The Changing World of Contemporary South Asian Poetry in English Mitali P. Wong,M. Yousuf Saeed,2019-07-02

This collection uses a transnational approach to study contemporary English language poetry composed by poets of South Asian origin. The poetry contains themes, motifs, and critiques of social changes, and the contributors seek to encapsulate the continually changing environments that these contemporary poets write about. The contributors show that English language poetry in South Asia is hybridized with imagery and figurative language adapted from the vernacular languages of South Asia. The chapters examine women's issues, concerns of marginalized groups such as the Dalit community, and the people of Northeastern India, social changes in Sri Lanka, the changing society of Pakistan, and the formation of the identity in the several nation states that resulted from the British colony of India.

Language, Society and the State in a Changing World Stanley D. Brunn, Roland Kehrein, 2023-04-08. This book addresses the changing contemporary language worlds in three major contexts. It first discusses how the language landscape maps of cities are changing as a result of increased migration, globalization, and global media. These features are evident in place names and place name changes as well as the densities and frequencies of language spoken and used in texts. The second section discusses how the state itself is responding to both indigenous and heritage groups desiring to be included and represented in the state's political landscapes and also expressions of art and culture. In the third section, the authors address a number of cutting-edge theses that are emerging in the linguistic geography and political words. These include the importance of gender, anthropogenetic discourse, the preservation of endangered languages, and challenges to a state's official language policy. Through including authors from nine different countries who are writing about issues in twelve countries and their overlapping interests in language mapping, language usage, and policy, and visual representations, this book provides inspiring research into future topics at local, national, regional, and international scales.

Rethinking Language and Literature in a Changing World Genevoix Nana, Andrew Ngeh, 2019-08-20. This volume is a blend of language and literature papers highlighting linguistic functionality and topicality in poetry, novels, translation, and education. It sheds light on the fictionalised reality of a strained official linguistic cohabitation in Cameroon as instantiated in present-day colonial legacy claims. It deals with issues of translation as a stylistic exercise whereby the translator has some creativity licence when rendering the source text into the target language, thus embracing Skopos theory's view of translation as a purposeful activity determined by the target text and audience. This book also looks at an educational conception of translation as opposed to a professional translation curriculum and advocates a comprehensive needs analysis for translator education in the context of translation.

teaching at the Advanced School of Translators and Interpreters ASTI in Cameroon The chapters also examine teacher and student discourse in the context of English Language teaching in tertiary education in China and pinpoint a dominant teacher's voice made relevant by a Confucian didactic indexicality which appears to be a stumbling block to any dialogic classroom discourse despite a new curriculum promoting communicative language teaching and student centredness This book will appeal to academics in the fields of language and literature in general and in Cameroon and China in particular It will also be a valuable resource for professional translators and those concerned with teaching the subject in academia as it explores a pragmatic conception of translation and envisages it beyond professionalism as an academic field Language Program Leadership in a Changing World Martha Carswell Pennington, Barbara J. Hoekje, 2010 Presents a comprehensive view of management and leadership in language programs as situated in a complex globalized context with rapidly changing characteristics This book offers case studies and overviews of nuts and bolts issues of administration such as financial data and people management as well as suggestions for further research English for a Changing World Ronald Wardhaugh, 1984-01-01 English for a changing world 2 , 1985
