Hospice Movement:

Cicely Saunders - Founder of the Hospice Movement David Clark, 2002-09-19 Cicely Saunders is universally acclaimed as a pioneer of modern hospice care. Trained initially in nursing and social work, she qualified in medicine in 1958 and subsequently dedicated the whole of her professional life to improving the care of the dying and bereaved people. Founding St Christopher's Hospice in London in 1967, she encouraged a radical new approach to end of life care, combining attention to physical, social, emotional, and spiritual problems, brilliantly captured in her concept of total pain. Her ideas about clinical care, education, and research have been hugely influential, leading to numerous prizes and awards in recognition of her humanitarian achievements. In this book, the sociologist and historian David Clark presents a selection of her vast correspondence together with his own commentary. The letters of Cicely Saunders tell a remarkable story of vision, determination, and creativity. They should be read by anyone interested in how we die in the modern world. The Hospice Movement Sandol Stoddard, 1978 A bold departure, Stoddard's first non-fiction work, The Hospice Movement grew from her efforts to support a dying neighbor into an essential how-to book that helped to popularize hospice care in the United States. Her research was both academic and experiential; in the course of her extensive inquiry into the history and philosophy of hospice care, the author worked as a volunteer with Dr. Cicely Saunders in her London hospice. In the end, this landmark book changed the lives of millions of American families, announcing the possibility of an alternative to Western medicine's assumption that death represented failure. The book and its author subsequently received national recognition from the New York Times and the Washington Post, as well as a lifetime achievement award from the National Hospice Association. The Hospice Movement Cathy Siebold, 1992 What had been intended as a full-fledged alternative to a system of care that seemed best suited to the interests of physicians and hospital staff, not the terminally ill, has for the most part been reduced to a mere extension of that system. Cathy Siebold, a social worker and psychotherapist who has witnessed firsthand the evolution of hospice care since its modern incarnation in the 1960s, presents a balanced and objective analysis of the movement's accomplishments and failings in The Hospice Movement: Easing Death's Pains. Using social movement theory to frame her discussion, Siebold traces the bell curve of growth, maturity, and decline that to a point has characterized the hospice movement. Changing the Way We Die Fran Smith, Sheila Himmel, 2013-11-19 There's a quiet revolution happening in the way we die. More than 1.5 million Americans a year die in hospice care; nearly 44 percent of all deaths, and a vast industry has sprung up to meet the growing demand. Once viewed as a New Age indulgence, hospice is now a 14 billion business and one of the most successful segments in health care. Changing the Way We Die, by award-winning journalists Fran Smith and Sheila Himmel, is the first book to take a broad, penetrating look at the hospice landscape through gripping stories of real patients, families, and doctors, as well as the corporate giants that increasingly own the market. Changing the Way We Die is a vital resource for anyone who wants to be prepared to face life's most challenging and universal event. You will learn Hospice use is soaring yet most people come too late to get the full benefits With the age tsunami it becomes even more critical for families and patients to choose end of life care wisely Hospice at its best is much more than a way to relieve the suffering of dying It is a way to live Hospice Care and Culture Teresa Chikako Maruyama, 2018-12-21 First published in 1999 Maruyama explores some significant difficulties and differences in bringing the western hospice philosophy to the Japanese medical culture Whilst not giving any definite answers this study determines what some of the critical questions that need to be considered into Japanese medicine as Maruyama argues without defining these questions to begin with we cannot find appropriate solutions The Hospice Movement Cathy Siebold, 1992 What had been intended as a full fledged alternative to a system of care that seemed best suited to the interests of physicians and hospital staff not the terminally ill has for the most part been reduced to a mere extension of that system Cathy Siebold a social worker and psychotherapist who has witnessed firsthand the evolution of hospice care since its modern incarnation in the 1960s presents a balanced and objective analysis of the movement's accomplishments and failings in The Hospice Movement Easing Death's Pains Using social movement theory to frame her discussion Siebold traces the bell curve of growth maturity and decline that to a point has characterized the hospice movement Hospice and Palliative Care Stephen R. Connor, 2017-07-06 The third edition of Hospice and Palliative Care is the essential guide to the hospice and palliative care movement both within the United States and around the world Chapters provide mental health and medical professionals with a comprehensive overview of the hospice practice as well as discussions of challenges and the future direction of the hospice movement Updates to the new edition include advances in spiritual assessment and care treatment of prolonged and complicated grief provision of interdisciplinary palliative care in limited resource settings significant discussion of assisted suicide primary healthcare including oncology and more Staff and volunteers new to the field along with experienced care providers and those using hospice and palliative care services will find this essential reading Hospice Care on the International Scene Dame Cicely M. Saunders, 1997 This volume explores how hospice care has been taking root throughout much of the world and illustrates how people are finding ways to shape hospice care to the particular needs and resources of their countries and communities The book begins with a hospice mission statement by Dame Cicely Saunders and is followed by an overview of the international hospice movement by Dr Jan Stemsward of the World Health Organization Included are reports from pioneering hospice programs in the Middle East in tropical Africa and Croatia Life in a Hospice Ann Richardson, 2016-07-06 Highly Commended BMA Medical Book Awards 2008 This book is about hospices seen through the eyes of the people who work in them Their individual voices perspectives and stories invite readers into the day to day complexities of hospice life There is growing public and professional attention to end of life care and the way dying patients and their families are treated How can hospices make the process dignified and peaceful as possible What sort of people dedicate their careers to helping the dying What difficulties are they up against in providing this care and what makes it all worthwhile This inspirational book provides vivid real life accounts of hospice life from managers doctors nurses carers and support staff The thought provoking narratives provide vital insights into the type of work undertaken in a hospice setting They examine the differences between hospice and hospital care and explore the challenges personal motivations and the many ways hospices strive to meet the needs of patients and their families with sensitivity and respect Life in a Hospice is enlightening reading for all healthcare professionals in palliative care including volunteer administrative and support staff It is also highly recommended for nurses and others in caring roles considering a move into hospice work Therapists counsellors and religious leaders will discover poignant and encouraging insights and people with a family member approaching the end of life will find the book reassuring and informative     Hospice Parker Rossman,1977     Dying Well Julia Neuberger,2004 This book explores the Care Trust concept promoted by central government for improving partnership working between health and social care Using case studies and examples to raise current issues related to partnership working it explains how Care Trusts are bridging the gap between health and social care and considers how they are delivering more co ordinated services and improved outcomes All healthcare and social care professionals with responsibility for involved in or affected by the new partnership working arrangements will find this book useful reading     Hospice Stephen R. Connor,1998 Written as an introduction for professionals this book gives the reader an overall grasp of how hospice care is practised the challenges hospices currently face and the direction the movement is taking The author claims that in spite of expansion people are not aware of the work of hospices     The Production of Hospice Space Sarah McGann,2016-03-03 Challenging the widely held notion of a hospice as a building or a place this book argues that it should instead be a philosophy of care It proposes that the positive and negative impact that space can have in the pursuit of an ideal such as hospice care has previously been underestimated Whether it be a purpose built hospice part of a hospital a nursing home or within the home a hospice is anchored by space and spatial practices and these spatial practices are critical for a holistic approach to dying with dignity Such spatial practices are understood as part of a broad architectural social conceptual and theoretical process By linking health social and architectural theory and establishing conceptual principles this book defines hospice as a philosophy that is underpinned by space and spatial practice In putting forward the notion of hospice space removed from the bounds of a specific building type it suggests that hospice philosophy could and should be available within any setting of choice where the spatial practices support that philosophy be it home nursing home hospice or hospice friendly hospitals     Innovations in Hospice Architecture Stephen Verderber,Ben J. Refuerzo,2019-11-25 This fully revised new edition of Innovations in Hospice Architecture responds to the need for an up to date theoretically based reference book summarizing key historical and recent developments with respect to this rapidly evolving building type This Second Edition presents an overview of the historical origins of the contemporary hospice the diverse variations on the basic premise of hospice care a review of the scant architectural literature published on this subject to date a broad series of case studies of exemplary hospices around the world planning and design concepts for palliative care environments Case study projects are from Japan Canada Europe Africa Australia Indonesia China the United States and South America Thirty six case studies are individually presented and comparatively analysed and prognostications for the future of hospice architecture are examined Each case includes floor plans technical drawings and beautiful full colour illustrations Through an in depth discussion of the inner profundities of hospice architecture the book presents this type as a humane genuine expression of the spiritual physical and psychosocial dimensions of the contemporary death and dying movement Written with a broad audience in mind the book provides both technical and conceptual information blending narrative images and diagrammation so that the audience may understand and articulate the complexities of this specialized building type in professional practice contexts Aging ,1972
