Blood Cold Dennis McDougal, Mary Murphy, 2015-02-17. The riveting true account of the 2001 murder of Bonny Lee Bakley, starring Robert Blake, the Hollywood icon accused of killing his wife in cold blood. In May 2001, Bonny Lee Bakley was shot to death in a car parked on a dark Hollywood side street. Eleven months later, Robert Blake, her husband, the father of her child, and the star of the classic film In Cold Blood and the popular 1970s TV detective series Baretta, was arrested for murder, conspiracy, and solicitation. Did Blake kill his wife? Did he hire someone to do the job for him? Award-winning journalist Dennis McDougal and entertainment media expert Mary Murphy recount a real-life crime story more shocking and bizarre than any movie, chronicling the parallel worlds of Blake and Bakley from their troubled youths to their sham of a marriage. By the late 1990s, Blake was coasting on his past success. Bakley was a con artist who concocted online sex scams and victimized unsuspecting men, netting big money and dangerous enemies. In true noir style, McDougal and Murphy lay bare the stories of two violent people whose lives collided in a tragic tangle of abuse, betrayal, and love gone horribly wrong.

Affect Poetics of the New Hollywood Hauke Lehmann, 2019-12-02. How is affective experience produced in the cinema? And how can we write a history of this experience? By asking these questions, this study by Hauke Lehmann aims at rethinking our conception of a critical period in US film history: the New Hollywood as a moment of crisis that can neither be reduced to economic processes of adaptation nor to a collection of masterpieces. Rather, the fine-grained analysis of core films reveals the power of cinematic images to affect their audiences, to confront them with the new. The films of the New Hollywood redefine the divisions of the classical genre system in a radical way and thereby transform the way spectators are addressed affectively in the cinema. The study describes a complex interplay between three modes of affectivity: suspense, paranoia, and melancholy. All three, each in their own way, implicate spectators in the deep-seated contradictions of their own feelings and their ways of being in the world, their relations to history, to society, and to cultural fantasy. On this basis, Affect Poetics of the New Hollywood projects an original conception of film history as an affective history which can be re-written up to the present day.

The Limits of Auteurism Nicholas Godfrey, 2018-05-10 The New Hollywood era of the late 1960s and early 1970s has become one of the most romanticized periods in motion picture history celebrated for its stylistic boldness thematic complexity and the unshackling of directorial ambition The Limits of Auteurism aims to challenge many of these assumptions Beginning with the commercial success of Easy Rider in 1969 and ending two years later with the critical and commercial failure of that film's twin progeny The Last Movie and The Hire Hand Nicholas Godfrey surveys a key moment that defined the subsequent aesthetic parameters of American commercial art cinema The book explores the role that contemporary critics played in determining how the movies of this period were understood and how in turn strategies of distribution influenced critical responses and dictated the conditions of entry into the rapidly codifying New Hollywood canon Focusing on a small number of industrially significant films this new history advances our understanding of this important moment of transition from Classical to contemporary modes of production
