Peters, 2025-08-26 A fascinating real time ethnography of the building of a unique musical instrument with both mechanical and electronic components Electronic Baroque tells the story of how a baroque pipe organ with both a mechanical and an electronic interface was built The book also explores how in musical practices the new comes into being In 2013 the Orgelpark in Amsterdam a concert venue dedicated to organists who want to give their instrument a new role in musical life embarked on a project to make a unique instrument This new baroque organ project combined principles and practices from historically informed organ building with the design and application of new computer hardware and software Drawing on hermeneutic pragmatist and post actor network theoretical approaches to history and music Peter Peters describes and analyzes how the dual design of the organ facing both past and present reiterates the long history of these instruments

Tuning the Antipodes: Battles for performing pitch in Melbourne Simon Purtell, 2016-12-01 Examining the many controversies associated with pitch standards in Melbourne over more than a hundred years Simon Purtell discovers their impact on the tuning of the city's orchestras and organs as well as its defence municipal and Salvation Army bands This fascinating history involves famous local and touring singers conductors and organists including Nellie Melba Malcolm Sargent and William McKie revealing just how complex a problem it was to ensure that Melbourne's music makers remained in tune Harry Potter and the Cursed Child has nothing on the saga of Pitch pitch that cursed pitch the seemingly endless and frequently caustic attempts to establish a uniform performing pitch for music in the Antipodes It is a typically Melburnian drama of mixed deference to Britain and stubborn upholding of local interests that the author so eloquently and patiently chronicles and it ranges from the almost theocratic intervention of Dame Nellie Melba at the beginning of the twentieth century to the Stanthorpe Apple and Grape Harvest Festival of 1972 At the same time it will have been a battle taking place comparably in all the major cities of the British Empire and beyond though each with its peculiar twists and turns What Simon Purtell has done is show us in immaculate detail just how pervasive and intricate not to mention costly this tectonic realignment of a fundamental element of musical infrastructure must have been in all places over a very long period of time Emeritus Professor Stephen Banfield Centre for the History of Music in Britain the Empire and the Commonwealth University of Bristol
