Joint International Business Ventures in Developing Countries Wolfgang Friedmann, Jean-Pierre Béguin, 1971      Joint Ventures in the People's Republic of China Margaret M. Pearson, 1992-09-21 When Chinese leaders announced in late 1978 that China would open to the outside world they embarked on a strategy for attracting private foreign capital to spur economic development At the same time they were concerned about possible negative repercussions of this policy Margaret Pearson examines government efforts to control the terms of foreign investment between 1979 and 1988 and more broadly the abilities of socialist states in general to establish the terms of their own participation in the world economy Drawing on interviews with Chinese and foreigners involved in joint ventures Pearson focuses on the years from 1979 through 1988 but she also comments on the fate of the open policy following the economic retrenchment and political upheavals of the late 1980s Since the policy of opening was launched in Beijing in 1979 some Chinese leaders have favoured foreign investment while others have feared that it would carry ideas and institutions that would corrupt Chinese socialism This study of Chinese policies toward foreign invested enterprises FIFs during the 1980s broadly charts significant changes in the impact of these competing views on policy Pearson's overview and analysis provide thought provoking perspectives Pearson furnishes excellent evidence that throughout the 1980s the pressure for reform was so great that the conservatives had to retreat repeatedly despite their concerns about the decline of collectivist values and the Maoist dream Stanley Lubman The China Quarterly      The Rise of "the Rest" Alice H. Amsden, 2003 Alice H Amsden describes how some developing countries outside the North Atlantic area were able to achieve accelerated economic growth following World War Two      Proceedings of the Academy of International Business, 1982      Technology Trade United States. Congress. House. Committee on Science and Technology, 1980      Texas International Law Journal, 1985      Attribution in International Law and Arbitration Carlo de Stefano, 2020-01-09 Attribution in International Law and Arbitration clarifies and critically discusses the international rules of attribution of conduct particularly regarding their application to states under international investment law It examines the key question of how and to what extent breaches of State obligations particularly in respect of States commitments to foreign investors under international investment agreements IIAs and bilateral investment treaties BITs can be attributed Of special interest within this context is the responsibility of States when the alleged breach has been committed by separate legal entities rather than the state itself Under domestic law entities such as state owned enterprises SOEs are considered legally distinct however the State may still be considered responsible for their actions under international law The book addresses the relevant issues systematically beginning with direct reference to the Draft Articles on Responsibility of States for Internationally Wrongful Acts ARSIWA on attribution finalized by the International law Commission ILC in 2001 It then elaborates on the specifics of international investment law based on a detailed examination of practice and case law whilst giving due consideration to the academic debate The result is a full innovative take on one of the most difficult questions in investment arbitration The American Journal of International Law ,1972 Jus et Societas G.M. Wilner,2012-12-06 When Wolfgang Friedmann died there was a great outpouring of grief affection and admiration from his friends all over the world These deeply felt sentiments were soon channelled into a number of projects to honor him The initiative towards the preparation of this volume in tribute to Wolfgang Friedmann was taken by his colleague Hans Smit of Columbia University who also arranged for its publication Judge Philip C Jessup was the chairman and Professors John N Hazard Louis Henkin Oliver Lissitzyn Willis L M Reese and Hans Smit of Columbia University Law School A A Fatouros of Indiana University Law School Bloomington and Gabriel M Wilner of the University of Georgia Law School were members of the editorial committee The authors of the essays are a group of distinguished legal scholars from many countries and who hold widely diverse views All of them had many ties with Professor Friedmann including those of friendship and shared interest in problems that were of the greatest concern to him The number of eminent jurists from countries around the world and particularly from the United States who would have wished to participate in this tribute to Wolfgang Friedmann is large however several important considerations made it necessary to limit the number of contributions Thus for example the work of several members of the editorial committee is not represented in the volume Recent Trends in Social and
