Larks in the Popcorn Harry Allen Smith, 1951 All Hands, 1949 PARKER'S CROSSROADS JAMES R. COOLEY, 2014-09-29 Parker's Crossroads a decisive battle in the Battle of the Bulge four days before Christmas in 1944 was Jack Ebbott's personal crossroads This is his story which traces his life from its privileged beginning to its tragic conclusion a journey he had not anticipated an odyssey of unspeakable horrors of depravity and suffering as a POW in German prison camps As a combat medic he attended to the deaths of his fellow prisoners and was a witness to the abject cruelty of his captors Jack Ebbott and a group of allied prisoners were taken to a remote rail siding there ordered to dig a deep hole in the frozen ground A boxcar was left at the siding when the hole was dug The doors were opened revealing the bodies of children stacked in cordwood On the threat of death the prisoners were ordered to bury the children in the hole A few of the children still flickered with life Up to this moment Jack Ebbott thought that he'd witnessed the full extent of his captors savagery But this act hurdled beyond it all Omnibook Magazine, 1948 Encyclopedia of American Humorists Steven H.

Gale, 2016-04-14 First published in 1988 this book contains entries on famous American Humorists Humor has been present in American literature from the beginning and has developed characteristics that reflect the American character both regional and national Although American literature was in the past treated as inferior to British literature there has always been a large popular audience for the genre which this book shows The figures with entries in this encyclopedia not only amuse in their writing but also aim to enlighten setting out to expose the foibles and foolishness of society and the individuals who compose it It is the manner in which these authors try to accomplish this end that determines whether they appear in the volume Indeed the book will demonstrate that the best humor has at its base a ready understanding of human nature

Low Man on a Totem Pole H Allen Smith, 2015-07-27 H Allen Smith has sometimes been referred to as the best selling humorist since Mark Twain Considering that he wrote against the likes of James Thurber Robert Benchley and S J Perelman that's quite a statement And probably true He sold a million copies of each of his first several books starting with Low Man on a Totem Pole In this book which might be called a fraction of his memoirs Mr Smith claimed he could have filled twenty he recounts the high points of his life amid the human race a race he appreciated and observed with a keen nose for the humor hiding in the most unexpected places Here is a panorama of unlikely people who really existed of inconceivable things that actually happened of the commonplace rarities of our frenzied epoch Among others there is the newspaperman who suffered under the delusion that Herbert Hoover had bladders on his feet the man who thoughtfully and perpetually bounced turtle eggs on a bar a deaf dentist who trained his dog to act as his receptionist a child prodigy who couldn't talk any too well but appeared to know more about swing music than the head usher at the Paramount Theater all these are part of Mr Smith's life and times
