Weiss, 1995 Resource added for the Landscape Horticulture Technician program 100014 Paul Delaroche Patricia Smyth, 2022-06-15 Paul Delaroche Painting and Popular Spectacle explores the connections between painting and an emergent popular visual culture in the early nineteenth century which included new forms of optical entertainment such as Panoramas and Dioramas and innovation in fields such as illustration art reproduction and stage decor Delaroche s paintings caused a sensation at the Paris Salon with critics comparing the emotional response they elicited to that of popular melodrama Yet his appeal to a certain type of spectator lay behind the increasingly hostile criticism to which his works were subjected and has in our own time led to his uncertain status in the art historical canon This book focuses on Delaroche s popularity with a newly expanded audience Lacking in specialist knowledge but nevertheless keen to engage with and deeply affected by art the behaviour of this new public prompted lively discussions about who has the right to judge art and on what grounds Working across disciplinary boundaries this book proposes a new reading both of Delaroche and of the connections between the arts in this period The artist emerges as a figure at the cutting edge of an emergent trans medial popular visual culture in which we see the formation of modern spectatorship

Representations of Pain in Art and Visual Culture Maria Pia Di Bella, James Elkins, 2013-06-26 The presentation of bodies in pain has been a major concern in Western art since the time of the Greeks The Christian tradition is closely entwined with such themes from the central images of the Passion to the representations of bloody martyrdoms The remnants of this tradition are evident in contemporary images from Abu Ghraib In the last forty years the body in pain has also emerged as a recurring theme in performance art Recently authors such as Elaine Scarry Susan Sontag and Giorgio Agamben have written about these themes The scholars in this volume add to the discussion analyzing representations of pain in art and the media Their essays are firmly anchored on consideration of the images not on whatever actual pain the subjects suffered At issue is representation before and often apart from events in the world Part One concerns practices in which the appearance of pain is understood as expressive Topics discussed include the strange dynamics of faked pain and real pain contemporary performance art international photojournalism surrealism and Renaissance and Baroque art Part Two concerns representations that cannot be readily assigned to that genealogy the Chinese form of execution known as lingchi popularly the death of a thousand cuts whippings in the Belgian Congo American lynching photographs Boer War concentration camp photographs and recent American capital punishment These examples do not comprise a single alternate genealogy but are united by the absence of an intention to represent pain The book concludes with a roundtable discussion where the authors discuss the ethical implications of viewing such images explores ideas about human physical appearance expressed in French novels of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries as well as the pseudoscience of physiognomy that influenced them. Physiognomy, which purports to read the body as an index to spiritual, intellectual or moral qualities, had its greatest proponent in the eighteenth-century Swiss theoretician Johann Caspar Lavater. In addition to closely reading the fictional narratives of Marivaux, Balzac, Gautier and Zola, the author offers a critical reading of Lavater's work. He looks at some of the most compelling and explicit literary treatments of physiognomy in the French canon, suggesting that the ways authors use physiognomical ideas to render the world hyper-significant poses fundamental questions about the nature of narrative itself. He also shows how physiognomy serves almost invariably as a tool of sexism as it attempts to ascribe intellectual or moral qualities on the basis of corporal features. Linked by more than their physiognomical themes, these novels share similar dynamics of reading rhetoric and representation.

The Elemental Passion for Place in the Ontopoiesis of Life Anna-Teresa Tymieniecka, 2013-04-18. Continuing the pioneering work in the field laid bare by the uncovering of the Creative Condition of the human being in literature and fine arts, the elemental passion for place leads us through the creative imagination into the labyrinths of the onto-poiesis of life itself. Tymieniecka, in her inaugural study Essays, by A. T. Tymieniecka, Mary Catanzaro, W. Smith, Jadwiga Smith, L. Dunton, Downer, Jorge Garc a, Gomez Ch. Eykmann, Marlies Kronegger, Eldon N. van Lier, Hans Rudnik, makes this collection a unique contribution to literary studies as well as to the metaphysics of life and of the human condition.

Qu'est-ce que la personne? Stamatios Tzitzis, 2014-04-01. Dans l'Antiquit  la personne se pr sente comme la transparence de l'existence. En l'absence de la densit  ontologique que lui attribue le christianisme, elle ne signifie rien d'autre qu'un masque. Pour les Anciens, l'amorce de l'autonomie de la personne ne se perd pas encore. Il appartiendra alors   la modernit  d'isoler la personne de l'etre et de confirmer son autonomie jusqu'  lui conf rer sa libert  definitive. On glisse ainsi d'une philosophie de l'etre vers une philosophie de l'homme. Tout en tant centr e sur la ph nom nologie de l'existence, la modernit  associera   la personne une vision polysémique. En d'autres termes, selon les id ologies et les doctrines philosophiques en pr sence, la personne se voit alourdir de significations contradictoires entre elles. Puis survient la R volution fran aise qui s'engage dans un virage d'bouchant sur une conception pr renn e de la personne dont nous sommes aujourd'hui les h ritiers. Partant, la personne se fait pr sente, porteur de droits subjectifs, de droits de l'homme, affirm e comme inh rente   sa nature. L'existentialisme postmoderne s'efforcera en l'ennoblissant d' lever la personne   un niveau transcendant de son existence par le d voilement du pouvoir cr ateur de l'homme et de sa capacit  de g n rosit . Ainsi, la personne donne corps   un id al du monde sans laquelle l'histoire et la culture ne sauraient exister.

Stamatios Tzitzis, juriste, philosophe, est directeur de recherche au CNRS. Il est g alement le directeur de la section de Philosophie P n ale de l'Institut Michel Villey. Language, Memory, and Identity in the Middle East Franck Salameh, 2010-04-12 Since the West's very early flirtations with the modern Near East and especially in the past 100 years of East West relations there has been considerable difficulty in understanding and defining the Middle East the Arab world pan Arabism Arab nationalism and Middle Eastern identities in general The Western impulse of conflating national identity with language state and ethnicity often subsuming Arabic language into Arab ethnicity has contributed to this misunderstanding and misreading of the region For while the Middle East can be accurately referred to by way of the generic Arab world label the appellation itself is a misleading oversimplification that conceals an inherent diversity and multiplicity of Middle Eastern cultures ethnicities languages and nationalities And while there is certainly a dominant Arab ethnos there are also significant numbers of Middle Eastern peoples and nationalities with historical memories and ethno cultural bonds that challenge the dominant Arabist paradigm Language Memory and Identity in the Middle East proposes a new reading of modern Middle Eastern history and suggests alternate solutions to the region's problems The book is an attempt to rehabilitate and bring back to the fore of Middle East Studies the issue of language as a key factor in shaping and misshaping the region with the hope of rediscovering a broader more honest and less ideologically tainted discussion on the Middle East Language Memory and Identity in the Middle East has a special focus on Lebanon a Christian homeland because Lebanon has traditionally acted as the region's template for change and a barometer gauging its problems and charting its progress

Faces Hans Belting, 2017-02-23 L'homme n'est nulle part aussi présent que dans son visage C'est pourquoi l'humanité s'est toujours efforcée d'encoder le mystère et de le fixer en image La grande histoire du visage qu'entreprend ici Hans Belting la première du genre est un voyage travers l'histoire de la civilisation européenne Cette histoire montre la course perdue des images leurs tentatives sans cesse renouvelées pour capturer le visage animé et leur chech permanent le saisir comme Moi humain. Lorsque l'homme paraît sur un tableau, c'est toujours le visage qui en occupe le centre. En même temps, ce visage dans son caractère vivant se défend toutes les tentatives de le fixer en image. La vie pousse sans cesse forger des images nouvelles, mais elle se soustrait toute norme de représentation. L'art européen du portrait des Temps modernes n'a pour l'essentiel réussi qu'à engendrer des masques. Et même quand le cinéma projette le visage l'écran dans une intimité sans pareille, il ne peut remplir la tâche qu'il s'est assignée de porter enfin l'être humain, l'image dans sa réalité. Tout travail sur le visage est un travail sur l'image et par conséquent sur le masque. Telle est la tension dont ce livre explore le secret. Dans les masques de théâtre, les mimiques des acteurs, dans la peinture de portrait, la photographie, dans les films, dans l'art contemporain, Hans Belting exhume les diverses recherches qui ont visé en vain se rendre maître du visage. Étrange visage, Rémi Carriel, Musée Magnin, 2012. Catalogue de l'exposition organisée par la réunion des musées nationaux, Grand Palais Paris et par le musée national Magnin Dijon. P. 5.

Le métissage dans la littérature des Antilles françaises, Maignan-Claverie Chantal, 2005-11-01. Après avoir rassemblé les diverses composantes d'une archéologie du métissage, cette étude met en relief les différentes représentations de l'homme de couleur du XIX^e siècle. La littérature des Antilles est en effet d'une origine travaillée par un discours du métissage qui se modifie en fonction du groupe sociologique auquel appartiennent les auteurs. De même, les représentations littéraires du métis varient en fonction du jugement positif ou négatif porté sur le métissage.
