Jacqueline Woodson's first middle grade novel since National Book Award winner Brown Girl Dreaming celebrates the healing that can occur when a group of students share their stories. It all starts when six kids have to meet for a weekly chat by themselves with no adults to listen in. There in the room they soon dub the ARTT Room short for A Room to Talk they discover it's safe to talk about what's bothering them everything from Esteban's father's deportation and Haley's father's incarceration to Amari's fears of racial profiling and Ashton's adjustment to his changing family fortunes. When the six are together they can express the feelings and fears they have to hide from the rest of the world. And together they can grow braver and more ready for the rest of their lives.

Connecting Cultures Rebecca L. Thomas, 1996-01-30 A comprehensive guide to multicultural literature for children this valuable resource features more than 1,600 titles including fiction folktales poetry and song books that focus on diverse cultural groups. The selected titles published between the 1970s and 1990s are suitable for use with preschoolers through sixth graders and are likely to be found on the shelves of school and public libraries. Topics are timely with an emphasis on books that reflect the needs and interests of today's children. Each detailed entry includes bibliographic information. Encyclopedia of Contemporary LGBTQ Literature of the United States Emmanuel S. Nelson, 2009-07-14 In this two volume work hundreds of alphabetically arranged entries survey contemporary lesbian gay bisexual transgendered and queer American literature and its social contexts. Comprehensive in scope and accessible to students and general readers Encyclopedia of Contemporary LGBTQ Literature of the United States explores contemporary American LGBTQ literature and its social political cultural and historical contexts. Included are several hundred alphabetically arranged entries written by expert contributors. Students of literature and popular culture will appreciate the encyclopedia's insightful survey and discussion of LGBTQ authors and their works while students of history and social issues will value the encyclopedia's use of literature to explore LGBTQ American society. Each entry is written by an expert contributor and lists additional sources of information. To further enhance study and understanding the encyclopedia closes with a selected general bibliography of print and electronic resources for student research.

Remember Us Jacqueline Woodson, 2025-05-06 In this Walter Award winning novel National Book Award winner Jacqueline Woodson brings readers a powerful story that delves deeply into life's burning questions about time and memory and what we take with us into the future. It seems like Sage's whole world is on fire the summer before she starts seventh grade. As house after house burns down her Bushwick neighborhood gets referred to as The Matchbox in the local newspaper. And while Sage prefers to spend her time shooting hoops with the guys she's also trying to figure out her place inside the circle of girls she's known since childhood a group that each day feels further and further away from her. But it's also the summer of Freddy a new kid who truly gets Sage. Together they reckon with the pain of missing the things that get left behind as time moves on savor what's good in the present and buoy each other up in the face of destruction. And when the future comes it is Sage s memories of the past that show her the way forward Remember Us speaks to the power of both letting go and holding on

Red at the Bone Jacqueline Woodson, 2020-09-01 A NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLER A NEW YORK TIMES NOTABLE BOOK OF THE YEAR A spectacular novel that only this legend can pull off Ibram X Kendi 1 New York Times bestselling author of HOW TO BE AN ANTIRACIST in The Atlantic An exquisite tale of family legacy The power and poetry of Woodson s writing conjures up Toni Morrison People In less than 200 sparsely filled pages this book manages to encompass issues of class education ambition racial prejudice sexual desire and orientation identity mother daughter relationships parenthood and loss With Red at the Bone Jacqueline Woodson has indeed risen even further into the ranks of great literature NPR This poignant tale of choices and their aftermath history and legacy will resonate with mothers and daughters Tayari Jones bestselling author of AN AMERICAN MARRIAGE in O Magazine An unexpected teenage pregnancy pulls together two families from different social classes and explores their histories reaching back to the Tulsa race massacre of 1921 and exposes the private hopes disappointments and longings that can bind or divide us from each other from the New York Times bestselling and National Book Award winning author of Another Brooklyn and Brown Girl Dreaming Moving forward and backward in time Jacqueline Woodson s taut and powerful new novel uncovers the role that history and community have played in the experiences decisions and relationships of these families and in the life of the new child As the book opens in 2001 it is the evening of sixteen year old Melody s coming of age ceremony in her grandparents Brooklyn brownstone Watched lovingly by her relatives and friends making her entrance to the music of Prince she wears a special custom made dress But the event is not without poignancy Sixteen years earlier that very dress was measured and sewn for a different wearer Melody s mother for her own ceremony a celebration that ultimately never took place Unfurling the history of Melody s family reaching back to the Tulsa race massacre in 1921 to show how they all arrived at this moment Woodson considers not just their ambitions and successes but also the costs the tolls they ve paid for striving to overcome expectations and escape the pull of history As it explores sexual desire and identity ambition gentrification education class and status and the life altering facts of parenthood Red at the Bone most strikingly looks at the ways in which young people must so often make long lasting decisions about their lives even before they have begun to figure out who they are and what they want to be
