Moving Bodies Debra Hawhee, 2022-03-23 A sophisticated study of how bodies and language move and are moved by each other Kenneth Burke may be best known for his theories of dramatism and of language as symbolic action but few know him as one of the twentieth century's foremost theorists of the relationship between language and bodies In Moving Bodies Debra Hawhee focuses on Burke's studies from the 1930s 40s and 50s while illustrating that his interest in reading the body as a central force of communication began early in his career By exploring Burke's extensive writings on the subject alongside revealing considerations of his life and his scholarship Hawhee maps his recurring invocation of a variety of disciplinary perspectives in order to theorize bodies and communication working across and even beyond the arts humanities and sciences Burke's sustained analysis of the body drew on approaches representing a range of specialties and interests including music mysticism endocrinology evolution speech gesture theory and speech act theory as well as his personal experiences with pain and illness Hawhee shows that Burke's goal was to advance understanding of the body's relationship to identity to the creation of meaning and to the circulation of language Her study brings to the fore one of Burke's most important and understudied contributions to language theory and she establishes Burke as a pioneer in a field where investigations into affect movement and sense perception broaden understanding of physical ways of knowing

The Pearl of Great Price Orest Stocco, 2015-03-05 Stories bear the truth of the human condition and the human condition is the story of our becoming but not until we solve the riddle of our becoming will literature resolve the issue of the human condition This makes literature endlessly fascinating because every writer speaks to their place in the enantiodromiac process of man's becoming which Jung called individuation and in their stories they stake out the geography of man's soul whether it be the happy country of one's being the unhappy country of one's non-being or that miserable place of being stuck between two countries the no-man's land of one's soul Chapter 18 The Dust on a Butterfly's Wings
