Integration of theory and practice in CLIL Ruth Breeze,Carmen Llamas Saíz,Concepción Martínez Pasamar,Cristina Tabernero Sala,2014-03-01

Content and Language Integrated Learning CLIL has now become a feature of education in Europe from primary school to university level CLIL programmes are intended to integrate language and content learning in a process of mutual enrichment Yet there is little consensus as to how this is to be achieved or how the outcomes of such programmes should be measured It is evident that a further type of integration is required that of bringing the practice of CLIL into closer contact with the theory In this it is necessary to establish the role played by other fundamental aspects of the learning process including learner and teacher perspectives learning strategies task design and general pedagogical approaches The first part of this book provides a variety of theoretical approaches to the question of what integration means in CLIL addressing key skills and competences that are taught and learned in CLIL classrooms and exploring the role of content and language teachers in achieving an integrated syllabus The second part takes specific cases and experimental studies conducted at different educational levels and analyses them in the light of theoretical considerations
