But what do novels give us when our own lives diverge from the usual narrative paths? Christina is a professor used to examining stories with a critical eye until one day in middle age she finds herself falling in love and leaving her marriage for a romance with another woman. A heady mix of memoir criticism and storytelling that draws on novels ranging from Pride and Prejudice to Price of Salt, Anna Karenina to Conversations with Friends to illuminate the ways love and novels work and show how some types of love which don't race to a narrative end point might be the most important of all.

Fictions of Female Adultery 1684-1890 B. Overton, 2002-09-06

Women's adultery provides many of the plots that run through nineteenth century European fiction. This book discusses how novels of adultery have been theorized, argues its own theoretical perspective and analyzes two circumtexts of the fiction of female adultery: its pre history in eighteenth century Britain and its decline during the Naturalist period in France. It is the first dedicated study of the theory of the novel of adultery and of the representation of adultery in earlier British and later nineteenth century French fiction.
