Hot Salsa Flute And Cd:

Cuban Flute Style Sue Miller, 2013-10-30 Richard Eg es and Jos Fajardo are universally regarded as the leading exponents of charanga flute playing an improvisatory style that crystallized in 1950s Cuba with the rise of the mambo and the chachach. Despite the commercial success of their recordings with Orquesta Arag n and Fajardo y sus Estrellas and their influence not only on Cuban flute players but also on other Latin dance musicians no in depth analytical study of their flute solos exists. In Cuban Flute Style Interpretation and Improvisation Sue Miller music historian charanga flute player and former student of Richard Eg es examines the early twentieth century decorative style of flute playing in the Cuban danz n and its links with the later soloistic style of the 1950s as exemplified by Fajardo and Eg es. Transcriptions and analyses of recorded performances demonstrate the characteristic elements of the style as well as the styles of individual players. A combination of musicological analysis and ethnomusicological fieldwork reveals the polyrhythmic and melodic aspects of the Cuban flute style with commentary from flutists Richard Eg es Joaquin Oliveros Polo Tamayo Eddy Zervig n and other renowned players. Miller also covers techniques for flutists seeking to learn the style including altissimo fingerings for the Boehm flute and fingerings for the five key charanga flute as well as guidance on articulation phrasing repertoire practicing improvisation and working with recordings. Cuban Flute Style will appeal to those working in the fields of Cuban music improvisation music analysis ethnomusicology performance and performance practice popular music and cultural theory.

Blumenthal, 1998 Emphasizing quality not quantity this buyer's guide reviews 600 of the best jazz CDs available featuring the field's most influential artists      Schwann Spectrum, 1999      Classic CD., 2000      CD Review, 1995      The Decentring of the Traditional University Russell Francis, 2012-08-21 The Decentring of the Traditional University provides a unique perspective on the implications of media change for learning and literacy that allows us to peer into the future of self education. Each chapter draws on socio cultural and activity theory to investigate how resourceful students are breaking away from traditional modes of instruction and educating themselves through engagement with a globally interconnected web based participatory culture. The argument is developed with reference to the findings of an ethnographic study that focused on university students informal uses of social and participatory media. Each chapter draws attention to the shifting locus of agency for regulating and managing learning and describes an emergent genre of learning activity. For example Francis explores how students are cultivating and nurturing globally distributed funds of living knowledge that transcend institutional boundaries and describes students learning through serious play in virtually figured worlds that support radically personalised lifelong learning agendas. These stories also highlight the challenges and choices learners confront as they struggle to negotiate the faultlines of media convergence and master the new media literacies required to exploit the full potential of Web 2.0 as a learning resource. Overall this compelling argument proposes that we are witnessing a period of historic systemic change in the culture of university learning as an emergent web based participatory culture starts to disrupt and displace a top down culture industry model of education that has evolved around the medium of the book As a result Francis argues that we need to re conceive higher education as an identity project in which students work on their projective identities or imagined future selves through engagement with both formal and informal learning activities
