Romanticism Larry H. Peer, 2018-04-18 Romanticism is an intuitive grasp of the self and the other in an interdependent imperative non systematic transcendent radically individuated and endlessly interconnective The set of norms Romanticism represents and broadcasts therefore lends itself particularly well to interdisciplinary and cross linguistic study essentially demanding a view coming from and constructed out of more than one discourse field These norms radically transgress not only the cultural and literary inheritance of thinkers and artists beginning in the late eighteenth century but do so in a transnational and comparative way unique in Western history This collection of essays bringing together established scholars and newer academic voices offers fresh perspectives on what Romanticism thought itself to be by suggesting spaces in Romanticism studies needing negotiation and elaboration Presenting a protocol that escapes the circular referentiality of Romanticism studies typically limited to one academic discipline or one language area this volume works through topics and ideas including Hegelian reflections lyric poetry stage drama music political implications and even vampires outlaws and zombies

Silverthorne, 2018-10-18 Opening with an account of print portraiture facilitating Franz Liszt's celebrity status and concluding with Riot Grrrl's noisy politics of feminism and performance this interdisciplinary anthology charts the relationship between music and the visual arts from late Romanticism and the birth of modernism to postmodernism while crossing from Western art to the Middle East Focused on music as a central experience of art and life these essays scrutinize the musicalisation of art focusing on the visual and performing arts and detailing significant instances of intra art relations between c 1840 and the present day Essays reflect on the aesthetic relationships of music to painting performance and installation sound and silence time and space The insistent influence of Wagner is considered as well as the work and ideas of Manet Satie and Cage Thomas Wilfred La Monte Young and Eliasson What distinguishes these studies are the convictions that music is never alone and that a full understanding of the isms of the last two hundred years is best achieved when music's influential presence in the visual arts is acknowledged and interrogated
