Murphy Station David Donovan, 2010 In the southern Georgia of 1950 Murphy Station is a community marked only by two country stores two Baptist churches and a graveyard Farming is the way of life and segregation is in full force Welcome to Deep Dixie David Donovan is a young white boy growing up in Murphy Station where even the best farmers are cash poor and those who work for them usually blacks are poorer still In adult conversation the main topics are weather crops and politics Within the last category it s agreed that the main threats facing America are two communism and integration So far as young Dave knows this isn t unusual but already there are changes afoot In this richly detailed memoir laced with both humor and tragedy we see how those changes affect Dave in subtle but ultimately profound ways Coming of age in a world with the axiom no boy a chicken no man a coward Dave has the sorts of boyhood adventures common to the rural South exploits with firearms encounters with angry animals challenges from friends and a growing interest in girls As he has these adventures he also works in the field alongside black farmhands some of whom teach him vital lessons about the realities of their lives lessons that begin to challenge the prejudices and preconceptions of his time and place By the late 1950s the civil rights movement has become a major force in the South yet as David enters high school in 1960 the customs of segregation still hold sway persisting even when he leaves for college In his first year away from home he witnesses the national trauma of the Kennedy assassination which blunts the promises of Camelot In Vietnam a few years later he sees those promises collapse entirely Returning in 1970 to a Murphy Station much changed from what it was twenty years earlier David Donovan finds himself transformed as well Book Jacket
