Last Cannibals:

Cannibal Holocaust Calum Waddell,2016-12-27 Cannibal Holocaust is one of the most controversial horror films ever made Despite not achieving huge success when it was first released the Italian production found an audience on home video in the 1980s and became a must see for connoisseurs of extreme cinema Indeed Cannibal Holocaust s foremost legacy is in the United Kingdom where it obtained its reputation as one of the most harrowing and offensive video nasties a term used to refer to a group of films deemed to be obscene by the Department of Public Prosecutions However as the years have progressed Cannibal Holocaust has been re evaluated mainly as the forefather of the found footage film and recent home video re releases have added some valuable perspective to the onscreen violence with extensive cast and crew interviews What is missing from this contemporary activity is contextualization of Cannibal Holocaust s style affirmation and discussion of its locations and any extensive discourse about its representation of third world inhabitants i e as primitives In addition and also amiss from previous dialogue on the production is that Cannibal Holocaust can be seen as one of the key post Vietnam films It is the spectre of war and an explicit warning about Western involvement in civil conflict which progresses Deodato s story of jungle adventurers in peril By approaching the film from a more formalist position this Devil s Advocate provides an insightful discussion of this groundbreaking film

The pervasive image of New York's 42nd Street as a hub of sensational thrills, vice and excess is from where grindhouse cinema the focus of this volume stemmed. It is arguably an image that has remained unchanged in the mind's eye of many exploitation film fans and academics alike. Whether in the pages of fanzines or scholarly works it is often recounted how should one have walked down this street between the 1960s and the 1980s one would have undergone a kaleidoscopic encounter with an array of disparate exploitation films from all over the world that were being offered cheaply to urbanites by a swathe of vibrant movie theatres. The contributors to Grindhouse Cultural Exchange on 42nd Street and Beyond consider grindhouse cinema from a variety of cultural and methodological positions. Some seek to deconstruct the etymology of grindhouse itself, add flesh to the bones of its cadaverous history or examine the term's contemporary relevance in the context of both media production and consumerism. Others offer new inroads into hitherto unexamined examples of exploitation film history, presenting snapshots of cultural moments that many of us thought we already knew. CANNIBALS Jeff Hagerman, 2024-07-23. It all started with a scientist's discovery and subsequent capture of the most primitive species of man found on an uncharted island off the coast of New Guinea. His ambition and drive to study and learn all he can will put people's lives in danger. In moving his find to a research center, the transport vehicle crashes outside a small town in the hills of Tennessee, leading to an unforgettable series of events that will change the lives of the inhabitants forever. The Last Cannibals Jens Bjerre, 1974-01-01. Too Late to Awaken Slavoj Žižek, 2025-02-25. The most dangerous philosopher in the West returns with a rousing and counterintuitive analysis of our global predicament. Žižek's most urgent and accessible book yet asks us all to imagine that catastrophe is a foregone conclusion so that we can actually save the world. We hear all the time that we're moments from doomsday. Around us, crises interlock and escalate, threatening our collective survival. Russia's invasion of Ukraine, with its rising risk of nuclear warfare, is taking place against a backdrop of global warming, ecological breakdown and widespread social and economic unrest. Protestors and politicians repeatedly call for action, but still we continue to drift towards disaster. We need to do something. But what if the only way for us to prevent catastrophe is to assume that it has already happened, to accept that we're already five minutes past zero hour? Too Late to Awaken sees Slavoj Žižek forge a vital new space for a radical emancipatory politics that could avert our course to self-destruction. He illuminates why the liberal Left has so far failed to offer this alternative and exposes the insidious propagandism of the fascist Right, which has appropriated and manipulated once progressive ideas. Pithy, urgent, gutting and witty, Žižek's diagnosis reveals our current geopolitical nightmare in a startling new light and shows how, in order to change our future, we must first focus on changing the past. killing for culture David Kerekes, David Slater, 2016-06-03. Unlike images of sex, which were clandestine and screened only in private, images of death were made public from the onset of cinema. The father of the modern age, Thomas Edison, fed the appetite for this material with staged executions on film. Little over a century later, the executions are real and the world is aghast at brutalities freely available online at the click of a button. Some of these films are created by lone individuals using shaky camera phones Luka Magnotta for instance and the teenagers known as the Dnipropetrovsk maniacs Others are shot on high definition equipment and professionally edited by organized groups such as the militant extremists ISIS KILLING FOR CULTURE explores these images of death and violence and the human obsession with looking and not looking at them Beginning with the mythology of the so called snuff film and its evolution through popular culture this book traces death and the artifice of death in the mondo documentaries that emerged in the 1960s and later the faux snuff pornography that found an audience through Necrobabes and similar websites However it is when videos depicting the murders of Daniel Pearl and Nick Berg surfaced in the 2000s that an era of genuine atrocity commenced one that has irrevocably changed the way in which we function as a society Cannibalism, Headhunting and Human Sacrifice in North America George Franklin Feldman,2023-10-03 This riveting volume dispels the sanitized history surrounding Native American practices toward their enemies that preceded the European exploration and colonization of North America We abandon truth when we gloss over the clashes between Native Americans and Europeans encounters of parties equally matched in barbarity says George Franklin Feldman We neglect true history when we hide the uniqueness of the varied cultures that evolved during the thousands of years before Europeans invaded North America The research is impeccable the writing sparkling and the evidence incontrovertible headhunting and cannibalism were practiced by many of the native peoples of North America Extreme Cinema Kerner Aaron Kerner,2016-06-14 Extreme Cinema examines the highly stylized treatment of sex and violence in post millennial transnational cinema where the governing convention is not the narrative but the spectacle Using profound experiments in form and composition including jarring editing extreme close ups visual disorientation and sounds that straddle the boundary between non diegetic and diegetic registers this mode of cinema dwells instead on the exhibition of intense violence and an acute intimacy with the sexual body Interrogating works such as Wetlands and A Serbian Film as well as the sub culture of YouTube reaction videos Aaron Michael Kerner and Jonathan L Knapp demonstrate the way content and form combine in extreme cinema to affectively manipulate the viewing body

Cinema Inferno Robert G. Weiner,John Cline,2010-07-17 Cinema Inferno Celluloid Explosions from the Cultural Margins addresses significant areas and eras of transgressive filmmaking including many subgenres and styles that have not yet received much critical attention This collection of essays covers both contemporary films and those produced in the last 50 years to provide a theoretical framework for looking at transgressive cinema and what that means This volume begins with a number of essays that examine the aesthetic of realism tracing it through the late Italian Neo Realism of Pasolini the early films of Melvin Van Peebles and Canadian filmmaker Guy Maddin Another section focuses on 70s Italian horror and thrillers including a substantially different examination of filmmaker Dario Argento as well as essays on critically underrepresented directors Lucio Fulci and Sergio Martino A section on New York looks at both radical independents like Troma and Andy Milligan as well as the social context from which a view of the metropolis in decay emerged Sections also cover the experimental work of the Vienna Action Group and controversial filmmaker Michael Haneke as well as films and genres too idiosyncratic and disturbing to fit anywhere else including analyses of Nazi propaganda films fundamentalist Christian scare movies and postwar Japanese youth films The final essays try to come to terms with a mainstream flirtation with transgressive film and Grindhouse aesthetics Social Violence in the Prehispanic American Southwest Deborah L. Guy, Robert E. Woodrow, 2020-08-03 In August of 1986 a special conference on recreational mathematics was held at the University of Calgary to celebrate the founding of the Strens Collection. Leading practitioners of recreational mathematics from around the world gathered in Calgary to share with each other the joy and spirit of play that is to be found in recreational mathematics. It would be difficult to find a better collection of wonderful articles on recreational mathematics by a more distinguished group of authors. If you are interested in tessellations, Escher tilings, Rubik's cube, pentominoes, games, puzzles, the arbelos, Henry Dudeney or change ringing, then this book is for you.

Appetites and Anxieties Cynthia Baron, Diane Carson, Mark Bernard, 2012-11-01. Employs the foodways paradigm to analyze the ideological dimensions of food imagery and food behavior in fiction and documentary films. Cinema is a mosaic of memorable food scenes. Detectives drink alone. Gangsters talk with their mouths full. Families around the world argue at dinner. Food documentaries challenge popular consumption-centered visions. In Appetites and Anxieties: Food, Film, and the Politics of Representation, authors Cynthia Baron, Diane Carson, and Mark Bernard use a foodways paradigm drawn from the fields of folklore and cultural anthropology to illuminate film's cultural and material politics. In looking at how films do and do not represent food procurement, preparation, presentation, consumption, clean up, and disposal, the authors bring the pleasures, dangers, and implications of consumption to center stage. In nine chapters, Baron, Carson, and Bernard consider food in fiction films and documentaries from both American and international cinema. The first chapter examines film practice from the foodways perspective, supplying a foundation for the collection of case studies that follow. Chapter 2 takes a political economy approach as it examines the food industry and the film industry's policies that determine representations of food in film. In chapter 3, the authors explore food and food interactions as a means for creating community in Bagdad Caf while in chapter 4, they take a close look at 301-302 in which food is used to mount social critique. Chapter 5 focuses on cannibal films, showing how the foodways paradigm unlocks the implications of films that dramatize one of society's greatest food taboos. In chapter 6, the authors demonstrate ways that insights generated by the foodways lens can enrich genre and auteur studies. Chapter 7 considers documentaries about food and water resources, while chapter 8 examines food documentaries that slip through the cracks of film censorship by going into exhibition without an MPAA rating. Finally, in chapter 9, the authors study films from several national cinemas to explore the intersection of food, gender, and ethnicity. Four appendices provide insights from a food stylist, a selected filmography of fiction films, and a filmography of documentaries that feature foodways components, and a list of selected works in food and cultural studies. Scholars of film studies and food studies will enjoy the thought-provoking analysis of Appetites and Anxieties.

Screening the Marquis de Sade Lindsay Anne Hallam, 2014-01-10. Since their publication, the works of the Marquis de Sade have challenged the reading public with a philosophy of relentless physical transgression. This is the first book-length academic study by a single author that applies the philosophy of the Marquis de Sade to the analysis of a wide array of film texts. By employing Sade's controversial body-oriented philosophy within film analysis, this book provides a new understanding of notions of pain, pleasure, and the representation of the transgressive body in film Whereas many analyses have used theory to excuse and thus dilute the power of sexual and violent images the author has here sought to examine cinematic representations of human relations as unflinchingly as Sade did in his novels Dissecting Cannibal Holocaust Nathan Wardinski,2024-04-15 Since its 1980 release the Italian horror film Cannibal Holocaust has shocked viewers and provoked censors with its graphic imagery and unrelenting nihilism Following a summary of the story and the controversy over its release Dissecting Cannibal Holocaust examines the film s relevance to cinematic and literary history anthropology nature studies ethics and censorship media and journalism documentary filmmaking representations of cannibalism and post colonialism and genre cinema The book also addresses some of the most frequent criticisms of Cannibal Holocaust including its depictions of native people and the inclusion of real life animal killings Matching the audacity of the film itself Dissecting Cannibal Holocaust makes provocative arguments about the influence of corporate media the purpose of art the relationship between industrialized and indigenous people the amorality of nature and the roots of violence To Feast on Us as Their Prey Rachel B. Herrmann,2019-02-11 Winner 2020 Association for the Study of Food and Society Book Award Edited Volume Long before the founding of the Jamestown Virginia colony and its Starving Time of 1609 1610 one of the most famous cannibalism narratives in North American colonial history cannibalism played an important role in shaping the human relationship to food hunger and moral outrage Why did colonial invaders go out of their way to accuse women of cannibalism What challenges did Spaniards face in trying to explain Eucharist rites to Native peoples What roles did preconceived notions about non Europeans play in inflating accounts of cannibalism in Christopher Columbus s reports as they moved through Italian merchant circles Asking questions such as these and exploring what it meant to accuse someone of eating people as well as how cannibalism rumors facilitated slavery and the rise of empires To Feast on Us as Their Prey posits that it is impossible to separate histories of cannibalism from the role food and hunger have played in the colonization efforts that shaped our modern world The Fragile Absolute, Or, Why is the Christian Legacy Worth Fighting For? Slavoj Žižek,2001 No Marketing Blurb Sexuation Renata Salecl,2000-07-24 A Lacanian investigation of sexuality and sexual difference For They Know Not What They Do Slavoj Zizek,2020-05-05 Psychoanalysis is less merciful than Christianity Where God the Father forgives our ignorance psychoanalysis holds out no such hope Ignorance is not a sufficient ground for forgiveness since it masks enjoyment an enjoyment which erupts in those black holes in our symbolic universe that escape the Father s prohibition Today with the disintegration of state socialism we are witnessing this eruption of enjoyment in the re emergence of aggressive nationalism and racism With the lid of repression lifted the desires that have emerged are far from democratic To explain this apparent paradox says Slavoj Zizek socialist critical thought must turn to psychoanalysis For They Know Not What They Do seeks to understand the status of enjoyment within ideological discourse from Hegel through Lacan to these political and ideological deadlocks The author s own enjoyment of popular culture makes this an engaging and lucid exposition in which Hegel joins hands with Rossellini Marx with Hitchcock Lacan with Frankenstein high theory with Hollywood melodrama
