Literary Studies Beginnings And Ends:

BEGINNING AND END Álvaro Sánchez-Ostiz, 2018-04-12 El volumen recoge catorce estudios que contrastan las obras historiográficas de Amiano Marcelino y de Eusebio de Cesarea ambas coinciden en sentido amplio en el siglo IV d C y representan dos mundos religiosos lingüísticos y literarios diferentes El propósito de tal comparación no es la mera identificación de las diferencias de estilo expectativas p blico m todo y escala o una evaluación de m ritos artísticos o de rigor histórico aspectos tratados eventual y parcialmente en los capítulos o la identificación de coincidencias entre la visión que ambos tienen de su propio proyecto literario Dos estudios de conjunto se centran respectivamente en Eusebio de Cesarea y Amiano Marcelino a los que se suman es capítulos centrados en la interpretación de pasajes particulares o de una determinada técnica literaria especialmente representativa de un autor o visión historiográfica de modo que el volumen en su conjunto permite profundizar en los rasgos generales de continuidad y discontinuidad de la cultura literaria de la Antigüedad Tarda

English & American Literature, Studies in Literary Criticism, Interpretation & History, Including Complete Masterpieces, in 10 Vol Charles Herbert Sylvester, 1903 Latin Poetry: From the Beginnings Through the End of the Republic: Oxford Bibliographies Online Research Guide Gesine Manuwald, 2010-05 This ebook is a selective guide designed to help scholars and students of the ancient world find reliable sources of information by directing them to the best available scholarly materials in whatever form or format they appear from books chapters and journal articles to online archives electronic data sets and blogs Written by a leading international authority on the subject the ebook provides bibliographic information supported by direct recommendations about which sources to consult and editorial commentary to make it clear how the cited sources are interrelated A reader will discover for instance the most reliable introductions and overviews to the topic and the most important publications on various areas of scholarly interest within this topic In classics as in other disciplines researchers at all levels are drowning in potentially useful scholarly information and this guide has been created as a tool for cutting through that material to find the exact source you need This ebook is just one of many articles from Oxford Bibliographies Online Classics a continuously updated and growing online resource designed to provide authoritative guidance through the scholarship and other materials relevant to the study of classics Oxford Bibliographies Online covers most subject disciplines within the social science and humanities for more information visit www.aboutobo.com Who's Who in Research: Performing Arts Intellect Books, 2013-01-01 Increasingly academic communities transcend national boundaries Collaboration between researchers across space is clearly increasing as well as being increasingly sought after noted the online magazine Inside Higher Ed in a recent article about research in the social sciences and humanities Even for those scholars who don't work directly with international colleagues staying up to date and relevant requires keeping up with international currents of thought in one's field But when one's colleagues span the globe it's not always easy to keep track of who's who or what kind of research they're conducting That's where Intellect's new series comes in A set of worldwide

guides to leading academics and their work across the arts and humanities Who's Who in Research features comprehensive profiles of scholars in the areas of cultural studies film studies media studies performing arts and visual arts Who's Who in Research Performing Arts includes concise yet detailed listings include each academic's name institution biography and current research interests as well as bibliographic information and a list of articles published in Intellect journals The volumes in the Who's Who in Research series will be updated each year providing the most current information on the foremost thinkers in academia and making them an invaluable resource for scholars hiring committees academic libraries and would be collaborators across the arts and humanities The End of Literary Theory Stein Haugom Olsen, 1987-03-19

The essays in this collection are concerned with the philosophical problems that arise in connection with the understanding and evaluation of literature such problems as the relationship between the work and the author authorial intention between the work and the world reference and truth the definition of a literary work and the nature of literary theory itself Professor Olsen attacks many of the orthodoxies of modern literary theory in particular the enterprise to build a comprehensive systematic literary theory His own work is informed by a consistent perspective the assumption that literature is a social institution governed by conventions and that answers to problems of interpretation and appreciation can be found only through an analysis of these conventions This is an important book for scholars and students of literary theory and philosophy especially for those who see an ever increasing cross fertilization between the two disciplines Beyond

Postmodernism Klaus Stierstorfer, 2012-05-02 After the veritable hype concerning postmodernism in the 1980s and early 1990s when questions about when it began what it means and which texts it comprises were apt to trigger heated discussions the excitement has notably cooled down at the turn of the century Voices are now beginning to be heard which seem to suggest a new episteme in the making which points beyond postmodernism while it remains at the same time very uncertain whether what appears as newness is not rather a return to traditional concepts theoretical premises and authorial practices Contributors to this volume propose to explore new openings and recent developments in anglophone literatures and cultural theories which engage with issues seen to be central in the construction of a postmodern paradigm but deal with them in ways that promise new openings or a new Zeitgeist Literary Studies Nicholas O. Pagan, William S.

Haney, 2001-05-16 The essays in this collection raise questions about the end of literature with the word end taken in its varied meanings Literary study begins with a commitment to the new it has an end but does not end because the beginning is always renewed The beginning is the end the end is the beginning Literary study directs our attention to a world changing through time but even though our thinking is ineluctably historical and therefore new it also points beyond time and the very opposition between beginning and end Literature helps us to see the world anew with fresh eyes alert to the strange and its inseparable other the familiar but in the process it also suggests something more beyond the boundaries of thought What is it about literature that helps us to see beyond our mental constructions How does literature bridge the present past and future in its move toward the inexpressible The first group of essays address these questions in theory and through the example of specific works and the final essays present diverse views on humanism and culture The collection thus begins with essays that address specifically literary issues and ends with speculations on the relationship between literature and painting the cultural context of model airplane building and the future of the humanities in the age of mechanical reproduction Each of these chapters show that beginnings and ends are culturally relative and to be met in unexpected places They suggest that today literary studies must acknowledge the influence of the opacity of the signifier but also that in the interpretation of texts and the strangeness of language enables us to glimpse a corresponding strangeness in the world and in the subject itself Despite our postmodern condition literary and cultural studies like no other field can bring the subject into confrontation with the relativity of its own existence while at the same time allowing it to distance itself through reflection from the social forces that exist

A History of Literary Criticism M. A. R. Habib, 2008-04-15 This comprehensive guide to the history of literary criticism from antiquity to the present day provides an authoritative overview of the major movements figures and texts of literary criticism as well as surveying their cultural historical and philosophical contexts Supplies the cultural historical and philosophical background to the literary criticism of each era Enables students to see the development of literary criticism in context Organised chronologically from classical literary criticism through to deconstruction Considers a wide range of thinkers and events from the French Revolution to Freud's views on civilization Can be used alongside any anthology of literary criticism or as a coherent stand alone introduction

The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 9, Twentieth-Century Historical, Philosophical and Psychological Perspectives George Alexander Kennedy, Christa Knellwolf, 1989 This ninth volume in The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism presents a wide ranging survey of developments in literary criticism and theory during the last century Drawing on the combined expertise of a large team of specialist scholars it offers an authoritative account of the various movements of thought that have made the late twentieth century such a richly productive period in the history of criticism The aim has been to cover developments which have had greatest impact on the academic study of literature along with background chapters that place those movements in a broader intellectual national and socio cultural perspective In comparison with Volumes Seven and Eight also devoted to twentieth century developments there is marked emphasis on the rethinking of historical and philosophical approaches which have emerged especially during the past two decades as among the most challenging areas of debate

Time, Consciousness and Writing, 2018-11-26 Time Consciousness and Writing brings together a collection of critical reflections on Peter Malekin's model of the mind which he saw as a crucial yet often neglected aspect of critical theory in relation to theatre literature and the arts The volume begins with a selection of Peter Malekin's own writings that lay out his critique of western culture its overstated claims to universal competence and validity and lays out an alternative view of consciousness that draws partly on Asian traditions and partly on underground traditions from the west The essays that follow commissioned for this volume critically examine Malekin's ideas drawing out their implications in a variety of contexts including theatre liturgical performance poetry and literature The book ends with an assessment of future prospects opened by this work

A Critical History of the New American Studies, 1970-1990 Günter H. Lenz, 2016-12-06 Starting in 2005 Gunter H Lenz began preparing a book length exploration of the transformation of the field of American Studies in the crucial years between 1970 and 1990 As a commentator on contributor to and participant in the intellectual and institutional changes in his field Lenz was well situated to offer a comprehensive and balanced interpretation of that seminal era Building on essays he wrote while these changes were ongoing he shows how the revolution in theory the emergence of postmodern socioeconomic conditions the increasing globalization of everyday life and postcolonial responses to continuing and new forms of colonial domination had transformed American Studies as a discipline focused on the distinctive qualities of the United States to a field encompassing the many different Americas in the Western Hemisphere as well as how this complex region influenced and was interpreted by the rest of the world In tracking the shift of American Studies from its exceptionalist bias to its unmanageable global responsibilities Lenz shows the crucial roles played by the 1930s Left in the U S the Frankfurt School in Germany and elsewhere between 1930 and 1960 Continental post structuralism neo Marxism and post colonialism Lenz's friends and colleagues now his editors present here his final backward glance at a critical period in American Studies and the birth of the Transnational

Literary Research and the Era of American Nationalism and Romanticism Angela Courtney, 2007-12-07 The early years of American nationhood beginning at the close of colonial rule and ending with the onset of the Civil War saw both a young country and its literature grow in confidence and develop an awareness of self identity Pride in the new nation was a primary characteristic of much literary output in the early years of the country whether in the form of fiction poetry drama essay travel writing or journal As the country grew and generations began to be born on the new land Romanticism took hold lauding not only the construct of the nation but also the natural power and potential of the country This era of American literary expression has left behind a rich legacy of traditionally canonized authors as well as material published in the growing periodical press that was of immediate importance to the population at the time Literary Research and the Era of American Nationalism and Romanticism Strategies and Sources examines the resources that deal with the literature produced in the approximately 70 years of antebellum American literature Covering all formats the volume discusses bibliographies indexes research guides archives special collections microform and digital primary text resources and how they are best utilized for a literary research project Suggestions are offered for best practices for research while exploring a wide selection of resources that run the gamut from classic standards of American literary bibliography through contemporary open access digital resources Literary

Criticism: A Short History William K. Wimsatt, Jr., Cleanth Brooks, 2021-03-23 First published in 1957 Literary Criticism A Short History traces our aesthetic heritage from its classical origins up to the contemporary state of criticism in the English speaking world Divided into four volumes each book adopts a fair and objective position in the presentation of various critical positions and each critical theory is considered not only in competition with other critical theories but also in vital dialectic with the creative literature of its own time Volume Four focuses on Modern criticism and covers tragedy and comedy symbolism I A Richards critical theory the semantic principle Eliot and Pound fiction and drama and myth and archetype

The Encyclopaedia Britannica Hugh Chisholm, 1911 The Encyclopædia Britannica Hugh Chisholm, James Louis Garvin, 1926 The Cambridge History of English Literature: The end of the middle ages Sir Adolphus William Ward, Alfred Rayney Waller, 1908 Literary Theory: A Complete Introduction Sara Upstone, 2017-05-04 Literary theory has now become integral to how we produce literary criticism When critics write about a text they no longer think just about the biographical or historical contexts of the work but also about the different approaches that literary theory offers By making use of these they create new interpretations of the text that would not otherwise be possible In your own reading and writing literary theory fosters new avenues into the text It allows you to make informed comments about the language and form of literature but also about the core themes concepts such as gender sexuality the self race and class which a text might explore Literary theory gives you an almost limitless number of texts to work into your own response ensuring that your interpretation is truly original This is why although literary theory can initially appear alienating and difficult it is something to get really excited about Imagine you are standing in the centre of a circular room with a whole set of doors laid out around you Each doorway opens on to a new and illuminating field of knowledge that can change how you think about what you have read perhaps in just a small way but also perhaps dramatically and irrevocably You can open one door or many of them The choice is yours Put the knowledge you gain together with your own interpretation however and you have a unique and potentially fascinating response Each chapter in Literary Theory A Complete Introduction covers a key school of thought progressing to a point at which you ll have a full understanding of the range of responses and approaches available for textual interpretation As well as focusing on such core areas as Marxism Modernism Postmodernism Structuralism and Poststructuralism this introduction brings in recent developments such as Eco and Ethical Criticism and Humanisms
