The Journal of Aurelio Scetti Aurelio Scetti, 2004      Voice, Slavery, and Race in Seventeenth-Century Florence Emily Wilbourne, 2023 Voice Slavery and Race in Seventeenth Century Florence argues for the power of sound particularly musical and vocal sounds to systems of racial and ethnic difference Foregrounding newly discovered archival sources Emily Wilbourne documents the significant presence of foreign and racially marked individuals in Medici Florence many of whom were living under conditions of slavery or unfree labor This book considers how the musical and verbal sounds of these individuals were recruited to represent or communicate access to subjectivity agency and voice      Art, Mobility, and Exchange in Early Modern Tuscany and Eurasia Francesco Freddolini, Marco Musillo, 2020-06-09 This book explores how the Medici Grand Dukes pursued ways to expand their political commercial and cultural networks beyond Europe cultivating complex relations with the Ottoman Empire and other Islamicate regions and looking further east to India China and Japan The chapters in this volume discuss how casting a global cross cultural net was part and parcel of the Medicean political vision Diplomatic gifts items of commercial exchange objects looted at war maritime connections and political plots were an inherent part of how the Medici projected their state on the global arena The eleven chapters of this volume demonstrate that the mobility of objects people and knowledge that generated the global interactions analyzed here was not unidirectional rather it went both to and from Tuscany In addition by exploring evidence of objects produced in Tuscany for Asian markets this book reveals hitherto neglected histories of how Western cultures projected themselves eastwards      Leone Leoni and the Status of the Artist at the End of the Renaissance KelleyHelmstutlerDi Dio, 2017-07-05 The late Renaissance sculptor Leone Leoni 1509 1590 came from modest beginnings but died as a nobleman and knight His remarkable leap in status from his humble birth to a stonemason s family to his time as a galley slave to living as a nobleman and courtier in Milan provide a specific case study of an artist s struggle and triumph over existing social structures that marginalized the Renaissance artist Based on a wealth of discoveries in archival documents correspondence and contemporary literature the author examines the strategies Leoni employed to achieve his high social position such as the friendships he formed the type of education he sought out the artistic imagery he employed and the aristocratic trappings he donned Leoni s multiple roles imperial sculptor aristocrat man of erudition and criminal the visual manifestations of these roles in his house collection and tomb the form and meaning of the artistic commissions he undertook and the particular successes he enjoyed are here situated within the complex political social and economic contexts of northern Italy and the Spanish court in the sixteenth century

Cartography in Antiquity and the Middle Ages , 2008-08-31 In scope this book matches The History of Cartography vol 1 1987 edited by Brian Harley and David Woodward Now twenty years after the appearance of that seminal work classicists and medievalists from Europe and North America highlight distill and reflect on the remarkably productive progress made since in many different areas of the study of maps The interaction between experts on antiquity and on the Middle Ages evident in the thirteen contributions offers a guide to the future and illustrates close relationships in the evolving practice of cartography over the first millennium and a half of the Christian era Contributors are Emily Albu Raymond Clemens Lucy Donkin Evelyn Edson Tom Elliott Patrick Gauthier Dalch Benjamin Kedar Maja Kominko Natalia Lozovsky Yossef Rapoport Emilie Savage Smith Camille Serchuk Richard Talbert and Jennifer Trimble Agents of Empire Noel Malcolm,2015 The story of a Venetian Albanian family in the late sixteenth century forms the basis of a sweeping account of the interaction between East and West Europe and the Ottoman Empire at a pivotal moment in history Jews and State Building ,2024-12-09 This volume aims to shed new light on the history of the Jews in Italy between the early modern period and the emergence of a unified Italian state explicitly placing Jews within the history of the state building process It seeks to reconsider Jewish history systematically by stressing the relation of Jews and the state and to trace how Jews and their communities were reshaped in the early modern period Journal of the Warburg and Courtauld Institutes Warburg Institute,2012 City of Empires Michael J. K. Walsh,2015-10-05 Despite its undoubted importance there has never been a volume dedicated entirely to studies of the historic city of Famagusta in the years which followed the siege of 1571 City of Empires Ottoman and British Famagusta takes an important first step in redressing this imbalance The four centuries which followed the conflict as the contributions gathered here demonstrate are rich research seams for scholars of history urban design photography art history literature drama military history and the post war mandates City of Empires also places emphasis on the tangible heritage of Famagusta twice listed as endangered by World Monuments Fund and now the recipient of an increasing number of international efforts to protect it Mad Tuscans and Their Families Elizabeth W. Mellyn,2014-04-23 Based on three hundred civil and criminal cases over four centuries Elizabeth W Mellyn reconstructs the myriad ways families communities and civic and medical authorities met in the dynamic arena of Tuscan law courts to forge pragmatic solutions to the problems that madness brought to their households and streets In some of these cases solutions were protective and palliative in others they were predatory or abusive The goals of families were sometimes at odds with those of the courts but for the most part families and judges worked together to order households and communities in ways that served public and private interests For most of the period Mellyn examines Tuscan communities had no institutions devoted solely to the treatment and protection of the mentally disturbed responsibility for their long term care fell to the family By the end of the seventeenth century Tuscans like other Europeans had come to explain madness in medical terms and the mentally disordered were beginning to move from households to hospitals In Mad Tuscans and Their Families Mellyn argues against the commonly held belief that these changes chart the rise of mechanisms of social control by emerging absolutist states Rather the story of mental illness is one of false starts expedients compromise and consensus created by a wide range of historical actors Italian Quarterly Carlo Luigi Golino,2005 The Ceremonial City Iain Fenlon,2007 At the heart of the book is a detailed account of four major events that significantly shaped the history of Venice the formation of the Holy League the coalition that brought the republic into conflict with the Ottoman Empire the victory of that League against the Turkish fleet at the battle of Lepanto the ceremonial arrangements that were made to welcome Henry III of France to the city in 1574 and the devastating plague of 1575 7 This central part is frame by two others The first concentrates on St Mark s Square the buildings that surround it and the social and religious life that used it as a backdrop This involves reconstruction of the historical and mythical events that gradually led to the elaboration by Jacopo Sansovino and others of a monumental civic arena invested with layers of meaning that were fundamental to a sense of Venetian identity The final section considers how the major events of the 1570s and above all the victory at Lepanto were metabolized in Venetian history and reconfigured in the realms of memory and myth Important factors in this process were the role of the printing press Venice lay at the heart of the Italian booktrade in disseminating accounts of current events and reworking them into a further elaborator of the Myth of Venice and the ritual and other transformations that took place such as the construction of Palladio s church of the Redentore and their connection to the religious matrix that provides the key to the civic ethos of the city in the late sixteenth century Venice had become the City of God
