Ulmer Noah Isenberg, 2024-09-03 Edgar G Ulmer is perhaps best known today for Detour considered by many to be the epitome of a certain noir style that transcends its B list origins But in his lifetime he never achieved the celebrity of his fellow Austrian and German migr directors Billy Wilder Otto Preminger Fred Zinnemann and Robert Siodmak Despite early work with Max Reinhardt and F W Murnau his auspicious debut with Siodmak on their celebrated Weimar classic People on Sunday and the success of films like Detour and Ruthless Ulmer spent most of his career as an itinerant filmmaker earning modest paychecks for films that have either been overlooked or forgotten In this fascinating and well researched account of a career spent on the margins of Hollywood Noah Isenberg provides the little known details of Ulmer's personal life and a thorough analysis of his wide ranging eclectic films features aimed at minority audiences horror and sci fi flicks genre pictures made in the U S and abroad Isenberg shows that Ulmer's unconventional path was in many ways more typical than that of his more famous colleagues As he follows the twists and turns of Ulmer's fortunes Isenberg also conveys a new understanding of low budget Science Fiction, Fantasy & Horror, 1989 A comprehensive bibliography of books filmmaking in the studio era and beyond and short fiction published in the English language American Scary Jeremy Dauber, 2024-10-01 America is the world s biggest haunted house and American Scary is the only travel guide you need I loved this book Grady Hendrix New York Times bestselling author of How to Sell a Haunted House and The Final Girl Support Group From the acclaimed author of American Comics comes a sweeping and entertaining narrative that details the rise and enduring grip of horror in American literature and ultimately culture from the taut terrifying stories of Edgar Allan Poe to the grisly lingering films of Jordan Peele America is held captive by horror stories They flicker on the screen of a darkened movie theater and are shared around the campfire They blare out in tabloid true crime headlines and in the worried voices of local news anchors They are consumed virally on the phones in our pockets Like the victims in any slasher movie worth its salt we can t escape the thrall of scary stories In American Scary noted cultural historian and Columbia professor Jeremy Dauber takes the reader to the startling origins of horror in the United States Dauber draws a captivating through line that ties historical influences ranging from the Salem witch trials and enslaved person narratives directly to the body of work we more closely associate with horror today the weird tales of H P Lovecraft the lingering fiction of Shirley Jackson the disguieting films of Alfred Hitchcock the up all night stories of Stephen King and the gripping critiques of Jordan Peele With the dexterous weave of insight and style that have made him one of America's leading historians of popular culture Dauber makes the haunting case that horror reveals the true depths of the American mind Playing to the Camera Bert Cardullo, 1998-01-01 Offers articles and interviews with movie actors from the silents to the present that discuss the art of film acting including the difference between stage and screen and British Soviet and Western European as well as American techniques 1950s Science Fiction Films and 9/11 Melvin E. Matthews, 2007 1950s Cold War era monsters meet 21st century terrorists this exploration of sci fi movies examines the similarities and differences between the political environment and popular culture of two eras This examination and appreciation of 1950s science fiction films includes behind the scenes tales about their production and many quotes from those who produced and starred in the films The author draws parallels between the Cold War fears of the 1950s and 60s and the constant terrorism alerts of the September 11th era exploring how the politics and the psychological climate of the times influences and is reflected in this vehicle of popular culture. This book is the first of its kind studying the pop culture genre in the wake of the September 11th tragedy It shows that whatever the era and whatever the challenges and crises confronting America many entertainment themes remain the same reflecting their respective times and the relevant issues For instance Godzilla the only Fifties era monster to remain a movie star beyond that era could be fashioned to reflect whatever issues dominate the times be they nuclear war in the Fifties when Godzilla originated to a Seventies Godzilla film about environmental pollution Conceivably a Godzilla for the age of terrorism is possible Them the 1954 atomic mutation classic is the spiritual ancestor of the 2002 film Eight Legged Freaks The alien invaders of the Fifties signified a Russian invasion of America while other films of the genre such as Invaders from Mars depicted aliens utilizing mind control to manipulate humans to commit acts of sabotage signifying Communist enslavement If such a film were made now such invaders could be seen as terrorist masterminds using human slaves to commit terrorist acts Finally several Fifties films depicted the end of the world at a time when Americans expected a nuclear war with Russia The immediate pre September 11th era witnessed films presenting galactic threats to mankind s existence Independence Day Deep Impact Armageddon while the early 2000s witnessed the popularity of the Left Behind Christian films dramatizing the Tribulation period in the Book of Revelation
