complete history of US industry's most influential and controversial lobbyist. Founded in 1895, the National Association of Manufacturers (NAM) helped make manufacturing the basis of the US economy and a major source of jobs in the twentieth century. The Industrialists traces the history of the advocacy group from its origins to today, examining its role in shaping modern capitalism while also highlighting the many tensions and contradictions within the organization that sometimes hampered its mission. In this compelling book, Jennifer Delton argues that NAM, an organization best known for fighting unions, promoting free enterprise, and defending corporate interests, was also surprisingly progressive. She shows how it encouraged companies to adopt innovations such as safety standards, workers' comp, and affirmative action, and worked with the US government and international organizations to promote the free exchange of goods and services across national borders. While NAM's modernizing and globalizing activities helped to make American industry the most profitable and productive in the world by midcentury, they also eventually led to deindustrialization, plant closings, and the decline of manufacturing jobs. Taking readers from the Progressive Era and the New Deal to the Reagan Revolution and the Trump presidency, The Industrialists is the story of a powerful organization that fought US manufacturing's political battles, created its economic infrastructure, and expanded its global markets only to contribute to the widespread collapse of US manufacturing by the close of the twentieth century.

Free Market Missionaries Sharon Beder, 2012-06-25. In her recent book Suited to Themselves, bestselling author Sharon Beder exposed how the global corporate elite have brazenly rewritten the rules of the global economy to line their pockets. In this new book, she turns her sights on the insidious underbelly of this global trend to show how they have also orchestrated a mass propaganda campaign to manipulate community values and convince us that their interest in optimizing and controlling all of us in the name of the free market is in our interest. During the 20th century, business associations coordinated mass propaganda campaigns combining 20th-century American PR methods with revitalized free market ideology from 18th-century Europe. The aim was to persuade people to eschew their own power as workers and citizens and forego their democratic power to restrain and regulate business activity. Sophisticated corporate-funded think tanks augmented these campaigns in the 1970s and 1980s, promoting free enterprise and business-friendly policies. These free market missionaries now seek to change individual and institutional values through bolder strategies such as expanding share ownership and manipulating wider public concerns. In each case, the goal is the same: the triumph of business values over community values. Beder's is an intellectual call to arms to challenge the ideology of
