MANSION,1870      Differences in Common Joana Sabadell-Nieto,Marta Segarra,2014-05-10 Differences in Common engages in the ongoing debate on community focusing on its philosophical and political aspects through a gendered perspective It explores the subversive and enriching potential of the concept of community as seen from the perspective of heterogeneity and distance and not from homogeneity and fused adhesions This theoretical reflection is in most of the essays included here based on the analysis of literary and filmic texts which due to their irreducible singularity teach us to think without being tied or needing to resort to commonplaces Philosophers such as Arendt Blanchot Foucault Agamben or Derrida have made seminal reflections on community often inspired by contemporary historical events and sometimes questioning the term itself More recently thinkers like Judith Butler Gayatri Spivak or Rada Ivekovic included in this volume are essays by all three have emphasized the gender bias in the debate also problematizing the notion of community Most of the essays gathered in Differences in Common conceive community not as the affirmation of several properties which would unite us to other similar individuals but as the expropriation of ourselves Esposito in an intimate diaspora Community does not fill the gap between subjects but places itself in this gap or void This conception stresses the subject's vulnerability a topic which is also central to this volume The body of community is thus opened by a wound Cixous which exposes us to the contagion of otherness The essays collected here reflect on different topics related to these issues such as gender and nation nationalism internationalism transnationalism nationalism's naturalization of citizenship and the exclusion of women from citizenship the violent consequences of a gendered nation on women's bodies gendering community preservation of difference's within the community bodily vulnerability and new politics community and mourning community and the politics of memory fiction historical truth and fake documentary love relationality and community interpretive communities and virtual communities on the Web among others Joana Sabadell Nieto is Professor of Contemporary Spanish Literature Gender and Feminist Studies at Hamilton College USA and Researcher at the Center for Women and Literature at the University of Barcelona Marta Segarra is Professor of French and Francophone literature and Gender Studies at the University of Barcelona Spain Director of the UNESCO Chair Women Development and Cultures and co founder and director of the Center for Women and Literature 2003 2012      Functional Approaches to Culture and Translation Dirk Delabastita,Lieven D[un]hulst,Reine Meylaerts,2006-10-31 This volume contains a generous selection of articles on translation by Professor Jos Lambert K U Leuven It traces the intellectual itinerary of their author who started out as a French and Comparative Literature scholar some four decades ago trying to get a better grip on the problem of inter literary contacts and who soon became a key figure in the emergent discipline of Translation Studies where he is widely known as an indefatigable promoter of descriptively oriented research This collection shows how Jos Lambert has never stopped asking new questions about the crucial but often hidden role of language and translation in the world of today It includes some of the author's classic papers as well as a few lesser known ones that deserve wider circulation The editors introduction and the bibliography complete this thought provoking survey of the career of one of the most creative researchers in the field Geophysik I / Geophysics I, 2012-12-06 Nonlinear Internal Waves in Lakes Kolumban Hutter, 2011-11-25 Internal wave dynamics in lakes and oceans is an important physical component of geophysical fluid mechanics of quiescent water bodies of the Globe The formation of internal waves requires seasonal stratification of the water bodies and generation by primarily wind forces Because they propagate in basins of variable depth a generated wave field often experiences transformation from large basin wide scales to smaller scales As long as this fission is hydrodynamically stable nothing dramatic will happen However if vertical density gradients and shearing of the horizontal currents in the metalimnion combine to a Richardson number sufficiently small Translation Title List and Cross Reference Guide U.S. Atomic Energy Commission, 1963 Reflexive Translation Studies Silvia Kadiu, 2019-04-08 In the past decades translation studies have increasingly focused on the ethical dimension of translational activity with an emphasis on reflexivity to assert the role of the researcher in highlighting issues of visibility creativity and ethics In Reflexive Translation Studies Silvia Kadiu investigates the viability of theories that seek to empower translation by making visible its transformative dimension for example by championing the visibility of the translating subject the translator's right to creativity the supremacy of human translation or an autonomous study of translation Inspired by Derrida's deconstructive thinking Kadiu presents practical ways of challenging theories that argue reflexivity is the only way of developing an ethical translation She questions the capacity of reflexivity to counteract the power relations at play in translation between minor and dominant languages for example and problematises affirmative claims about self knowledge by using translation itself as a process of critical reflection In exploring the interaction between form and content Reflexive Translation Studies promotes the need for an experimental multi sensory and intuitive practice which invites students scholars and practitioners alike to engage with theory productively and creatively through translation Genie Civil, 1883 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Philosophy J Piers Rawling, Philip Wilson, 2018-10-10 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Philosophy presents the first comprehensive state of the art overview of the complex relationship between the field of translation studies and the study of philosophy The book is divided into four sections covering discussions of canonical philosophers central themes in translation studies from a philosophical perspective case studies of how philosophy has been translated and illustrations of new developments With twenty nine chapters written by international specialists in translation studies and philosophy it represents a major survey of two fields that have only recently begun to enter into dialogue The Routledge Handbook of Translation and Philosophy is a pioneering resource for students and scholars in translation studies and philosophy alike

Strato of Lampsacus William Fortenbaugh, 2017-09-29 Volume 16 of Transaction's acclaimed Rutgers University Studies in Classical Humanities series continues the work of Project Theophrastus on the School of Aristotle The subject of this volume is Strato of Lampsacus in Mysia on the Hellespont Strato was the third head of the Peripatetic School after Aristotle and Theophrastus He succeeded the latter in c 286 BCE and was in turn succeeded by Lyco of Troas in c 268 Diogenes

Laertius describes Strato as a distinguished person who became known as the physicist because more than anyone else he devoted himself to the careful study of nature. Strato's concern with the physical world is well attested by the titles of his books: On the Void, On the Heaven, and On the Wind. His other books point to a keen interest in human physiology, animal life, and diseases. But it would be a mistake to think that Strato was uninterested in other areas of philosophic concern. Indeed, he wrote works on logic, first principles, theology, politics, and ethics. None of this work survives intact, but the reports that have come down to us reveal much of present-day interest. Included is a new and complete edition of the ancient sources together with a critical apparatus to the ancient texts, an English translation, and notes to the translation. Collegium, 1916.
