Howard,2018-11-08 Retail history is a rich cross disciplinary field that demonstrates the centrality of retailing to many aspects of human experience from the provisioning of everyday goods to the shaping of urban environments from earning a living to the construction of identity Over the last few decades interest in the history of retail has increased greatly spanning centuries extending to all areas of the globe and drawing on a range of disciplinary perspectives By offering an up to date comprehensive thematic spatial and chronological coverage of the history of retailing this Companion goes beyond traditional narratives that are too simplistic and Euro centric and offers a vibrant survey of this field It is divided into four broad sections 1 Contexts 2 Spaces and places 3 People processes and practices and 4 Geographical variations Chapters are written in an analytical and synthetic manner accessible to the general reader as well as challenging for specialists and with an international perspective This volume is an important resource to a wide range of readers including marketing and management specialists historians geographers economists sociologists and urban planners FutureConsumer.Com Frank Feather,2001-08 Updated to include the dot com disaster this prophetic book now in paperback explains the stock market shakedown why it happened and what s next Marketing Communication Allan J. Kimmel,2005-11-17 Styles brings together leading authorities from both academia and the marketing industry to provide a comprehensive overview and analysis of the rapidly changing world of marketing communication in the 21st Century Containing a broad tableau of perspectives the book reflects the insights and experiences of academics and practitioners from both sides of the Atlantic With its timely and in depth focus on contemporary and evolving trends in marketing communication this book will be of interest to a diverse audience of academics students and marketing professionals Primarily intended as a supplemental reader for undergraduate graduate and MBA courses the focus on emerging developments in the field will also appeal to a broad range of researchers and marketing professionals Retail and the Artifice of Social Change Steven Miles,2015-11-06 In Retail and Social Change Steven Miles presents a cross disciplinary analysis of the evolution of retail and how in both its material and virtual guises it has come to reframe our relationship with the social world Retail has become increasingly influential in homogenising the urban experience And yet in reacting to trends in virtual consumption retailers are also becoming more and more conscious of the need to engage with consumers in more sophisticated ways Retail and Social Change will interest students and scholars in geography cultural studies sociology marketing and business studies interested in how and why retail pervades both our physical and emotional lives in increasingly unexpected ways It will provide a lively comparative and thought provoking contribution that interrogates the implications of retail change for what it means to be a citizen of a consumer society in the twenty first century The Future of Consumer Society Maurie J. Cohen,2016-11-03 Consumer society in the United States and other countries is receding due to demographic ageing rising income inequality political paralysis and resource scarcity At the same time steady jobs that compensate employees on a salaried or hourly basis are being replaced by freelancing and contingent work The rise of the so called sharing economy the growth of do it yourself production and the spreading popularity of economic localization are evidence that people are striving to find new ways to ensure livelihoods for themselves and their families in the face of profound change. Indications are that we are at the early stages of a transition away from a system of social organization predicated on consumerism. These developments have prompted some policy makers to suggest providing households with a non labor source of income that would enable more adequate satisfaction of their basic needs. These proposals include a universal basic income, a citizen's dividend and a legal framework for broad based stock ownership in corporations. However, extreme political fractiousness makes it unlikely that these recommendations will receive prompt and widespread legislative endorsement in most countries. In the meantime we seem to be moving incontrovertibly toward a twenty first century version of feudalism. How might we chart a different path founded on social inclusiveness and economic security? A practicable option entails establishment of networks of interlinked worker consumer cooperatives that organizationally unify production and consumer. Such modes of mutual assistance already exist and The Future of Consumer Society profiles several successful examples from around the world. If replicated and scaled, worker consumer cooperatives could smooth the transition beyond consumer society and facilitate a future premised on sufficiency, resiliency and well being.

Strategic Retail Management Joachim Zentes, Dirk Morschett, Hanna Schramm-Klein, 2012-02-02. This is not a traditional textbook or collection of case studies but is intended to demonstrate the complex and manifold questions of retail management in the form of 18 lessons that provide a thematic overview of key issues and illustrate them with the help of comprehensive case studies. In the second edition all chapters were revised and updated. Three new chapters were added to treat topics like online retailing and multi channel strategies as well as the so called verticals in specific chapters. All case studies were replaced by new ones to reflect the most recent developments. Eighteen well known retail companies from different countries like Best Buy, IKEA, TK Maxx, Tesco and Decathlon are now used to illustrate particular aspects of retail management.

Consumer Neuroscience - Foundation, Validation, and Relevance Thomas Zoëga Ramsøy, Hilke Plassmann, Carolyn Yoon, Joseph T. Devlin, 2023-08-07. Consumer neuroscience has become an expanding area of both research and conduct spanning from academic interests in the brain bases of consumption choices to commercial application of neuroscience tools and metrics. However, many of these advances are still criticized for low applicability, scattered publication records, conceptual vagueness and a lack of proper scientific and commercial validation. To make matters worse, there is now a host of proposed commercial applications of both the insights from neuroscience and the application of neuroscience and neurophysiology tools to test consumer responses. While many of these approaches may be valid, many other approaches are either not properly validated or may be flawed, misguided or even outright lies. As a discipline, there is a need for both the basic and applied research in consumer neuroscience to become aligned. The purpose of this Research Topic is to provide this much needed platform for such an industrial alignment. In doing so, this Research Topic will provide perspectives on three main areas: 1. distinctions between basic, translational and applied consumer neuroscience research 2 conceptual clarification on key concepts relevant to the science and application of consumer neuroscience 3 validation of consumer neuroscience methods and how they relate to commercially relevant cases For this Research Topic we therefore welcome submissions that combine academic and commercial research all in the vein of making advances in establishing a valid applicable consumer neuroscience
