English Women In Life And Letters:

English Women in Life and Letters M.. Phillips, William Shirley Tomkinson, 1971 English Women in Life & Letters Margaret Phillips, W. S. Tomkinson, 1928 English Women in Life and Letters Margaret Phillips, William Shirley Tomkinson, 1926 Romancing the Self in Early Modern Englishwomen's Life Writing Julie A. Eckerle, 2016-04-01

Juxtaposing life writing and romance this study offers the first book length exploration of the dynamic and complex relationship between the two genres In so doing it operates at the intersection of several recent trends interest in women s contributions to autobiography greater awareness of the diversity and flexibility of auto biographical forms in the early modern period and the use of manuscripts and other material evidence to trace literacy practices Through analysis of a wide variety of life writings by early modern Englishwomen including Elizabeth Delaval Dorothy Calthorpe Ann Fanshawe and Anne Halkett Julie A Eckerle demonstrates that these women were not only familiar with the controversial romance genre but also deeply influenced by it Romance she argues with its unending tales of unsatisfying love spoke to something in women s experience offered a model by which they could recount their own disappointments in a world where arranged marriage and often loveless matches ruled the day and exerted a powerful pervasive pressure on their textual self formations

Romancing the Self in Early Modern Englishwomen s Life Writing documents a vibrant secular form of auto biographical writing that coexisted alongside numerous spiritual forms providing a much more nuanced and complete understanding of sixteenth and seventeenth century women s reading and writing literacies The Periodical , 1925 The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record , 1928 The Literary World , 1894 Speaking and Writing English Max John Herzberg, William Lewin, 1925 English Women in Life & Letters Marion Phillips, William Shirley Tomkinson, Margaret Phillips, 1926 Women's Life Writing and Early Modern Ireland Julie A. Eckerle, Naomi McAreavey, 2019-06-01

Women s Life Writing and Early Modern Ireland provides an original perspective on both new and familiar texts in this first critical collection to focus on seventeenth century women s life writing in a specifically Irish context By shifting the focus away from England even though many of these writers would have identified themselves as English and making Ireland and Irishness the focus of their essays the contributors resituate women s narratives in a powerful and revealing landscape This volume addresses a range of genres from letters to book marginalia and a number of different women from now canonical life writers such as Mary Rich and Ann Fanshawe to far less familiar figures such as Eliza Blennerhassett and the correspondents and supplicants of William King archbishop of Dublin The writings of the Boyle sisters and the Duchess of Ormonde women from the two most important families in seventeenth century Ireland also receive a thorough analysis These innovative and nuanced scholarly considerations of the powerful influence of Ireland on these writers construction of self provide fresh illuminating insights into both their writing and their broader cultural context The Life, Letters and Literary Remains of Edward Bulwer, Lord Lytton Edward Bulwer Lytton Baron Lytton, 1884 Contents pt 1 Autobiography pt II Biography

The Cambridge History of English Literature Sir Adolphus William Ward,Alfred Rayney Waller,1916 The Spiritual Lives and Manuscript Cultures of Eighteenth-Century English Women Cynthia Aalders,2024-05-01

The Spiritual Lives and Manuscript Cultures of Eighteenth Century English Women explores the vital and unexplored ways in which women's life writings acted to undergird guide and indeed shape religious communities Through an exploration of various significant but understudied personal relationships including mentorship by older women spiritual friendship and care for nonbiological children the book demonstrates the multiple ways in which women were active in writing religious communities The women discussed here belonged to communities that habitually communicated through personal writing At the same time their acts of writing were creative acts powerful to build and shape religious communities these women wrote religious community The book consists of a series of interweaving case studies and focuses on Catherine Talbot 1721-70 Anne Steele 1717-78 and Ann Bolton 1743-1822 and on their literary interactions with friends and family Considered together these subjects and sources allow comparison across denomination for Talbot was Anglican Steele a Baptist and Bolton a Methodist Further it considers women's life writings as spiritual legacy as manuscripts were preserved by female friends and family members and continued to function in religious communities after the death of their authors Various strands of enquiry weave through the book questions of gender and religion themselves inflected by denomination themes related to life writings and manuscript cultures and the interplay between the writer as individual and her relationships and communal affiliations The result is a variegated and highly textured account of eighteenth century women's spiritual and writing lives Women's Life Writing, 1700-1850 D. Cook,A. Culley,2016-04-13 This collection discusses British and Irish life writings by women in the period 1700-1850 It argues for the importance of women's life writing as part of the culture and practice of eighteenth century and Romantic auto biography exploring the complex relationships between constructions of femininity life writing forms and models of authorship Selected List of the Best Biographies in English from the Point of View of a Canadian Public Library Ottawa Public Library,1918 AB Bookman's Weekly ,1997 The Booklist ,1927 English Women, Religion, and Textual Production, 1500-1625 Micheline White,2016-05-13 Contributing to the growing interest in early modern women and religion this essay collection advances scholarship by introducing readers to recently recovered or little studied texts and by offering new paradigms for the analysis of women's religious literary activities Contributors underscore the fact that women had complex multi dimensional relationships to the religious political order acting as activists for specific causes but also departing from confessional norms in creative ways and engaging in intra as well as extra confessional conflict The volume thus includes essays that reflect on the complex dynamics of religious culture itself and that illuminate the importance of women's engagement with Catholicism throughout the period The collection also highlights the vitality of neglected intertextual genres such as prayers meditations and translations and it focuses attention on diverse forms of textual production such as literary writing patronage epistolary exchanges public reading and epitaphs Collectively English Women Religion and Textual Production 1500 1625 offers a comprehensive treatment of the historical literary and methodological issues preoccupying scholars of women and religious writing
