Lenses on Reading, Third Edition Diane H. Tracey, Lesley Mandel Morrow, 2017-05-23 Widely adopted as an ideal introduction to the major models of reading this text guides students to understand and facilitate children's literacy development. Coverage encompasses the full range of theories that have informed reading instruction and research from classical thinking to cutting edge cognitive social learning physiological and affective perspectives. Readers learn how theory shapes instructional decision making and how to critically evaluate the assumptions and beliefs that underlie their own teaching. Pedagogical features include framing and discussion questions, learning activities, teacher anecdotes, classroom applications, and examples of research studies grounded in each approach. New to This Edition: Chapter on physiological foundations of reading development including the impact of nutrition, sleep, and exercise; Chapter on affective/emotional perspectives such as the role of engagement and teacher-student relationships; Additional social learning perspectives; Critical Race Theory and Multiliteracies Theory. All chapters updated with the latest research; many new teacher anecdotes added.

Peace Education and Religion: Perspectives, Pedagogy, Policies Marcia Hermansen, Ednan Aslan, Evrim Erşan Akkılıç, 2022-10-02 Whether formally incorporated into curriculum and teacher training or informally integrated in contexts such as state or NGO initiatives dealing with resolving social, ethnic, and religious conflicts, peace education is increasingly recognized as a critical component in addressing violence in contemporary plural societies. Peace education can constructively undertake a reframing of historical narratives while inspiring practical community activities. An important but insufficiently studied and theorized aspect of peace education is the role of religion. The challenge to peace education in today's globalized, diverse, mobile, and religiously pluralistic world is to be able to take both complex global and distinctive local situations into account. The contributions to this integrative collection of essays provide exactly these local and global perspectives on the state of peace education and its relationship to religion across pedagogy and curriculum, state policies, and activism within societies on the front lines of resolving internal conflicts, whether historical or recent, that often reflect aspects of religious identities.
