Interspace A Study In Spatial Relationships:

Managing Culture and Interspace in Cross-border Investments Martina Fuchs, Sebastian Henn, Martin Franz, Ram Mudambi, 2017-06-27 This book focuses on the dialectics between spatio organisational gaps and local contexts that characterise cross border investments Interspatial investments be it mergers acquisitions M A or greenfield investments are usually characterised by what is referred to as otherness i e organisational and cultural distances of the firms involved in relation to their regional contexts At the same time economic political and socio cultural linkages are decisive for attracting cross border investments to regions and for providing firms with conditions supportive of their market success As a consequence of being locked into complex structures of proximities cross border investments are situated in contested terrain This terrain triggers learning processes in both regional actors and investors which can result in the convergence of mindsets and organisational issues This book is unique in that it combines interspace defined as the distance between the new owner and the cross border venture place the target region interpretation perception and understanding of the investment by the actors involved and context institutions actor networks and interaction thus offering better understanding of recent processes of globalisation Crossing disciplinary boundaries by integrating economic geography and management studies the volume adopts an innovative and spatially informed perspective on foreign direct investments FDI This perspective will be of great value to scholars students and practitioners The volume is inventive in its approach in that it offers fresh readings from interdisciplinary theoretical approaches and combines these with valuable empirical insights from developed as well as Emerging Economies

Relations in Architecture August Sarnitz, 2020-05-05 The title of the book sets the two fields of activity pursued by the architect architectural historian and theorist August Sarnitz building and writing in a reciprocal relation the context to what has been built emerges in the process of writing just as the context to what has been written emerges in the process of building The structure of the book follows precisely this reciprocity an essay about architectural history and Big Data is followed by three on the topics of urban development social housing and the fiction of space A number of influential Viennese architects appear as well Frank Kiesler Hollein and Prix The topics of housing design and furniture are all illustrated with Sarnitz s own projects the end of the book is dedicated to architectural photography which is especially important to Sarnitz in his capacity as publicist The richly illustrated book is the first to document Sarnitz s work as author designer exhibition designer architect and photographer

Light: The Shape of Space
Lou Michel, 1995-10-27
Light: The Shape of Space: Designing with Space and Light. Lou Michel. Every design professional who touches a space shapes the light and the feeling of that space. Architect, lighting engineer, interior designer, lighting or home furnishing manufacturer: each contributes an aesthetic layer, sometimes yielding unexpected results. All too often the best-laid plans of one professional are unintentionally subverted by another. Removing surprises and guesswork from design. Lou Michel, honored architectural lighting educator, has created Light: The Shape of Space showing how to design with the effects of light rather than light itself. The book is a revolutionary resource for all design professionals and manufacturers of surfacing materials. Drawing on over fifteen years of experience of research and teaching in the architectural Space and Light Laboratory at The University of Kansas, Michel masterfully examines the interrelationship of lighting and the design of architectural space as perceived not in architectural photos or paint chips and fabric swatches but by human vision: the gateway to emotional response. The book was written for professionals who care about how people feel in the spaces they design and focuses on the humanization of architecture. Taking a non-stylistic approach to design, Michel analyzes architecture from the perspective of how the users see their surroundings as they move through space. The reader will learn what pleases and what disturbs people based on how the human visual system responds to color, texture, pattern, and brightness. The book features principles of design for the student and professional and is generously supported by illustrations and research. Michel also provides a method for evaluating the visual effectiveness of building materials and lighting systems, including those that will appear on the market long after this book is dog-eared. Michel unveils a groundbreaking luminance brightness rating system, LBR, and a nine-zone brightness scale to aid designers in previsualizing the appearance of surfacing materials at every stage of the design process, from schematics to development to refinement. Among the topics treated are the interaction of lighting and spatial design; color theory for space and light; the luminance relationships between free-standing objects and the surrounding spatial boundaries against which they are seen; the appearance of building materials in color and brightness when modified by light and spatial location; lighting spatial connections, including the perception of rooms adjacent to the observer; lighting and perception of spaces screened by architectural grilles; creating lighted space. Designing with the effects of light is both an art and a science. No other book on the market bridges that gap as successfully as Light: The Shape of Space. The Rangeland Journal, 2000

Iron Will
Markus Kroger, 2020-11-23
Iron Will lays bare the role of extractivist policies and efforts to resist these policies through a deep ethnographic exploration of globally important iron ore mining in Brazil and India. Markus Kroger addresses resistance strategies to extractivism and tracks their success or lack thereof through a comparison of peaceful and armed resource conflicts explaining how different means of resistance arise Using the distinctly different contexts and political systems of Brazil and India highlights the importance of local context for resistance For example if there is an armed conflict at a planned mining site how does this influence the possibility to use peaceful resistance strategies To answer such questions Kr ger assesses the inter relations of contentious electoral institutional judicial and private politics that surround conflicts and interactions offering a new theoretical framework of investment politics that can be applied generally by scholars and students of social movements environmental studies and political economy and even more broadly in Social Scientific and Environmental Policy research By drawing on a detailed field research and other sources this book explains precisely which resistance strategies are able to influence both political and economic outcomes Kr ger expands the focus of traditionally Latin American extractivism research to other contexts such as India and the growing extractivist movement in the Global North In addition as the book is a multi sited political ethnography it will appeal to sociologists political scientists anthropologists geographers and others using field research among other methods to understand globalization and global political interactions It is the most comprehensive book on the political economy and ecology of iron ore and steel This is astonishing given the fact that iron ore is the second most important commodity in the world after oil

Spaces of Adolescence Anna Stemmann,2023-03-13 Adolescence is a phase of transition change and upheaval These processes are often translated into movements through space in literary representations The narrated space is to be read in its construction and semantics as a complex symbol carrier that is able to connect different dimensions with one another The study develops with reference to cultural scientific spatial theories a methodical model to analyze current youth novels from a topographical perspective and thus to discuss the interweaving of space movement and growing up In the cultural studies and narratological view of narrative spaces of adolescence new trends and developments in youth literature after 2000 manifest themselves This book is a translation of the original German 1st edition R ume der Adoleszenz by Anna Stemmann published by J B Metzler part of Springer Nature in 2019 The translation was done with the help of artificial intelligence machine translation by the service DeepL com A subsequent human revision was done primarily in terms of content so that the book will read stylistically differently from a conventional translation Springer Nature works continuously to further the development of tools for the production of books and on the related technologies to support the authors
