Last Plane to Shanghai Richard Tregaskis,1963 Last Plane to Shanghai Richard William TREGASKIS,1966

Millard's Review of the Far East ,1927 Vol 34 includes Special tariff conference issue Nov 6 1925 Richard

Tregaskis Ray E. Boomhower,2021-11-15 In the late summer of 1942 more than ten thousand members of the First Marine Division held a tenuous toehold on the Pacific island of Guadalcanal As American marines battled Japanese forces for control of the island they were joined by war correspondent Richard Tregaskis Tregaskis was one of only two civilian reporters to land and stay with the marines and in his notebook he captured the daily and nightly terrors faced by American forces in one of World War II s most legendary battles and it served as the premise for his bestselling book Guadalcanal Diary One of the most distinguished combat reporters to cover World War II Tregaskis later reported on Cold War conflicts in Korea and Vietnam In 1964 the Overseas Press Club recognized his first person reporting under hazardous circumstances by awarding him its George Polk Award for his book Vietnam Diary Boomhower s riveting book is the first to tell Tregaskis s gripping life story concentrating on his intrepid reporting experiences during World War II and his fascination with war and its effect on the men who fought it Last Mission to Tokyo Michel Paradis,2020-07-28 Superb Paradis writes history with ease and authority The Wall Street Journal An engrossing procedural Richly researched The New York Times Book Review A thrilling narrative that introduces a key but underreported moment in World War II The Doolittle Raids and the international war crimes trial in 1945 that defined Japanese American relations and changed legal history In 1942 freshly humiliated from the attack on Pearl Harbor the United States was in search of a plan President Roosevelt determined to show the world that our nation would not be intimidated or defeated by enemy powers he demanded recommendations for a show of strength Jimmy Doolittle a stunt pilot with a doctorate from MIT came forward and led eighty young men gathered together from the far flung corners of Depression era America on a seemingly impossible mission across the Pacific Sixteen planes in all they only had enough fuel for a one way trip Together the Raiders as they were called did what no one had successfully done for more than a thousand years They struck the mainland of Japan and permanently turned the tide of the war in the Pacific Almost immediately The Doolittle Raid captured the public imagination and has remained a seminal moment in World War II history but the heroism and bravery of the mission is only half the story In Last Mission to Tokyo Michel Paradis reveals the dramatic aftermath of the mission which involved two lost crews captured tried and tortured at the hands of the Japanese a dramatic rescue of the survivors in the last weeks of World War II and an international manhunt and trial led by two dynamic and opposing young lawyers in which both the United States and Japan accused the other of war crimes that would change the face of our legal and military history Perfect for fans of Lucky 666 and Nuremberg Infamy on Trial Last Mission to Tokyo is a thrilling war story meets courtroom drama that explores a key moment in World War II One Marine's War Gerald A Meehl,2012-05-15 One Marine s War recounts the experiences of Robert Sheeks a Marine combat interpreter and how he underwent a remarkable transformation as a consequence of his encounters with the Imperial Japanese Army Nisei Japanese American language instructors Japanese and Pacific Island native civilians and American Marines It is the first time the entire story of one Marine Corps combat interpreter has been told and it provides a unique insight into an aspect of the Pacific war that is not only fascinating history but also a compelling personal struggle to come to terms with a traumatic childhood and subsequent harrowing combat experiences The son of an American corporate executive Bob was born and raised in Shanghai until the family fled the impending Japanese occupation in the 1930s He was emotionally scarred by grisly atrocities he personally witnessed as the Japanese military terrorized the Chinese population during the Shanghai Incident in 1932 However his intense hatred for the Japanese military was gradually transformed into tolerance and then compassion He was recruited out of Harvard after the Pearl Harbor attack to be a Japanese language interpreter in the Marine Corps When he encountered kind and considerate Japanese American Nisei instructors during the intensive course at the U S Navy Japanese Language School at the University of Colorado he began to re think his attitudes toward the Japanese Ultimately through an intriguing set of circumstances he developed an empathy for the Japanese enemy he formerly despised This began during the invasion of Tarawa where he was frustrated by the near impossibility of capturing Japanese combatants partly because there was no way to communicate with them in their bunkers where they fought to the death That led him to devise methods to use a combination of surrender leaflets and amplified voice appeals to convince the enemy to surrender As a consequence he personally ended up saving the lives of hundreds of Japanese civilians and military by being able to talk them out of caves during combat on Saipan and Tinian in 1944 He was able to find humanity in the midst of war For his efforts he was awarded the Bronze Star with a unique commendation certainly one of the few medals ever given to a Marine officer for saving the lives of the enemy
