ABSTRACT

Aims: The failure rate in English language subjects as consistently been recorded in major examinations in the country makes it a worrisome situation. This is such that the schools are gradually losing its reputation which could likely result in loss of confidence in the students. Hence, this study aims at determining the relationship among locus of control, self-esteem and secondary school students' academic achievement in English language.

Study Design: The study adopted the correlation design.

Place and Duration of Study: 920 senior secondary school II students from Anambra State of Nigeria, between August 2019 and January 2021.

Methodology: This study on locus of control and self-esteem as correlates of secondary school students academic achievement adopted the correlational research design, a correlational research design seeks to establish relationship between two or more variables as well as indicates the direction and magnitude of the relationship between the variables. The sample for the study

Improving English Teaching: Role Of Psycho-Social Factors B. R. Parida, 2010 Contents Introduction Review of Related Literature Design of the Study Analysis and Interpretation of Data Major Findings and Conclusions Hispanic Psychology Amado M. Padilla, 1995 This major contribution to the understanding of Hispanics in the United States explores such topics as adaptation to a new culture role of the family in acculturation ethnic identification health and mental health service research needs and changing gender roles The articles were previously published in the Hispanic Journal of Behavioral Sciences Intelligence and Cultural Environment (Psychology Revivals) Philip E. Vernon, 2014-01-27 Originally published in 1969 Intelligence and Cultural Environment looks at the concept of intelligence and the factors influencing the mental development of children including health and nutrition as well as child rearing practices It goes on to discuss the application of intelligence tests in non Western countries and includes both British and cross cultural studies to illustrate this Inevitably a product of the time in which it was written this book nonetheless makes a valuable contribution to intelligence theory as we know it today Insights in Educational Psychology 2021 Douglas F. Kauffman, Claudio Longobardi, Jesus de la Fuente, 2023-09-12 This Research Topic is part of the Insights in Psychology series We are now entering the third decade of the 21st Century and especially in the last years the achievements made by scientists have been exceptional leading to major advancements in the fast growing field of Psychology Frontiers has organized a series of Research Topics to highlight the latest advancements in science in order to be at the forefront of science in different fields of research This editorial initiative of particular relevance led by Douglas Kauffman Specialty Chief Editor of the section Educational Psychology is focused on new insights novel developments current challenges latest discoveries recent advances and future perspectives in this field Also high quality original research manuscripts on novel concepts problems and approaches are welcomed Transitions Through Education Elizabeth Fraser Selkirk Hannah, Divya Jindal-Snape, 2022-02-28 Getting Culture Regan A. R. Gurung, Loreto R. Prieto, 2023-07-03 How do we educate our students about cultural diversity and cultural differences and eliminate cultural ignorance stereotyping and prejudice What are the conceptual issues involved in reaching this goal How can we integrate these perspectives in disciplinary and diversity courses and the curriculum This book is a resource for answering these questions Within the framework of current scholarship and discussion of essential concepts it offers practical techniques and empirically proven best practices for teaching about diversity The book opens with a conceptual framework covering such issues as distinguishing teaching to a diverse audience from teaching about diversity and contrasting the incorporation of culture across the curriculum with tokenistic approaches Subsequent chapters identify classroom practices that can optimize students learning especially those from culturally diverse backgrounds describe feminist principles of education that promote learning for all students and address principles of effective on line instruction for diverse populations The book is intended for faculty integrating diversity into existing courses and for anyone creating courses on diversity The ideas and suggestions in the text can be incorporated into any class that includes a discussion of diversity issues or has a diverse student enrollment The contributors offer pragmatic and tested ways of overcoming student misconceptions and resistance and for managing emotional responses that can be aroused by the discussion of diversity The editors aim to stimulate readers thinking and inspire fresh ideas The book further provides teachers of diversity with a range of effective exercises and attends to such issues as teacher stress and burnout This book can also serve to inform and guide department chairs and other administrators in the design and implementation of diversity initiatives
