International Film Guide 1978:

International film guide 1975 Peter Cowie, Derek Elley, David Wilson, 1974      International Film Guide, 1988

International Film Guide 1980 Peter Cowie, 1979      International Film Guide 1981 Peter Cowie, 1981-12      The Films of Carlos Saura Marvin D'Lugo, 1991-04-21 Spanish filmmaker Carlos Saura who began his career under the censorship of Franco's regime has forged an international reputation for his unique cinematic treatment of emotional and spiritual responses to repressive political conditions. In films such as Carmen and El Dorado where reality and fantasy are deliberately fused together, Saura reveals the illusions of Franco's mythologized Spain: a chaste Catholic and heroic Spain of the Golden Age that tend to isolate Spaniards from the rest of Europe from each other and from their own individuality. In this first English language book on Saura, Marvin D. Lugo looks at the social and artistic forces behind this film auteur's highly personal cinema. Tracing Saura's career over three decades, D. Lugo discusses each work from Hooligans (1959) a realist film about a Madrid street gang member trying to become a bullfighter to The Dark Night (1989) a film dealing with the persecution of the religious reformer St. John of the Cross in the late sixteenth century. Throughout, he argues that Saura's cinematic style results from a highly original response to the political and historical constraints of Spanish culture. D. Lugo shows how, in order to explore the complex cultural politics of Spanishness as it was institutionalized under Franco, Saura frames his narrations through the eyes of characters who question the forces that shape personal and collective identity. Moving beyond the limits of traditional auteur studies, this book addresses the relationship between the filmmaker and the cultural ideology that historically has thwarted and manipulated the expressions of individuality in Spanish society.

Iranian Culture in Bahram Beyzaie's Cinema and Theatre Saeed Talajooy, 2023-03-23 Since the beginning of his artistic career in 1959, Bahram Beyzaie's oeuvre has incorporated various aspects of Iranian, Euro-American, Chinese, Japanese, and Indian performance traditions and cinema. Beyzaie's work reformulates indigenous artistic and ritual forms and cultural narratives in plays and films whose emancipatory aesthetics have influenced several generations of writers, playwrights, and filmmakers. This book examines the origins and development of what the author identifies as Beyzaie's unique sense of creativity using an interdisciplinary method of semiotic and cultural analysis to identify its manifestations in Beyzaie's films and plays of the 1960s and 1970s. It focusses on Beyzaie's early works such as Downpour and Uncle Moustache and how they engage with neglected aspects of Iranian culture to challenge mainstream approaches to writing and directing plays and films. In this way, the author argues, Beyzaie's work questions notions of being and belonging by subverting exclusionist discourses on art, politics, society, culture, self, and other, personal and collective identity, gender relations, intellectuals, heroes and villains, and children.      International film guide P. Cowie, 1977      Handbook of French Popular Culture Pierre L. Horn, 1991-05-21 Throughout the world, there has been much scholarly and general interest in French popular culture, but very little has been written on the subject in English. The authors of this book address that lack in a series of highly readable and well documented essays describing French life styles attitudes and entertainments as well as the writers and performers currently favored by the French public Several chapters explore French tastes in popular literature and other reading matter including comics cartoons mystery and spy fiction newspapers and magazines and science fiction Film popular music radio and television are also discussed in detail and influences from other cultures particularly American imports are assessed The remaining essays examine French sports the use of leisure time the French style of eating and drinking and relations between men and women and their attitudes toward romantic love Each chapter provides up to date historical and bibliographic information that will enable the reader to pursue subjects of particular interest Written by an international group of specialists this handbook offers the benefits of broad coverage a variety of viewpoints and solid scholarship

International Film Guide 1978 Peter Cowie,1977      Third World Film Making and the West Roy Armes,1987-07-29

This is the fully comprehensive account of film production in the Third World Although they are usually ignored or marginalized in histories of world cinema Third World countries now produce well over half of the world s films Armes places this huge output in a wider context examining the forces of tradition and colonialism that have shaped the Third World In addition to charting filmic developments too little known in Europe and the United States the book calls into question many of the assumptions that shape conventional film history It stresses the role of distribution in defining and limiting production queries simplistic notions of independent national cinemas and points to the need to take social and economic factors into account when considering authorship in cinema Above all the book celebrates the achievements of a mass of largely unknown film makers who in difficult circumstances have distinctively expanded our definitions of the art of cinema      Malaysian Cinema, Asian Film
