Joseph Spence Letters From The Grand Tour:

LETTERS FROM THE GRAND TOUR. JOSEPH SPENCE. ED. BY SLAVA KLIMA. Joseph Spence, 1975 Richard Pococke's Letters from the East (1737-1740) Rachel Finnegan, 2020-10-20 In Richard Pococke's Letters from the East 1737-1740 Rachel Finnegan provides edited transcripts of the full run of correspondence from Richard Pococke's famous eastern voyage from 1737-41. In this new volume Finnegan combines updated biographical accounts of the traveller and his correspondents his mother Elizabeth Pococke and his uncle and patron Bishop Thomas Milles from vol 1 of the original edition of Letters from Abroad 2011 with transcriptions of the letters from vol 3 of the series 2013 together with new material that has hitherto been unpublished. Thus in a single volume she sets the context of the life and times of the traveller and his family against the background of this voluminous corpus of fascinating correspondence which can be read in conjunction with Pococke's own published account of his travels A Description of the East and Some Other Countries 1743-45.

Cities and the Grand Tour Rosemary Sweet, 2012-10-04 A fascinating study of how British travellers experienced, described and represented the cities they visited on the Grand Tour. Beyond the Grand Tour Rosemary Sweet, Gerrit Verhoeven, Sarah Goldsmith, 2017-02-17 Travel in early modern Europe is frequently represented as synonymous with the institution of the Grand Tour, a journey undertaken by elite young males from northern Europe to the centres of the arts and antiquity in Italy. Taking a somewhat different perspective, this volume builds upon recent research that pushes beyond this narrow orthodoxy and which decentres Italy as the ultimate destination of European travellers. Instead, it explores a much broader pattern of travel undertaken by people of varied backgrounds and with divergent motives for travelling. By tapping into current reactions against the reification of the Grand Tour as a unique and distinctive practice, this volume represents an important contribution to the ongoing process of resituating the Grand Tour as part of a wider context of travel and topographical writing. Focusing upon practices of travel in northern and western Europe rather than in Italy, particularly in Britain, the Low Countries and Germany, the essays in this collection highlight how itineraries continually evolved in response to changing political, economic and intellectual contexts. In so doing, the reasons for travel in northern Europe are subjected to a similar level of detailed analysis as has previously only been directed on Italy. By doing this, the volume demonstrates the variety of travel experiences, including the many shorter journeys made for pleasure, health, education and business, undertaken by travellers of varying age and background across the period. In this way, the volume brings to the fore the experiences of varied categories of traveller, from children to businessmen, which have traditionally been largely invisible in the historiography of travel. The Empire of Stereotypes R. Casillo, 2006-05-13 This book places Germaine de Staël's influential novel Corinne or Italy (1807) in relation to preceding and subsequent stereotypes of Italy as seen in the works of Northern European and American travel writers since the Renaissance. The Fatal Gift of Beauty: The Italies of British Travellers Manfred Pfister, 2023-04-12 This is the first anthology of British travel writing on Italy which traces the development of the genre and the history of the British perception of Italy from the Renaissance to the present As an anthologie raissonn e it presents the texts in thematic clusters and chronological order providing commentary and annotations for each of them and their nearly hundred authors some of them like Smollett Byron Dickens or Huxley well known others virtually unknown amongst them many unduly neglected women writers Further features are a substantial introduction to the travelogue and the writing of Italy more than thirty illustrations visualizing the British experience of Italy and an extensive bibliography of primary and secondary sources

Imperial Paradoxes Robert James Merrett, 2021-08-15 At war for sixty years eighteenth century Britain and France experienced demographic social and economic exchanges despite their imperial rivalry Paradoxically this rivalry spurred their participation in scientific and industrial developments Their shared interest in standards of living and cultural practices was fuelled by migration and philosophical exchanges that reciprocally transmitted the values of urban geography medicine teaching and the industrial and fine arts In Imperial Paradoxes Robert Merrett compares British and French literature on those topics He explains how food wine fashion and tourism were channels of interdisciplinary relations and shows why authors in both nations turned the notion of empire from commercial and military expansion into a metaphor for exploring self knowledge and pleasure Although cognitive science has come to the fore only in the past two generations eighteenth century writers tested problems in the dualist and faculty psychology of Western rationalism Themes of embodiment and embodied thought drawn from recent theorists are applied throughout this book along with dialectics and models of the senses operating together Imperial Paradoxes avoids the limitations of strict chronology weaving together multiple narratives for a more complete picture Applying major works in the fields of cognitive science cognitive psychology and pedagogical theory to prose poetry and drama from the eighteenth century Merrett shows how attention to eating drinking dressing and travelling gives important insights into individual literary works and literary history

Venice Incognito James H. Johnson, 2017-01-10 The entire town is disguised declared a French tourist of eighteenth century Venice And indeed maskers of all ranks nobles clergy imposters seducers con men could be found mixing at every level of Venetian society Even a pious nun donned a mask and male attire for her liaison with the libertine Casanova In Venice Incognito James H Johnson offers a spirited analysis of masking in this carnival loving city He draws on a wealth of material to explore the world view of maskers both during and outside of carnival and reconstructs their logic covering the face in public was a uniquely Venetian response to one of the most rigid class hierarchies in European history This vivid account goes beyond common views that masking was about forgetting the past and minding the muse of pleasure to offer fresh insight into the historical construction of identity

Fashioning Masculinity Dr Michele Cohen, Michele Cohen, 2002-01-08 The fashioning of English gentlemen in the eighteenth century was modelled on French practices of sociability and conversation Michele Cohen shows how at the same time the English constructed their cultural relations with the French as relations of seduction and desire She argues that this produced anxiety on the part of the English over the effect of French practices on English masculinity and the virtue of English women By the end of the century representing the French as an effeminate other was integral to the forging of English masculine national identity Michele Cohen examines the derogation of women and the French which accompanied the emergent masculine English identity While taciturnity became emblematic of the English gentleman's depth of mind and masculinity sprightly conversation was seen as representing the shallow and inferior intellect of English women and the French of both sexes Michele Cohen also demonstrates how visible evidence of girls verbal and language learning skills served only to construe the female mind as inferior She argues that this perception still has currency today The Librettist of Venice Rodney Bolt, 2008-12-11 In 1805 Lorenzo Da Ponte was the proprietor of a small grocery store in New York But since his birth into an Italian Jewish family in 1749 he had already been a priest a poet the lover of many women a scandalous Enlightenment thinker banned from teaching in Venice the librettist for three of Mozart's most sublime operas a collaborator with Salieri a friend of Casanova and a favorite of Emperor Joseph II He would go on to establish New York City's first opera house and be the first professor of Italian at Columbia University An inspired innovator but a hopeless businessman who loved with wholehearted loyalty and recklessness Da Ponte was one of the early immigrants to live out the American dream In Rodney Bolt's rollicking and extensively researched biography Da Ponte's picaresque life takes readers from Old World courts and the back streets of Venice Vienna and London to the New World promise of New York City Two hundred and fifty years after Mozart's birth the life and legacy of his librettist Da Ponte are as astonishing as ever The World of William and Mary Dale Hoak, Mordechai Feingold, 1996 This volume contributes to the current reassessment of the Glorious Revolution by bringing together the work of leading American British and Dutch scholars who present a series of interpretive case studies on a wide variety of political economic religious and cultural issues What emerges from these fifteen essays is the conviction that in spite of differing angles of approach the process of reinterpreting the Revolution requires a combined study of English and Dutch history within the context of European history The long tradition of viewing the events of 1688-89 as a uniquely British affair which gave birth to liberal England with its contingent political and religious liberties is finally put to rest The Prosciutto Sundial Christopher Charles Parslow, Robert Rich Professor of Latin Christopher

Parslow,2024 The Prosciutto Sundial is the first comprehensive study of the sundial in the shape of a miniature prosciutto from the Villa dei Papiri in Herculaneum from its rediscovery in 1755 to modern times Drawing on contemporary correspondence and manuscripts early philological and scientific assessments and later published accounts it catalogs the many attempts by scholars and lay people alike to understand how it functioned It explains the significance of its context in the Villa and through the results of empirical analysis using a 3D model highlights the remarkable accuracy of this unique ancient timepiece
