Giving Voice to Values in Accounting Tara Shawver, William Miller, 2018-10-11 There has been much written on the importance of responsibility accounting and integrated reporting to ensure business accountability but not on how to be a responsible accountant As the accounting profession is built on the foundation of maintaining public trust making the right decisions when faced with a challenging dilemma has a major impact on the long term performance and perception of the firm as well as personal credibility Accountants make judgement calls on a regular basis they are privy to highly confidential information regarding their clients and their clients businesses Unethical earnings management practices can easily lead to falsifying records but how does the accounting professional avoid succumbing to these practices when faced with other pressures Giving Voice to Values in Accounting is the first book to explain the ethical dilemmas faced by accountants in their day to day work and to provide clear guidance for accounting students and professionals in navigating through these issues The Giving Voice to Values GVV framework focuses on resolving ethical conflict by encouraging individuals to act on their values This book provides accounting educators coaches trainers and professionals with both the impetus and the tools to easily implement the GVV offering into their own work their organizations and in the classroom

Handbook on Teaching Empirical Software Engineering Daniel Mendez, Paris Avgeriou, Marcos Kalinowski, Nauman Bin Ali, 2024-12-24 This handbook exploits the profound experience and expertise of well established scholars in the empirical software engineering community to provide guidance and support in teaching various research methods and fundamental concepts A particular focus is thus on combining research methods and their epistemological settings and terminology with didactics and pedagogy for the subject The book covers the most essential contemporary research methods and philosophical and cross cutting concerns in software engineering research considering both academic and industrial settings at the same time providing insights into the effective teaching of concepts and strategies To this end the book is organized into four major parts In the first part the editors set the foundation with two chapters one laying out the larger context of the discipline for a positioning of the remainder of this book and one guiding the creation of a syllabus for courses in empirical software engineering The second part of the book lays the fundamentals for teaching empirical software engineering addressing more cross cutting aspects from theorizing and teaching research designs to measurement and quantitative data analysis In the third part general experiences and personal reflections from teaching empirical software engineering in different settings are shared Finally the fourth part contains a number of carefully selected research methods presented through an educational lens Next to the chapter contributions themselves that provide a more theoretical perspective and practical advice readers will find additional material in the form of for example slide sets and tools in an online material section The book mainly targets three different audiences 1 educators teaching empirical software engineering to undergraduate postgraduate or doctoral students 2 professional trainers teaching the basic concepts of empirical software engineering to software professionals and 3 students and trainees attending such courses

Invisible Loss Christina Rasmussen, 2024-06-18 From an acclaimed grief educator and the author of Second Firsts and Where Did You Go comes a road map to recognize and heal the unspoken often misunderstood experience of everyday loss so you can finally reenter and live your life in full Compared to most my problems are small I should be happy with what I've got Our inner judge often tells us grief is allowed for big losses but that we should tough out everyday heartbreak The loss of a loved one and a devastating divorce are likely to be accepted as grief events But what about moments when we feel overlooked disregarded or misunderstood This could look like rejection in the workplace lack of intimacy in a relationship being overlooked by friends or working in a position that's not a dream job These are losses society doesn't recognize mirror back to us or validate says acclaimed grief educator Christina Rasmussen As a result we don't recognize or validate them either This unacknowledged type of grief invisible losses that are often labeled as not worthy of recognition can be hard to define and may surface as feelings of anxiety depression angst or restlessness These are the moments when we shift perception of ourselves and can end up living in continuous survival mode without really recognizing or understanding why In Invisible Loss Rasmussen shines a light on this unrecognized form of grief Because we avoid invisible loss we don't process it instead we seek the protection of an endless waiting room in the hope that time will heal our wounds Here Rasmussen helps you meet your loss free from shame or guilt to explore The origin of your invisible loss and how you've coped along the way The five life reentry phases based on the Life Reentry Model Exercises to help you find your way out of the waiting room Guidance in reframing your thoughts toward your original self The entire world is silently grieving attempting to process a form of heartbreak unlike anything we've ever experienced We need a new language and road map for our invisible losses says Rasmussen This guide gives you the tools you need in order to heal move forward and embrace the life you were meant to lead Writing Lessons Using the Multiple Intelligences Judy Story Griswold,2002-02
