco, 2019-10-15 Experiencias offers carefully sequenced activities pre tested in the authors own classes that focus on personal interaction and real communication All face to face activities are easily adaptable for digital environments and writing assignments Recycling Throughout both volumes Experiencias incorporates activities that recycle previously learned material but with new topics which allows students to continue mastering vocabulary and structures encountered earlier in the program The Routledge Companion to Global Internet Histories Gerard Goggin, Mark McLelland, 2017-02-17 The Routledge Companion to Global Internet Histories brings together research on the diverse Internet histories that have evolved in different regions language cultures and social contexts across the globe While the Internet is now in its fifth decade the understanding and formulation of its histories outside of an anglophone framework is still very much in its infancy From Tunisia to Taiwan this volume emphasizes the importance of understanding and formulating Internet histories outside of the anglophone case studies and theoretical paradigms that have thus far dominated academic scholarship on Internet history Interdisciplinary in scope the collection offers a variety of historical lenses on the development of the Internet as a new communication technology seen in the context of older technologies as a new form of sociality read alongside previous technologically mediated means of relating and as a new media vehicle for the communication of content Social Consequences of Internet Use James E. Katz, Ronald E. Rice, 2002-08-30 A study of the impact of Internet use on American society based on a series of nationally representative surveys conducted from 1995 to 2000 Drawing on nationally representative telephone surveys conducted from 1995 to 2000 James Katz and Ronald Rice offer a rich and nuanced picture of Internet use in America Using quantitative data as well as case studies of Web sites they explore the impact of the Internet on society from three perspectives access to Internet technology the digital divide involvement with groups and communities through the Internet social capital and use of the Internet for social interaction and expression identity To provide a more comprehensive account of Internet use the authors draw comparisons across media and include Internet nonusers and former users in their research The authors call their research the Syntopia Project to convey the Internet's role as one among a host of communication technologies as well as the synergy between people's online activities and their real world lives Their major finding is that Americans use the Internet as an extension and enhancement of their daily routines Contrary to media sensationalism the Internet is neither a utopia liberating people to form a global egalitarian community nor a dystopia producing armies of disembodied lonely individuals Like any form of communication it is as helpful or harmful as those who use it Routledge International Handbook of Internet Gambling Robert Williams, Robert Wood, Jonathan Parke, 2012-11-27 Internet gambling is a rapidly growing phenomenon which has profound social psychological economic political and policy implications Until recently Internet gambling has been understudied by the research community but now a growing body of literature is emerging on all aspects of Internet gambling and its attendant implications As jurisdictions around the world grapple to understand the best way to respond to Internet gambling from a commercial regulatory and social perspective scholarly studies of Internet gambling are becoming an ever more crucial resource The Handbook of Internet Gambling consolidates this emerging body of literature into a single reference volume Its twenty chapters comprise groundbreaking contributions from the world's leading authorities in the commercial clinical political and social aspects of Internet gambling It is sure to be a foundational resource for academics students regulators politicians policy makers commercial providers and health care professionals who have an interest in understanding the history dynamics and impacts of Internet gambling in a global context Human Rights Internet Reporter, 1999 In the Shadow of Luxembourg: EU and National Developments in the Regulation of Gambling Alan Littler, Nele Hoekx, Cyrille J.C.F. Fijnaut, 2011-01-17 This book provides a number of differing views on the consequences of the stream of gambling related case law from the European Court of Justice and political debates alongside current regulatory developments occurring within five Member States Using Internet Primary Sources to Teach Critical Thinking Skills in Geography Gary S. Elbow, Martha B. Sharma, 2000-09-30 Geography teachers and school library media specialists will find this resource indispensable for providing classroom lessons and activities in critical thinking for geography students in grades 7-12 It is filled with over 75 primary source Internet sites covering such topics as Places and Regions Physical Systems Human Systems Environment and Society and the Uses of Geography and will be an invaluable tool in helping teachers and librarians meet the standards set forth in the 1994 publication Geography for Life National Geography Standards Each site is accompanied by a site summary that describes the site contents and usefulness to geography teachers and school library media specialists Site subjects include Urban Landscapes Volcanoes and Earthquakes Weather The U.S. Census and the World Wildlife Fund Global Network The questions and activities that follow are designed to develop critical thinking skills for both oral and written presentations An appendix of additional geography resources includes Internet addresses for approximately 25 sites relating to maps primary sources and critical thinking This will provide teachers and librarians with even more resources for developing lessons to help each student meet all 18 of the National Geography Standards La evolución geográfica de la productividad y el empleo Elena Ianchovichina, 2024-03-19 En La evolución geográfica de la productividad y el empleo Ideas para lograr un crecimiento inclusivo a través de una perspectiva territorial en América Latina y el Caribe se utiliza una perspectiva territorial para comprender las tasas de crecimiento económico persistentemente bajas de América Latina y el Caribe ALC Utilizando nuevos datos y métodos se muestra que la desindustrialización la distancia y las divisiones son factores interrelacionados que explican la paradoja de la productividad urbana en ALC a saber las ciudades densamente pobladas deber an estar entre las m s productivas del mundo pero no lo est n Las ciudades de ALC se han visto frenadas por la falta de dinamismo la mala conectividad y las divisiones en barrios pobres y pr speros desconectados A causa de la desindustrialización el empleo urbano se ha desplazado especialmente en las ciudades m s grandes de la regi n de las manufacturas a actividades no comercializables menos din micas y de baja productividad como el comercio minorista y los servicios personales y de otra ndole que se benefician menos con la aglomeración sobre todo en ciudades muy congestionadas Si bien el empleo en el sector de los servicios comercializables urbanos ha aumentado el alza ha sido lo suficientemente firme como para compensar la disminuci n del empleo en el sector manufacturero Al mismo tiempo los problemas de conectividad interurbana han menoscabado el desempe o de la red de ciudades de la regi n dado que restringen el acceso a los mercados y la capacidad de las empresas para beneficiarse de la especializaci n reubic ndose en ciudades m s peque as Dentro de las ciudades la conectividad deficiente y la segregaci n del mercado laboral residencial han limitado los beneficios de la aglomeraci n a los vecindarios de los distritos comerciales centrales donde operan las empresas formales La informalidad ha persistido en los barrios de bajos ingresos cuyos habitantes enfrentan m ltiples privaciones En cambio muchas zonas agr colas y mineras se han beneficiado con la fuerte demanda de productos b sicos por parte de China y otras econom as de r pido crecimiento particularmente durante la d cada dorada 2003 13 lo que llev a una disminuci n de la desigualdad territorial en la mayor a de los pa ses de la regi n Se concluye que para fomentar el crecimiento inclusivo los pa ses deben transformar m s eficientemente la riqueza natural en capital humano infraestructura e instituciones y mejorar la competitividad de la econom a urbana En tal sentido se esbozan los contornos de dicha estrategia de desarrollo identificando las prioridades en materia de pol ticas a nivel nacional regional y local
