L'architecture Moderne En France:

L'architecture moderne en France Joseph Abram, 1999 L'architecture moderne en France. ,1997 France
Jean-Louis Cohen, 2014-08-15 Everyone knows Notre Dame the Eiffel Tower and the chateaux of the Loire Valley but French architects have also produced some of the most iconic buildings of the twentieth century playing a central role in the emergence and development of modernism In France Jean Louis Cohen presents a complete narrative of the unfolding architectural modernity in the country grappling not only with the buildings but also with the political and critical context surrounding them Cohen examines the developments in urban design and architecture within France depicting the continuities and breaks in French architecture since 1900 against a broader international background Describing the systems of architectural exchange with other countries including Italy Germany Russia and the United States he offers a new view on the ideas projects and buildings otherwise so often considered only from narrow nationalistic perspectives Cohen also maps the problematic search for a national identity against the background of European rivalries and France's colonial past Drawing on a wealth of recent research this authoritatively written book will challenge the way design professionals and historians view modern French architecture L'architecture moderne en France ,2000 L'architecture moderne en France F. Barqui, 1871 Un siècle d'architecture moderne en France, 1850-1950 Marc Emery, 1971 The Modernist Garden in France Dorothee Imbert, Hubert C Schmidt '38 Chair in Landscape Architecture Dorothee Imbert, 1993-01-01 The modernist garden which flourished in France between the 1910s and the 1930s vividly mirrored the geometries and cubist aesthetics familiar to the decorative and fine arts of the period Created by architects and artists these gardens were often conceived as tableaux in which plants played a role only as pigment or texture This handsomely illustrated book by Dorothee Imbert presents for the first time in word and image a comprehensive study of these arresting architectonic gardens The Nineteenth Century and After ,1909 Modernising Post-war France Nicholas Bullock, 2022-11-22 This book is about the role played by architects engineers and planners in transforming France during the three post war decades of growing prosperity a period when modernisation was a central priority of the state promising a way forward from the shame of defeat in 1940 to a place at the centre of the new Europe The first part of the book examines the scale of transformation showing how architecture and urbanism both served the cause of modernisation and shaped the identity of the new France Mainstream modernism was co-opted to the service of the state from major public buildings to Gaullist plans for the transformation of Paris to establish the city as the capital of Europe By contrast the second part of the book explores the critique of state sponsored modernisation by radical architects from Le Corbusier to the young Turks of the 1960s such as Georges Candilis and the students who attacked the banality of mainstream modernism and its inability to address the growing problems of France's cities Following May 1968 the Beaux Arts was closed the Grand Prix de Rome symbol of the old order abolished for a while the establishment might continue as before but progressive architecture was set on a new course Beautifully illustrated and written to be accessible to all the book sets the discussion of architecture and urbanism in its social political and economic contexts As such it will appeal both to students and scholars of the history of architecture and urbanism and to those with a wider interest in France s post war history Architecture Henry-Russell Hitchcock,1987-01-01 This book examines a period which is far more than a prelude to the age of steel and concrete The first half century culminated in the bold iron and glass of the Crystal Palace There follows the creation of the modern styles of the era based on traditions of the past and finally in the 20th century Art Nouveau and the modern architects in their generations Perret Wright Gropius Corbusier Mies van der Rohe and others in many parts of the world The Social Project Kenny Cupers,2014-04-01 Winner of the 2015 Abbott Lowell Cummings prize from the Vernacular Architecture Forum Winner of the 2015 Sprio Kostof Book Award from the Society of Architectural Historians Winner of the 2016 International Planning History Society Book Prize for European Planning History Honorable Mention 2016 Wylie Prize in French Studies In the three decades following World War II the French government engaged in one of the twentieth century s greatest social and architectural experiments transforming a mostly rural country into a modernized urban nation Through the state sanctioned construction of mass housing and development of towns on the outskirts of existing cities a new world materialized where sixty years ago little more than cabbage and cottages existed Known as the banlieue the suburban landscapes that make up much of contemporary France are near opposites of the historic cities they surround Although these postwar environments of towers slabs and megastructures are often seen as a single utopian blueprint gone awry Kenny Cupers demonstrates that their construction was instead driven by the intense aspirations and anxieties of a broad range of people Narrating the complex interactions between architects planners policy makers inhabitants and social scientists he shows how postwar dwelling was caught between the purview of the welfare state and the rise of mass consumerism The Social Project unearths three decades of architectural and social experiments centered on the dwelling environment as it became an object of modernization an everyday site of citizen participation and a domain of social scientific expertise Beyond state intervention it was this new regime of knowledge production that made postwar modernism mainstream The first comprehensive history of these wide ranging urban projects this book reveals how housing in postwar France shaped both contemporary urbanity and modern architecture Architecture in France in the Eighteenth Century Wend Graf Kalnein,Wend von Kalnein,1995-01-01 Architecture in France in the Eighteenth Century Wend von Kalnein French architecture of the eighteenth century which exhibited great technical ability and refined taste influenced architectural style throughout Europe This handsome book is a survey of the French architecture of the period It begins with the origins of the style moderne under the last years of Louis XIV discusses the end of Rococo and the return to antiquity and concludes with the Revolutionary architecture and the house of Madame R camier Kalnein describes the development of palace and h tel architecture by the two great architects de Cotte and Boffrand discussing such large urban projects as the reconstruction of Rennes and the

Places Royales He traces the return to antiquity which began when the scholars of the Académie d'Architecture were sent to Rome the revolutionary architecture with its grand but never executed projects and the shift from neoclassicism to early romanticism Kalnein also examines the decorative arts of the period which became even more important than architecture in the Rococo period Focusing on such architects as Boffrand Gabriel and Redoux he shows how a study of their building decoration illuminates the evolution of style moderne the battle between Rococo and Neoclassicism and the dissemination of French styles throughout Europe

At Home in Postwar France Nicole C. Rudolph, 2015-03-01 After World War II France embarked on a project of modernization which included the development of the modern mass home At Home in Postwar France examines key groups of actors state officials architects sociologists and tastemakers arguing that modernizers looked to the home as a site for social engineering and nation building designers and advocates of the modern home contributed to the democratization of French society and the French home of the Trente Glorieuses as it was built and inhabited was a hybrid product of architects planners and residents understandings of modernity This volume identifies the right to comfort as an invention of the postwar period and suggests that the modern mass home played a vital role in shaping new expectations for well being and happiness

Nineteenth Century and After, 1909 French Modern Paul Rabinow, 2014-06-01 In this study of space and power and knowledge in France from the 1830s through the 1930s Rabinow uses the tools of anthropology philosophy and cultural criticism to examine how social environment was perceived and described Ranging from epidemiology to the layout of colonial cities he shows how modernity was revealed in urban planning architecture health and welfare administration and social legislation
