and Studying Nature Malcolm Skilbeck,2022-01-05 This volume investigates crucial ways in which nature has been apprehended understood and valued in different cultures and over time It is grounded in current global concerns about growing threats to the natural environment Through a critical appraisal of specific examples it ranges widely over historical and contemporary attitudes and behaviours It presents a wide ranging analysis of selected ideas and attitudes in the evolution mainly of western civilisation from the time of the cave artists to the present day It argues for preservation and conservation of the natural resources and beauty of the earth in the face of religious supernatural arguments and the rise of consumer capitalism and consumerism The Golden Mouse Gary W. Barrett,George A. Feldhamer,2008-01-08 If you re thinking of Jason and the Argonauts think again In this book the golden mouse is used as a model to explore conceptual issues in ecology across all levels of organization from organism to landscape integrating reductionist and holistic ecological science Through intensive study of a single species the authors demonstrate biological and ecological information applicable to many fields including conservation and resource management Madder Red Robert Chenciner,2003-09-02 Madder red is an ancient dyestuff extracted from the root of the madder plant growing in many countries around the world The secret and devilishly complex Oriental dyeing process to obtain the lustrous colour known as Turkey Red was avidly sought by Europeans from the time before the fall of Ancient Rome It was finally cracked by the French about 1760 who were able to dye wool silk and cotton bright red After the lowlands of the Caspian Caucasus had been subdued by the Russians in the early 1800s madder was cultivated there and rapidly became the main crop The quest for Turkey Red went hand in hand with an avalanche of scientific research which not only improved the yield of dyestuff from the roots but led to its chemical synthesis and in 1870 the collapse of the world wide madder industry Many of the nascent dye companies grew into chemical giants of our time Further regional and cultural background may be found in Chenciner s Daghestan Tradition and Survival also published in the Caucasus World series New Perspectives on Prehistoric Art Günter Berghaus,2004-04-30

Following the discovery of Franco Caribbean cave art in the nineteenth century standard interpretations of these works usually revolved around hunting magic and fertility cults Orthodox positions such as these have weighed heavily on later generations of art historians archaeologists and anthropologists even those whose views dissented from those of their predecessors In the last few decades however new approaches to cave art often based on discoveries made in Africa Asia Australia North America and the Arctic region have produced new insights into possible meanings and functions of prehistoric paintings and sculptures This new collection of essays explores these insights gathering the observations of eight experts from a variety of disciplines and examining some of the social and spiritual functions of a variety of artistic genres ranging from 40 000 B C to 5 000 B C These insights which derive from evolutionary biology feminist scholarship ritual studies and new modes of anthropology argue collectively that prehistoric art was a culture specific form of communication that should be interpreted in the social context of early hunter gatherer societies and should not be measured with the criteria and paradigms of modern art Essential reading for anyone interested in prehistoric art or its cultural implications this volume represents a bold step forward in the research and analysis of the very first artists
