International Economic Policies and Their Theoretical Foundation John M. Letiche, 1982 International Economic Policies and Their Theoretical Foundation, 1982 Crises and Compassion John M. Letiche, 2011-01-13 Letiche now in his nineties provides an intriguing look at the changes that have occurred during his lifetime Following his Kiev childhood and formative years in Depression era Montreal he completed a doctorate at the University of Chicago and took up a Rockefeller fellowship at the Council on Foreign Relations in New York City As a technical advisor to the Economic Commission for Africa he conducted trade talks with both gifted and corrupt heads of state in sub Saharan Africa and later shared a working White House dinner with an infamous American president His half century long teaching career at Berkeley included a front row seat for the Free Speech Movement and the most documented student revolt in popular history Told with humour insight and humility Crises and Compassion moves nimbly among weighty events

Privatisation and Development Claude V. Chang, 2017-11-28 The book interrogates privatisation in terms of its effectiveness vis vis its stated goals and more fundamentally in terms of its success in delivering economic development It investigates why privatisation was successful in the UK and other OECD countries and why it has not met with equal success in developing countries In this regard it further examines the policy prescriptions of the IMF and World Bank in relation to the conceptualised benefits and theoretical assumptions underlying these supposed benefits The author assesses the extent to which culture and customs indeed the mode of production stand in determinate relationship to the goals techniques and outcome of the process Furthermore Chang examines the degree to which socioeconomic and moral consequences of privatisation have been ignored in pursuit of the ideological imperative implicit in the Washington Consensus Hence the book contributes to the reflective thought that must necessarily be part of theory validation and provides the basis for a balanced and empirically valid theory of privatisation the new era is likely to be. Consequently special emphasis is placed on the factors promoting change or stability in the interactions among these three countries and upon the policy choices facing their governments. The major topics include the dynamics of the strategic triangle that defines cross Strait relations. Chapters 2 to 4 and 8 the domestic politics and policies of Taiwan and China. Chapters 3 to 8 and the growing economic integration across the Taiwan Strait. Chapters 9 to 12. Overall the future of this trilateral relationship appears to be fairly open ended. Despite the current rapprochement the ultimate goals of China and Taiwan remain incompatible. cross Strait relations remain a viciously polarizing issue in Taiwan's domestic politics and there is profound scholarly disagreement over the broader implications of the growing economic ties across the Strait.
