Cultural Heritage Infrastructures in Digital Humanities Agiatis Benardou, Erik Champion, Costis Dallas, Lorna Hughes, 2017-09-22 What are the leading tools and archives in digital cultural heritage How can they be integrated into research infrastructures to better serve their intended audiences In this book authors from a wide range of countries representing some of the best research projects in digital humanities related to cultural heritage discuss their latest findings both in terms of new tools and archives and how they are used or not used by both specialists and by the general public

Handbook of Digital Public History Serge Noiret, Mark Tebeau, Gerben Zaagsma, 2022-04-04 This handbook provides a systematic overview of the present state of international research in digital public history Individual studies by internationally renowned public historians digital humanists and digital historians elucidate central issues in the field and present a critical account of the major public history accomplishments research activities and practices with the public and of their digital context The handbook applies an international and comparative approach looks at the historical development of the field focuses on technical background and the use of specific digital media and tools Furthermore the handbook analyzes connections with local communities and different publics worldwide when engaging in digital activities with the past indicating directions for future research and teaching activities Archaeology 2.0 Eric C. Kansa, Sarah Witcher Kansa, Ethan Watrall, 2011-11-01 How is the Web transforming the professional practice of archaeology And as archaeologists accustomed to dealing with deep time how can we best understand the possibilities and limitations of the Web in meeting the specialized needs of professionals in this field These are among the many questions posed and addressed in Archaeology 2.0 New Approaches to Communication and Collaboration edited by Eric Kansa Sarah Witcher Kansa and Ethan Watrall With contributions from a range of experts in archaeology and technology this volume is organized around four key topics that illuminate how the revolution in communications technology reverberates across the discipline approaches to information retrieval and information access practical and theoretical concerns inherent in design choices for archaeology's computing infrastructure collaboration through the development of new technologies that connect field based researchers and specialists within an international archaeological community and scholarly communications issues with an emphasis on concerns over sustainability and preservation imperatives This book not only describes practices that attempt to mitigate some of the problems associated with the Web such as information overload and disinformation it also presents compelling case studies of actual digital projects many of which are rich in structured data and multimedia content or focused on generating content from the field in real time and all of which demonstrate how the Web can and is being used to transform archaeological communications into forms that are more open inclusive and participatory Above all this volume aims to share these experiences to provide useful guidance for other researchers interested in applying technology to archaeology

Middle and Junior High School Library Catalog ,2006 Junior High School Library Catalog ,2006 Field

Archaeology from Around the World Martin Carver, Bisserka Gaydarska, Sandra Montón-Subías, 2014-11-26 Field practice in archaeology varies greatly throughout the world mainly because archaeological sites survive in very different ways in different countries Many manuals see this as a problem to be defeated by the imposition of standardised procedures In this book we relish the variety of field practice seeing it rather as the way the best archaeologists have responded creatively to the challenges of terrain research objectives and the communities within which they work While insisting on the highest levels of investigation we celebrate the different designs concepts scientific detection methods and recording systems applied so embracing standards but not standardisation The book is organised in four parts Part 1 offers a summary of field procedures Part 2 reviews the principal methods applied above and below ground and how the results are analysed Part 3 illustrates the huge variety confronted by field workers with a series of exemplary commercial and academic projects enacted in downland jungle desert permafrost road schemes and towns Approaches also differ according to the traditional methodologies that have evolved in particular countries In Part 4 we give examples of some the strongest and oldest of those practised on four continents Using Internet Primary Sources to Teach Critical Thinking Skills in World

Literature Roxanne M. Kent-Drury,2005-03-30 Presenting web sites from around the world covering much of the world s literature this book provides creative and interesting thinking activities to enhance student understanding of literature and culture and to promote critical thinking This book will be very useful to teachers of world history and literature at the senior high school and undergraduate level Part of a well reviewed series of titles Using Internet Primary Sources to Promote Critical Thinking carries on the tradition of excellence in instructional tools Grades 9 12 From Photography to 3D Models and Beyond: Visualizations in Archaeology Donald H. Sanders,2023-12-21 This book explores the history of visual technology and archaeology and outlines how the introduction of interactive 3D computer modelling to the discipline parallels very closely the earlier integration of photography into archaeological fieldwork Digital Heritage and Archaeology in Practice Ethan Watrall,Lynne Goldstein,2022-06-28 Exploring the use of digital methods in heritage studies and archaeological research The two volumes of Digital Heritage and Archaeology in Practice bring together archaeologists and heritage professionals from private public and academic sectors to discuss practical applications of digital and computational approaches to the field Contributors thoughtfully explore the diverse and exciting ways in which digital methods are being deployed in archaeological interpretation and analysis museum collections and archives and community engagement as well as the unique challenges that these approaches bring In this volume essays address methods for preparing and analyzing archaeological data focusing on preregistration of research design and 3D digital topography Next contributors use specific case studies to discuss data structuring with an emphasis on creating and maintaining large data sets and working with legacy data Finally the volume offers insights into ethics and professionalism including topics such as access to data transparency and openness scientific reproducibility open access heritage resources Indigenous sovereignty structural racial inequalities and machine learning Digital Heritage and Archaeology in Practice highlights the importance of community generosity and openness in the use of digital tools and technologies Providing a purposeful counterweight to the idea that digital archaeology requires expensive infrastructure proprietary software complicated processes and opaque workflows these volumes privilege perspectives that embrace straightforward and transparent approaches as models for the future Contributors Lynne Goldstein Ethan Watrall Brian Ballsun Stanton Rachel Opitz Sebastian Heath Jolene Smith Philip I Buckland Adela Sobotkova Petra Hermankova Theresa Huntsman Heather Richards Risetto Ben Marwick Li Ying Wang Carrie Heitman Neha Gupta Ramona Nicholas Susan Blair Jeremy Huggett
