Guide To Phlamoudhi:

Guide to Phlamoudhi Joanna S. Smith, 2005-01-01 Views from Phlamoudhi, Cyprus Joanna S. Smith, 2008 Includes 76 b w figures Fieldwork in the village of Phlamoudhi Cyprus from 1970 1973 by the Columbia University Expedition to Phlamoudhi recorded the only systematically excavated evidence for Middle to Late Bronze Age and Iron Age settlement north of the Kyrenia Mountains Halted by the war of 1974 that divided the island most of the discoveries in Phlamoudhi remained unpublished until 2000 when the Phlamoudhi Archaeological Project began the systematic study analysis and publication of the material This book s chapters cover the two main excavated sites the hilltop site of Vounari and the larger settlement at Melissa the region s patterns of settlement in the Bronze and Iron Ages and the Hellenistic through Medieval periods and the geology and palaeobotany of the region Chapters with perspectives on the excavations by original team members the history of work in the area and an overview of archaeology on Cyprus before and after the war place the fieldwork in historical perspective This volume derives from papers at a symposium that was held together with an exhibition of the finds from Phlamoudhi in 2005 It is the first in the final publication series A Study of the Circulation of Ceramics in Cyprus from the 3rd Century BC to the 3rd Century AD John Lund, 2015-10-26 This is the first monograph devoted solely to the ceramics of Cyprus in the Hellenistic and Roman Periods The island was by then no longer divided into kingdoms but unified politically first under Ptolemaic Egypt and later as a province in the Roman Empire Submission to foreign rule was previously thought to have diluted if not obliterated the time honoured distinctive Cypriot character The ceramic evidence suggests otherwise The distribution of local and imported pottery in Cyprus points to the existence of several regional exchange networks a division that also seems reflected by other evidence The similarities in material culture exchange patterns and preferential practices are suggestive of a certain level of regional collective self awareness From the 1st century BC onwards Cyprus became increasingly engulfed by mass produced and standardized ceramic fine wares which seem ultimately to have put many of the indigenous makers of similar products out of business or forced them to modify their output Also the ceramic record gradually became less diverse during the Roman Period than before developments which we today might be inclined to view as symptoms of an early form of globalisation A Research Guide to the Ancient World John M. Weeks, Jason de Medeiros, 2014-11-25 The archaeological study of the ancient world has become increasingly popular in recent years A Research Guide to the Ancient World Print and Electronic Sources is a partially annotated bibliography The study of the ancient world is usually although not exclusively considered a branch of the humanities including archaeology art history languages literature philosophy and related cultural disciplines which consider the ancient cultures of the Mediterranean world and adjacent Egypt and southwestern Asia Chronologically the ancient world would extend from the beginning of the Bronze Age of ancient Greece ca 1000 BCE to the fall of the Western Roman Empire ca 500 CE This book will close the traditional subject gap between the humanities Classical World Egyptology and the social sciences

anthropological archaeology Near East in the study of the ancient world This book is uniquely the only bibliographic resource available for such holistic coverage The volume consists of 17 chapters and seven appendixes arranged according to the traditional types of library research materials bibliographies dictionaries atlases etc The appendixes are mostly subject specific including graduate programs in ancient studies reports from significant archaeological sites numismatics and paleography and writing systems These extensive author and subject indexes help facilitate ease of use Egypt and Cyprus in Antiquity D. Michaelides, Vasiliki Kassianidou, Robert S. Merrillees, 2009-10-30 The international conference Egypt and Cyprus in Antiquity held in Nicosia in April 2003 filled an important gap in historical knowledge about Cyprus relations with its neighbours While the island's links with the Aegean and the Levant have been well documented and continue to be the subject of much archaeological attention the exchanges between Cyprus and the Nile Valley are not as well known and have not before been comprehensively reviewed They range in date from the mid third millennium B C to Late Antiquity and encompass every kind of interconnection including political union Their novelty lies in the marked differences between the ancient civilisations of Cyprus and Egypt the distance between them geographically which could be bridged only by ship and the unusual ways they influenced each other's material and spiritual cultures The papers delivered at the conference covered every aspect of the relationship with special emphasis on the tangible evidence for the movement of goods people and ideas between the two countries over a 3000 year period Report of the Department of Antiquities, Cyprus Cyprus. Tmēma Archaïotētōn, 2008 Guide American Anthropological Association, 2008 Faunal Extinction in an Island Society Alan H. Simmons, 2006-01-22 The multidisciplinary research program at Akrotiri Aetokremnos is important in my opinion for three reasons two empirical and one conceptual Quite apart from the archaeology work at the site is a major contribution to island biogeography in that the Phanourios sample certainly the best from Cyprus and probably the best anywhere in the world has already provided and will continue to provide important ecological and behavioral data on these intriguing creatures Dwarfed island faunas are important to our understanding of the complex factors that shape natural selection in ecologically closed environments over the evolutionary long term At Aetokremnos we seem to have the end of a long sequence of hippo evolution on the island With comparative studies of other Cypriot hippo faunas we should be able to pin down the interval of initial colonization by what were presumably normal sized hippos and if the other sites can be dated document the dwarfing process in considerable detail Aetokremnos would still be a significant paleontological quality even in the absence of evidence of a human presence there While reading the text of the monograph a number of questions strictly related to the paleontology occurred to me One was how to model the colonization process There seems to be little question that the large mammals colonized the island by swimming to it because I gather Cyprus has not been connected to the mainland for roughly 5.6 million years 2009, 000000-0000 Cahier du centre d'études chypriotes Centre d'études chypriotes, 2008 Ritual Failure Vasiliki G. Koutrafouris, Jeff Sanders, 2013-12-31 Ritual Failure is a new concept in archaeology adopted from the discipline of anthropology Resilient religious systems disappearing strict believers and faithful practitioners not performing their rites entire societies changing their customs how does a religious ritual system transform change or disappear leaving only traces of its past glory Do societies change and then their ritual Or do customs change first in turn provoking wider cultural shifts in society Archaeology possesses the tools and methodologies to explore these questions over the long term from the emergence of a system to its peak and then its decay and disappearance and in relation to wider social and chronological developments The collected papers in this book introduce the concept of ritual failure to archaeology The analysis explores ways in which ritual may have been instrumental in sustaining cultural continuity during demanding social conditions or how its functionality might have failed resulting in discontinuity change or collapse The collected papers draw attention to those turbulent social times of change for which ritual practices are a sensitive indicator within the archaeological record The book reviews archaeological evidence and theoretical approaches and suggests models which could explain socio cultural change through ritual failure The concept of ritual failure is also often used to better understand other themes such as identity and wider social economic and political transformations shedding light on the social conditions that forced or introduced change This book will engage those interested in ritual theory and practices but will also appeal to those interested in exploring new avenues to understanding cultural change From transformations in the use of ritual objects to the risks inherent in practicing ritual from ritual continuity in customs to sudden and profound change from the Neolithic Near East to Roman Europe and Iron Age Africa this book explores what happens when ritual fails □□□□ □□□□□ □□□ Joseph Aviram,2009 Nitovikla Reconsidered Gunnell Hult,1992

Cyprus between Late Antiquity and the Early Middle Ages (ca. 600-800) Luca Zavagno,2017-05-18 Research on early medieval Cyprus has focused on the late antique golden age late fourth early fifth to seventh century and the so called Byzantine Reconquista post AD 965 while overlooking the intervening period This phase was characterized supposedly by the division of the political sovereignty between the Umayyads and the Byzantines bringing about the social and demographic dislocation of the population of the island This book proposes a different story of continuities and slow transformations in the fate of Cyprus between the late sixth and the early ninth centuries Analysis of new archaeological evidence shows signs of a continuing link to Constantinople Moreover together with a reassessment of the literary evidence archaeology and material culture help us to reappraise the impact of Arab naval raids and contextualize the confrontational episodes throughout the ebb and flow of Eastern Mediterranean history the political influence of the Caliphate looked stronger in the second half of the seventh century the administrative and ecclesiastical influence of the Byzantine empire was held sway from the beginning of the eighth to the twelfth century Whereas the island retained sound commercial ties with the Umayyad Levant in the seventh and eighth centuries at the same time politically and economically it remained part of the Byzantine sphere This belies the idea of Cyprus as an independent province only loosely tied to Constantinople and allows us to draw a different picture of the cultural identities political practices and hierarchy of wealth and power in Cyprus during the passage from Late Antiquity to the early Middle Ages

New Directions in Cypriot Archaeology Catherine Kearns, Sturt W. Manning, 2019-04-15 New Directions in Cypriot Archaeology highlights current scholarship that employs a range of new techniques methods and theoretical approaches to questions related to the archaeology of the prehistoric and protohistoric periods on the island of Cyprus From revolutions in radiocarbon dating to the compositional analysis of ceramic remains to the digital applications used to study landscape histories at broad scales to rethinking human environment climate interrelationships the last few decades of research on Cyprus invite inquiry into the implications of these novel archaeological methods for the field and its future directions This edited volume gathers together a new generation of scholars who offer a revealing exploration of these insights as well as challenges to big questions in Cypriot archaeology such as the rise of social complexity urban settlement histories and changes in culture and identity These enduring topics provide the foundation for investigating the benefits and challenges of twenty first century methods and conceptual frameworks Divided into three main sections related to critical chronological transitions from earliest prehistory to the development of autonomous kingdoms during the Iron Age each contribution exposes and engages with a different advance in studies of material culture absolute dating paleoenvironmental analysis and spatial studies using geographic information systems From rethinking the chronological transitions of the Early Bronze Age to exploring regional craft production regimes of the Middle and Late Bronze Ages to locating Iron Age cemeteries through archival topographic maps these exciting and pioneering authors provide innovative ways of thinking about Cypriot archaeology and its relationship to the wider discipline

Cypriote Antiquities in Berlin in the Focus of New Research Vassos Karageorghis, 2014 This book combines the papers of the conference Cypriote Antiquities in Berlin in the Focus of New Research which took place in May 2013 Organized by The Cypriot German Cultural Association on the occasion of its 35th anniversary in collaboration with the Antikensammlung Staatliche Museen zu Berlin the aim of the conference was to draw attention to the objects of the outstanding Cyprus Collection which has been exhibited in a special gallery since the re opening of the Neues Museum in 2009 Archaeological Field Survey of the Neolithic and Chalcolithic Settlement Sites in Kyrenia District, North Cyprus Müge Şevketoğlu, 2000 Since the division of Cyprus in 1974 fieldwork has carried on unabated in the south although relatively few excavation or survey projects have been undertaken in the north This is therefore an important publication presenting results from field survey in the area around Kyrenia Muege Sevketoğlu begins with the background to the history of survey in Cyprus before outlining his own research design survey methodology and aims This survey project focusing on the Aceramic Neolithic Neolithic and Chalcolithic periods aimed to reassess and re survey known sites monitor the condition of existing sites and discovered a number of new ones The resultant data and the methodology used are assessed at the end More than half of the volume is occupied by figures Ancient Building in Cyprus G.R.H. Wright, 2022-11-07 The wealth of excavation in Cyprus conducted across a period of nearly a century and a half has revealed much evidence of ancient building of all functional categories Whereas the earlier excavation concerned mainly funerary and religious contexts more recent work has endeavoured to clarify the whole range of building in Cyprus This picture extends over a vast range of time ca 10 000 years since Cyprus is probably the place where the earliest substantial building known the Neolithic round house style is better presented than anywhere else in the world Certainly it was immeasurably longer lived in Cyprus than in any other region of the ancient world This longevity of tradition became a proverbial aspect of the Cypriote character It is the aim of this book to set forth and document this building tradition which hitherto has received no detailed exposition After preliminary geographical and historical introductions the ancient building of Cyprus has been surveyed and analysed from the following view points its historical development its design its construction and its foreign connections Because of the extensive and detailed coverage every effort has been made to facilitate the use of the book equally as a treatise and as a work of instant reference e g by way of introductory pr cis list of general references running titles to pages and marginal rubrics The book is also virtually a double treatment of the subject since a separate volume contains specially drawn illustrations arranged with captions on the facing pages which themselves constitute an incisive coverage of the subject matter The book will fill several gaps in the library shelves at one and the same time architectural history that presents all the archaeological evidence The print edition is available as a set of two volumes 9789004095472 Barrington Atlas of the Greek and Roman World Richard J.A. Talbert, 2000-10-08 In 102 full color maps spread over 175 pages the Barrington Atlas re creates the entire world of the Greeks and Romans from the British Isles to the Indian subcontinent and deep into North Africa It spans the territory of more than 75 modern countries Its large format 13 1 4 x 18 in or 33 7 x 46 4 cm has been custom designed by the leading cartographic supplier MapQuest com Inc and is unrivaled for range clarity and detail Over 70 experts aided by an equal number of consultants have worked from satellite generated aeronautical charts to return the modern landscape to its ancient appearance and to mark ancient names and features in accordance with the most up to date historical scholarship and archaeological discoveries Chronologically the Barrington Atlas spans archaic Greece to the Late

Roman Empire and no more than two standard scales 1 500 000 and 1 1 000 000 are used to represent most regions Since the 1870s all attempts to map the classical world comprehensively have failed The Barrington Atlas has finally achieved that elusive and challenging goal It began in 1988 at the University of North Carolina Chapel Hill under the direction of the distinguished ancient historian Richard Talbert and has been developed with approximately 4 5 million in funding support The resulting Barrington Atlas is a reference work of permanent value It has an exceptionally broad appeal to everyone worldwide with an interest in the ancient Greeks and Romans the lands they penetrated and the peoples and cultures they encountered in Europe North Africa and Western Asia Scholars and libraries should find it essential It is also for students travelers lovers of fine cartography and anyone eager to retrace Alexander s eastward marches cross the Alps with Hannibal traverse the Eastern Mediterranean with St Paul or ponder the roads aqueducts and defense works of the Roman Empire For the new millennium the Barrington Atlas brings the ancient past back to life in an unforgettably vivid and inspiring way Map by Map Directory A Map by Map Directory to the Barrington Atlas is available online http://assets.press.princeton.edu/B_ATLAS/B_ATLAS.PDF and in a separate two volume print edition of close to 1 500 pages The Directory is designed to provide information about every place or feature in the Barrington Atlas The section for each map comprises a concise text drawing attention to special difficulties in mapping a region such as extensive landscape change since antiquity or uneven modern exploration a listing of every name and feature on the map with basic data about the period of occupation the modern equivalents of ancient placenames the modern country within which they are located and brief references to relevant ancient testimony or modern studies a bibliography of works cited The Map by Map Directory is an essential accompaniment to the Barrington Atlas As a uniquely rich comprehensive up to date distillation of evidence and scholarship it has no match elsewhere and opens the way to an immense variety of further research initiatives Flora of Cyprus R.
