High Anxieties Janet Farrell Brodie, Marc Redfield, 2002-11-21 High Anxieties is a collection of essays exploring the historical and ideological notions of addiction from the Opium Wars to the current war on drugs to the internet

What's Wrong with Addiction? Helen Keane, 2002 This is an impressive work carefully structured researched and written a refreshingly lucid account that is both intellectually stimulating and professionally helpful Janet McCalman Addicts are generally regarded with either pity or grave disapproval But is being addicted to something necessarily bad These attitudes are explicit both in contemporary medical literature and in popular self help texts We categorise addiction as unnatural diseased and self destructive We demonise pleasure and desire and view the addict as physically and morally damaged Helen Keane's thought provoking text examines these assumptions in a new light In asserting that the wrongness of addiction is not fixed or indeed obvious she presents a refreshing challenge to more conventional accounts of addiction She also investigates the notion that people can be addicted to eating love and sex just as they are to drugs and alcohol What's Wrong with Addiction shows that most of our ideas about addiction take certain ideals of health and normality for granted It exposes strains in our society's oppositions between health and disease between the natural and the artificial between order and disorder and between self and other
