Alexander Horwath, Thomas Elsaesser, Noel King, 2004 This publication is a major evaluation of the 1970s American cinema including cult film directors such as Bogdanovich Altman and Peckinpah The Last Silent Picture Show William M. Drew, 2010-08-27 In 1927 The Jazz Singer heralded a revolution in the moviemaking industry with the advent of synchronized sound in full length motion pictures While movie studios adapted their production facilities to accommodate the new technology and movie theatres converted to sound filmmakers continued to produce silents albeit in dwindling numbers And though talkies would overtake the industry and the public's demand soon enough the silent motion picture did not disappear immediately The Last Silent Picture Show Silent Films on American Screens in the 1930s looks at this cultural shift Drawing primarily on contemporary records this book details the fate of an entire art form the silent cinema in the United States during the 1930s and how it managed to survive the onslaught of sound Through the most diverse venues from tent shows to universities political meetings to picture palaces ghetto theaters to art houses the silent film continued to play an important role in American culture in the Depression years culminating in the first efforts to chronicle and preserve cinema history Through the voices of the audiences critics editors and artists Drew relates the impact of various silent films whether new releases reissues or foreign imports on the public and culture of the 30s how they affected both the popular and intellectual environment and how they were promoted for their audiences Providing an in depth examination of the transitional period which led to the birth of modern film studies The Last Silent Picture Show is aimed not only at academics but also the large number of film devotees who will discover new information on a relatively neglected chapter of film history LIFE, 1971-10-15 LIFE Magazine is the treasured photographic magazine that chronicled the 20th Century It now lives on at LIFE.com the largest most amazing collection of professional photography on the internet Users can browse search and view photos of today's people and events They have free access to share print and post images for personal use Seasoned Authors for a New Season Louis Filler, 1980 This collection of essays probes the values in a variety of authors who have had in common the fact of popularity and erstwhile reputation Why were they esteemed Who esteemed them And what has become of their reputations to readers to the critic himself No writer here has been asked to justify the work of his subject and reports and conclusions about this wide variety of creative writers vary sometimes emphasizing what the critic believes to be enduring qualities in the subject in several cases finding limitations in what that writer has to offer us today The Great Movies III Roger Ebert, 2010-10-15 Roger Ebert has been writing film reviews for the Chicago Sun Times for over four decades now and his biweekly essays on great movies have been appearing there since 1996 As Ebert noted in the introduction to the first collection of those pieces They are not the greatest films of all time because all lists of great movies are a foolish attempt to codify works which must stand alone But it's fair to say If you want to take a tour of the landmarks of the first century of cinema start here Enter The Great Movies III Ebert's third collection of essays on the cr me de la cr me of the silver screen each one a model of critical appreciation and a blend of love and analysis that will send readers back to the films with a fresh set of eyes and renewed enthusiasm or maybe even lead to a first time viewing From The Godfather Part II to Groundhog Day from The Last Picture Show to Last Tango in Paris the hundred pieces gathered here display a welcome balance between the familiar and the esoteric spanning Hollywood blockbusters and hidden gems independent works and foreign language films alike Each essay draws on Ebert's vast knowledge of the cinema its fascinating history and its breadth of techniques introducing newcomers to some of the most exceptional movies ever made while revealing new insights to connoisseurs as well Named the most powerful pundit in America by Forbes magazine and a winner of the Pulitzer Prize Roger Ebert is inarguably the most prominent and influential authority on the cinema today The Great Movies III is sure to please his many fans and further enhance his reputation as America's most respected and trusted film critic Hollywood Winners & Losers A to Z Mark Thise, 2008-01-01 The ultimate film reference and trivia book Hollywood Winners and Losers features almost 900 separate entries for every actor and actress ever to be nominated for an Academy Award From icons to would be superstars and the forgotten faces that had only a moment in the sun every personality is listed here along with their best known films real names bios and little known facts More than just a reference guide or bet settler this is a perennial coffee table read perfect for film fans of all ages It simply cannot be beat Polly Platt Aaron Hunter, 2022-01-19 This book examines the career and creative labour of production designer Polly Platt It focuses mainly on her contributions to 1970s Hollywood but also considers her later work Considering films such as The Last Picture Show Paper Moon The Bad News Bears and The Witches of Eastwick it argues that Platt's construction of their visual palette and mise en scene was so creative and so comprehensive that it can be considered authorial Chapters discuss Platt's life and its influence on her work her attention to detail her role in location decisions and costume design and her use of colour An epilogue discusses her later career as a producer and her mentorship to young filmmakers like Cameron Crowe and Wes Anderson This is the first full length examination of the career of one of the women practitioners whose work was so important to 1970s cinema and provides an alternative methodology to the auteur driven framing that so regularly defines the era Christian Petzold Jaimey Fisher, 2013-11-30 In eleven feature films across two decades Christian Petzold has established himself as the most critically celebrated director in contemporary Germany The best known and most influential member of the Berlin School Petzold's career reflects the trajectory of German film from 1970s New German Cinema to more popular fare in the 1990s and back again to critically engaged and politically committed filmmaking In the first book length study on Petzold in English Jaimey Fisher frames Petzold's cinema at the intersection of international art cinema and sophisticated genre cinema This approach places his work in the context of global cinema and invites comparisons to the work of directors like Pedro Almodovar and Rainer Werner Fassbinder who repeatedly deploy and reconfigure genre cinema to their own ends These generic aspects constitute a cosmopolitan gesture in Petzold's work as he interprets and elaborates on cult genre films and popular genres including horror film noir and melodrama Fisher explores these popular genres while injecting them with themes like terrorism globalization and immigration central issues for European art cinema The volume also includes an extended original interview with the director about his work

Movie Lovers Tour of Texas Veva Vonler, 2005 Texas movies are as vast as the Lone Star State Fans tour Texas via movies that explore the state region by region They can hit the movie trail via automobile using suggested itineraries maps and lists of unique shooting locations all spiced with anecdotes and occasional gossip about behind the scenes action

Henry James Goes to the Movies Susan M. Griffin, 2014-10-17 Why has a nineteenth century author with an elitist reputation proved so popular with directors as varied as William Wyler Francois Truffaut and James Ivory A partial answer lies in the way many of Henry James's recurring themes still haunt us the workings of power the position of women in society the complexities of sexuality and desire Susan Griffin has assembled fifteen of the world's foremost authorities on Henry James to examine both the impact of James on film and the impact of film on James Anthony Mazella traces the various adaptations of The Turn of the Screw from novel to play to opera to film Peggy McCormack examines the ways the personal lives of Peter Bogdanovich and then girlfriend Cybill Shepherd influenced critical reaction to Daisy Miller 1974 Leland Person points out the consequences of casting Christopher Reeve then better known as Superman in The Bostonians 1984 during the conservative political context of the first Reagan presidency Nancy Bentley defends Jane Campion's anachronistic reading of Portrait of a Lady 1996 as being more authentic than the more common period costume dramas Dale Bauer observes James's influence on such films as Next Stop Wonderland 1998 and Notting Hill 1999 Marc Bousquet explores the ways Wings of the Dove 1997 addresses the economic and cultural situations of Gen X viewers Other fascinating essays as well as a complete filmography and bibliography of work on James and film round out the collection

The History of American Literature on Film Thomas Leitch, 2019-06-13 From William Dickson's Rip Van Winkle films 1896 to Baz Luhrmann's big budget production of The Great Gatsby 2013 and beyond cinematic adaptations of American literature participate in a rich and fascinating history Unlike previous studies of American literature and film which emphasize particular authors like Edith Wharton and Nathaniel Hawthorne particular texts like Moby Dick particular literary periods like the American Renaissance or particular genres like the novel this volume considers the multiple functions of filmed American literature as a cinematic genre in its own right one that reflects the specific political and aesthetic priorities of different national and historical cinemas even as it plays a decisive role in defining American literature for a global audience

Dirty Real Peter Stanfield, 2024-07-06 The story of how the movies assumed a gritty facade in the name of authenticity with working actors transforming into artists poets painters troubadours and filmmakers both on and off screen This is the tale of how Hollywood inspired by the success of Easy Rider sold a cycle of films as the new dirty real Dennis Hopper Peter Fonda Monte Hellman Jack Nicholson Kris Kristofferson and Sam Peckinpah among others parlayed a nostalgia for the gutter and donned bohemian personae pulling on soiled shirts and scuffed boots to better counter the glamour and phoniness of Tinseltown The result was a generation of movies including The Hired Hand

Five Easy Pieces Two Lane Blacktop The Last Picture Show and Pat Garrett and Billy the Kid With great care for the historical record and displaying a refined critical acuity Peter Stanfield captures that pivotal moment when Hollywood tried to sell a begrimed vision of itself to the world Historical Dictionary of Westerns in Literature Paul Varner,2010-09-20

When in 1902 Owen Wister a member of the Eastern blueblood aristocracy and friend of novelist Henry James became a best selling novelist with the publication of The Virginian few readers would have guessed that a new kind of American literature was being born While Owen Wister was enjoying his success Edwin S Porter in New Jersey was filming the first cinema Western The Great Train Robbery which would usher in a new era both of movies in general and of Western movies in particular Both events would lead to a century of cultural fascination with stories of the old West The Historical Dictionary of Westerns in Literature tells the story of the Western through a chronology a bibliography an introductory essay and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on authors such as Owen Wister Zane Grey Max Brand Clarence Mulford Ernest Haycox Luke Short Dorothy Johnson Louis L Amour and Cormac McCarthy The Presence of the Past Daniel Bishop,2021-08-06

The Presence of the Past offers a new perspective on Hollywood's New Wave as engaged with the vitality of sensory experience and the affective imagination As author Daniel Bishop shows the soundtracks of several key films of the New Hollywood Cinema of the late 1960s and 70s cultivated an array of sensibilities regarding the American past This importance of the past exceeded the New Hollywood's acknowledged use of genre revisionism as a vehicle for timely ideological commentary There was also a vital tendency in this era to locate the past as an object of imagined phenomenal presence Although this concept of the past never solidified into a self conscious discourse it was nevertheless woven into film culture readable between the lines of criticism cultural reception New Wave aesthetics and in the aesthetic and industrial transformations of sound design and film music Bonnie and Clyde 1967 Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid 1969 McCabe and Mrs Miller 1971 The Last Picture Show 1971 American Graffiti 1973 Chinatown 1974 and Badlands 1973 are not only key texts of an exciting era in American popular cinema They are also mediations upon the presence of the past an image central to the polarities of visceral energy and ambiguous ephemerality of utopian dreams and melancholy resignation that characterized this cinema These sensibilities of pastness engage in diverse ways with myth nostalgia paranoia and existential alienation They are however also united by a concern both with the experiential actuality of the past and with the distances that inevitably separate us from this actuality America's Film Legacy Daniel Eagan,2010-01-01

Collection of the five hundred films that have been selected to date for preservation by the National Film Preservation Board and are thereby listed in the National Film Registry
