The English Short Story in Transition, 1880-1920 Helmut E. Gerber (1920- comp), 1967 The Cambridge History of the English Short Story Dominic Head, 2016-11-14 The Cambridge History of the English Short Story is the first comprehensive volume to capture the literary history of the English short story Charting the origins and generic evolution of the English short story to the present day and written by international experts in the field this book covers numerous transnational and historical connections between writers modes and forms of transmission Suitable for English literature students and scholars of the English short story generally it will become a standard work of reference in its field The English Short Story in Transition, 1880-1910 Helmut E. Gerber, 1967 English Literature in Transition, 1880-1920, 1985 British Women Writers and the Short Story, 1850-1930 K. Krueger, 2014-03-30 This book addresses a critically neglected genre used by women writers from Gaskell to Woolf to complicate Victorian and modernist notions of gender and social space Their innovative short stories ask Britons to reconsider where women could live how they could be identified and whether they could be contained Decadent Short Story Kostas Boyiopoulos, 2014-12-09 This wide ranging anthology showcases for the first time the short story as the most attractive genre for British writers who experimented with Decadent themes and styles The selections represent the important role that magazine culture played in the The Economy of the Short Story in British Periodicals of the 1890s Winnie Chan, 2007-01-23 This materialist study of the short story's development in three diverse magazines reveals how at the dawn of modernism commercial pressures prompted modernist formal innovation in popular magazines whilst anti commercial opacity paradoxically formed the basis of an effective marketing strategy that appealed to elitism Integrating methods of cultural studies with formal analyses this study builds upon recent work challenging Andreas Huyssen's provocative formation the great divide of modernism The Shape of Fear Susan Jennifer Navarette, 2021-05-11 During the last decades of the nineteenth century Charles Darwin Thomas Henry Huxley Walter Pater and others changed the nature of thought concerning the human body and the physical environment that had shaped it In response the 1890s saw the publication of a series of remarkable literary works that had their genesis in the intense scientific and aesthetic activity of those preceding decades texts that emphasized themes of degeneration and were themselves stylistically decompositive with language both a surrogate for physical deformity and a source of anxiety Susan J Navarette examines the ways in which scientific and cultural concerns of late nineteenth century England are coded in the horror literature of the period By contextualizing the structural stylistic and thematic systems developed by writers seeking to reenact textually the entropic forces they perceived in the natural world Navarette reconstructs the late Victorian mentalité She analyzes aesthetic responses to trends in contemporary science and explores horror writers use of scientific methodologies to support their perception that a long awaited period of cultural decline had begun In her analysis of the classics Turn of the Screw and Heart of Darkness Navarette shows how James and Conrad made artistic use of earlier

scientific readings of the body She also considers works by lesser known authors Walter de la Mare Vernon Lee and Arthur Machen who produced fin de siècle stories that took the form of hybrid literary monstrosities To underscore the fascination with bodily decay and deformation that these writers explored The Shape of Fear is enhanced with prints and line drawings by Victor Hugo James Ensor and other artists of the day This elegantly written book formulates a new canon of late Victorian fiction that will intrigue scholars of literature and cultural history

Hubert Crackanthorpe: Selected Writings William Greenslade, Emanuela Ettorre, 2020-10-19 Hubert Crackanthorpe 1870 1896 made a critically significant contribution to the evolution of the modernist short story in Britain His unexplained death in Paris at the age of 26 cut short a highly promising literary career The striking realism of Crackanthorpe's first collection of short stories Wreckage 1893 followed by the psychologically complex Sentimental Studies and posthumous Last Studies 1896 together with the prose poems of Vignettes 1896 were much admired by Henry James and his contemporaries Dowson Johnson and Symonds as the work of a leading innovative writer of critical Decadence Indeed his stories combine an unrelenting realism with a conscious aestheticizing of their often troubling bleak subject matter As co editor of the short lived periodical The Albermarle and campaigning literary journalist Crackanthorpe was a key critical participant in central literary and artistic debates of the early 1890s facts versus effects in literature the efficacy of realism naturalism questions of taste reticence and the handling of controversial subject matter This fully annotated critical text comprises the most extensive collection to date of Crackanthorpe's writing As well as uncollected stories the volume includes a short story never previously published in book form This edition also contains a selection of Crackanthorpe's critical writings and a bibliographical survey of his work

Short Story Index: 1964-1968, 1969 The Oxford Handbook of Decadence Jane Desmarais, David Weir, 2022 The Oxford Handbook of Decadence provides the most thorough examination of decadence to date by exploring the ramifications of this culture in different times and places from ancient Rome to contemporary America Thirty five wide ranging chapters address decadence not only in literature but also in film fashion architecture and more as well as in such fields as theology science psychoanalysis philosophy and politics
