Hiroshima in History and Memory Michael J. Hogan, 1996-03-29 In this timely collection of essays prominent historians survey the Hiroshima story from the American decision to drop the first atomic bomb to the recent controversy over the Enola Gay exhibit in Washington D C The first essay surveys the literature on the atomic bombing of Japan while the second and third essays evaluate the decisions that led to that event The remaining essays discuss how the Japanese and American people have remembered Hiroshima in the years since the end of World War II They emphasize the construction of an official memory of Hiroshima the challenge posed by alternative or counter memories and the tension between history and memory in the Hiroshima story The collection thus unites up to date scholarship by diplomatic historians with the recent interest in memory that has emerged as part of the new cultural history

Instrumentalizing the Past Jan Rydel, Stefan Troebst, 2022-09-20 In today's world we can point to many international disputes and interstate conflicts fueled by past events. Historical resentments or memories of past suffering or fame are often used to justify political, economic, and even territorial demands. Interstate disputes and historical conflicts should be understood as evidence of political and social tensions related to active serious differences in the assessment of the common past. The book explains the role of such conflicts in international relations and suggests ways of classifying them. It presents examples of the internationally relevant instrumentalisation of history from different regions of the world and outlines ways of overcoming them.

History, Memory and Public Life Anna Maerker, Simon Sleight, Adam Sutcliffe, 2018-07-06 History, Memory and Public Life introduces readers to key themes in the study of historical memory and its significance by considering the role of historical expertise and understanding in contemporary public reflection on the past. Divided into two parts, the book addresses both the theoretical and applied aspects of historical memory studies. Approaches to history and memory introduces key methodological and theoretical issues within the field, such as postcolonialism, sites of memory, myths of national origins, and questions raised by memorialisation and museum presentation. Difficult Pasts looks at history and memory in practice through a range of case studies on contested, complex, or traumatic memories, including the Northern Ireland Troubles, post-apartheid South Africa, and the Holocaust. Examining the intersection between history and memory from a wide range of perspectives and supported by guidance on further reading and online resources, this book is ideal for students of history as well as those working within the broad interdisciplinary field of memory studies.

Memory, History, Nation Susannah Radstone, 2017-09-04 In the last decade, a focus on memory in the human sciences has encouraged new approaches to the study of the past. As the humanities and social sciences have put into question their own claims to objectivity, authority, and universality, memory has appeared to offer a way of engaging with knowledge of the past as inevitably partial, subjective, and local. At the same time, memory and memorial practices have become sites of contestation, and the politics of memory are increasingly prominent. This interdisciplinary volume demonstrates from a range of perspectives the complex cultural work and struggles over meaning that lie at the heart of what we call memory. The chapters in this volume offer a complex awareness of the workings of memory and the ways in which different or changing histories may be explained. They explore the relation between individual and social memory, between real and imaginary event and fantasy, history and myth. Contradictory accounts or memories in direct contradiction to the historical record are not always the sign of a repressive authority attempting to cover something up. The tension between memory as a safeguard against attempts to silence dissenting voices and memory's own implication in that silencing runs throughout the book. Topics covered range from the Basque country to Cambodia, from Hungary to South Africa, from the Finnish Civil War to the cult Jim Jarmusch movie Dead Man, from the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame to Australia.

Part I Transforming Memory is concerned primarily with the social and personal transmission of memory across time and generations Part II Remembering Suffering Trauma and History brings the after effects of catastrophe to the fore Part III Patterning the National Past the relation between nation and memory is the central issue Part IV And Then Silence reflects on the complex and multiple meaning of silence and oblivion wherein amnesia is often used as a figure for the denial of shamefu
