Postcolonial African Cities Fasil

Demissie, 2013-09-13 The book focuses on contemporary African cities caught in the contradiction of an imperial past and postcolonial present The essays explore the cultural role of colonial architecture and urbanism in the production of meanings in the inscription of power and discipline as well as in the dynamic construction of identities It is in these new dense urban spaces with all their contradictions that urban Africans are reworking their local identities building families and creating autonomous communities made fragile by neo liberal states in a globalizing world The book offers a range of scholarly interpretations of the new forms of urbanity It engages with issues themes and topics including colonial legacies postcolonial intersections cosmopolitan spaces urban reconfigurations and migration which are at the heart of the continuing debate about the trajectory of contemporary African cities The collection discusses contemporary African cities as diverse as Dar Es Salaam Dakar Johannesburg Lagos and Kinshasa offering new insights into the current state of postcolonial African cities This was previously published as a special issue of African Identities

Global Journalism Vera Slavtcheva-Petkova, Michael

Bromley, 2018-10-09 Providing a truly comprehensive overview of international journalism and global news reporting in the digital age this new introductory textbook surveys the full variety of contexts that journalists around the world operate in the challenges and pressures they face their journalistic practices and the wider theoretical and social implications Analysing key scholarship in the field Vera Slavtcheva Petkova and Michael Bromley explore not just journalism as a single entity but equally the multiple cultures which host journalism and the variety of journalisms which exist across the world Clear and accessible this is an ideal companion for undergraduate and postgraduate students of international and global journalism on journalism or media and communication studies degrees      Space, Place and Hybridity in the National Imagination Christine Vandamme, André Dodeman, 2021-10-26 This volume explores space place and hybridity in today s multicultural societies with a strong emphasis on the role of art and spatial representations in order to map out the complexity of modern nations and celebrate the creative powers of their highly dynamic communities and cultures It considers how the very idea of the nation has evolved since the emergence and development of the idea of the nation state at the end of the eighteenth century and how art can reinvigorate representations of nation states worldwide without relegating their minorities to the margin Instead of merely focusing on the role of place and land in national representations the book adopts a wider and more critical approach to space in the arts by investigating the notions of both hybridity and Bhabha s Third Space in the fields of aesthetics film studies and literature with a particular emphasis on postcolonial literature      Transport, Mobility, and the Production of Urban Space Julie Cidell, David Prytherch, 2015-05-01 The contemporary urban experience is defined by flow and structured by circulating people objects and energy Geographers have long provided key insights into transportation systems But today concerns for social justice and sustainability motivate new critical approaches to mobilities Reimagining the city prompts an important question How best to rethink urban geographies of transport and mobility This original book explores connections in theory and practice between transport geographies and new mobilities in the production of urban space It provides a broad introduction to intersecting perspectives of urban geography transport geography and mobilities studies on urban places of flows Diverse international and leading edge contributions reinterpret everyday intersections as nodes urban corridors as links cities and regions as networks and the discourses and imaginaries that frame the politics and experiences of mobility The chapters illuminate nearly all aspects of urban transport from street regulation and roadway planning intended and subversive practices of car and truck drivers planning and promotion of mass transit investments and the restructuring of freight and logistics networks Together these offer a unique and important contribution for social scientists planners and others interested in the politics of the city on the move      Space and Spatiality in Modern German-Jewish History Simone Lässig, Miriam Rürup, 2017-06-01 What makes a space Jewish This wide ranging volume revisits literal as well as metaphorical spaces in modern German history to examine the ways in which Jewishness has been attributed to them both within and outside of Jewish communities and what the implications have been across different eras and social contexts Working from an expansive concept of the spatial these contributions look not only at physical sites but at professional political institutional and imaginative realms as well as historical Jewish experiences of spacelessness Together they encompass spaces as varied as early modern print shops and Weimar cinema always pointing to the complex intertwining of German and Jewish identity      Theories and Methodologies in Postgraduate Feminist Research

Rosemarie Buikema, Gabriele Griffin, Nina Lykke, 2012-03-29 This volume centers on theories and methodologies for postgraduate feminist researchers engaged in interdisciplinary research In the context of globalization this book gives special attention to cutting edge approaches at the borders between humanities and social sciences and specific discipline transgressing fields such as feminist technoscience studies

Visuospatial Reasoning Kay Owens, 2014-11-07 This book develops the theoretical perspective on visuospatial reasoning in ecocultural contexts granting insights on how the language gestures and representations of different cultures reflect visuospatial reasoning in context For a number of years two themes in the field of mathematics education have run parallel with each other with only a passing acquaintance These two areas are the psychological perspective on visuospatial reasoning and ecocultural perspectives on mathematics education This volume examines both areas of research and explores the intersection of these powerful ideas In addition there has been a growing interest in sociocultural aspects of education and in particular that of Indigenous education in the field of mathematics education There has not however been a sound analysis of how environmental and cultural contexts impact visuospatial reasoning although it was noted as far back as the 1980s when Alan Bishop developed his duality of visual processing and interpreting visual information This book provides this analysis and in so doing not only articulates new and worthwhile lines of research but also uncovers and makes real a variety of useful professional approaches in teaching school mathematics With a renewed interest in visuospatial reasoning in the mathematics education community this volume is extremely timely and adds significantly to current literature on the topic

Religion, Diaspora and Cultural Identity J.W. Pulis, 2014-01-02 Although the religions of the Caribbean have been a subject of popular media there have been few ethnographic publications This text is a much needed and long overdue addition to Caribbean studies and the exploration of ideas beliefs and religious practices of Caribbean folk in diaspora and at home Drawing upon ethnographic and historical research in a variety of contexts and settings the contributors to this volume explore the relationship between religious and social life Whether practiced at home or abroad the contributors contend that the religions of Caribbean folk are dynamic and creative endeavors that have mediated the ongoing and open ended relation between local and global historical and contemporary change

Reading Wayde Compton Fernando Pérez-García, 2025-06-30 This book is a comprehensive analysis of the literary oeuvre of Wayde Compton examining the interplay between modes of literary production urban commemoration the formation of Black racial identity on the margins of the diaspora and coalitions of solidarity with other communities in Vancouver Stemming from an interdisciplinary perspective that blends Spatial Literary Studies Hip hop epistemology and the transmodern paradigm this book presents a dynamic model of Black identity formation and belonging resulting from the remix of Afro diasporic and transcultural elements and the political commemoration of local Black spaces in an often understudied node of the Black diaspora This book also explores Compton's contribution to recent academic debates on the interaction between the commemoration of Black spaces and the right to the city as well as the engagement with Indigenous calls for the decolonisation of their ancestral lands The analysis of Compton s work allows for the deconstruction of the binaries African Canadian Indigenous settler Hogan s Alley Vancouver and exposes the co constitutive character of these elements
