Richard Price, 2013-10-15 First published in 2006 This study looks at a time when Victorian Britain was a time for self doubt
There was an increasing fear that the place in the sun that had so long been hers was being shadowed by the rising powers of Germany and the United States of America Doubts arouse about her economic strength her military prowess even the viability of the two party system The South African War of 1899 1902 served for a time as the focus for all the fears that many Britons had about their country s future The patriotism it engendered was exaggerated by the early military failures to resolve the problem of the troublesome Boers The focus of the text is on working class attitudes and reactions to the Boer

Prime Minister of the Union of South Africa a union he did much to create in the decade after the devastation of the Anglo Boer War During the war Botha was a brilliant young Boer general who through his battlefield strategy won significant victories over the British in the early stages of the war When the weight of British arms overwhelmed the Boers Botha along with Smuts did much to encourage peace between English and Afrikaner and led the country to Union in 1910 and dominion status Botha was a big hearted and generous man who showed magnanimity in his dealings with all including former enemies He led the South African troops to victory and the capture of German South West Africa prior to this he had to put down a revolt of pro German Afrikaners At the Peace of Versailles representing South Africa he pleaded unsuccessfully for magnanimity towards the Germans Botha was a globally respected figure he and Smuts effectively operated as a double act tragically short life is illuminated in full Congressional Record United States. Congress, 2007 The Gentleman's
