Practising Social Work

Sociologically Priscilla Dunk-West, Fiona Verity, 2018-02-13 This timely and much needed text book presents an innovative theoretically based approach that helps students practitioners and researchers alike orientate their view and sensibilities in a rapidly evolving modern world Traditional social work approaches are often ill equipped to take into account the emerging social change which has resulted from technological change globalisation and mobilities as well as environmental change By bringing sociological social work perspectives to contemporary practice it draws on concepts from a range of disciplines in recognition that we are collective thinkers and actors and that our ideas are shaped by what we read and build upon Whether taking a social work theory module or preparing for placement this sociological perspective provides a crucial foundation for practice and puts the social back in to social work What Social Workers Need to Know Marion Bower, Robin Solomon, 2017-08-23 Social work deals with the heavy end of human difficulties such as cruelty self destructiveness and severe and enduring mental health problems How do social workers make sense of the emotional difficulties which come with the realities of practice Understanding our clients is the best way of dealing with complex situations and avoiding burnout and stress The contributors to this book argue that psychoanalysis provides a theory of development and behaviour capable of formulating a realistic model for understanding emotional difficulties and disturbances in both clients and ourselves The chapters demonstrate a way of thinking for the practitioner that can be used in all situations The book examines in detail some of the difficult and disturbing conversations that social workers have with clients of all ages It provides a psychoanalytic framework for understanding circumstances which may be puzzling stressful or frightening and a theory whose value for many social work problems is well underpinned by research evidence Written by senior practitioners who are all still working in the front line this book puts complex real life experiences into words to help the social worker become a more effective practitioner How to Be Intimate with 15,000,000 Strangers Brett Kahr, 2023-05-31 How to Be Intimate with 15 000 000 Strangers is an investigation into how the fields of mental health and media can work together more collaboratively Drawing upon his extensive experience in media psychoanalysis Brett Kahr explores how a rich collaboration with radio television film and other forms of public outreach can be accomplished while also embracing the weight and gravitas of depth psychology In addition to describing his work as Resident Psychotherapist at the B B C Kahr also examines the ways in which references to the media enter the consulting room and provide clinicians with important insights about hidden aspects of the minds of their patients Moreover he investigates the historical hesitancy of psychoanalysts experts in confidentiality to engage with such a public arena as the media thus providing important insights about how one can collaborate broadly and loudly while also maintaining one s ethical commitment to silence and privacy This book will be of interest to psychoanalysts psychotherapists and anyone intrigued by the intersection between media and psychoanalysis Donald Winnicott and John Bowlby Bruce Hauptmann, Christopher Reeves, 2018-05-08 A fascinating book that sets Bowlby and Winnicott in context and relation to one another to provide a new perspective on both as well as providing a welcome testimony to their enduring legacy Falling Through the Cracks Joan Berzoff, 2012 Psychodynamic theory and practice are often misunderstood as appropriate only for the worried well or for those whose problems are minimal or routine Nothing could be further from the truth This book shows how psychodynamically informed clinically based social care is essential to working with individuals whose problems are both psychological and social Each chapter addresses populations struggling with structural inequities such as racism classism and discrimination based on immigrant status language differences disability and sexual orientation The authors explain how to provide psychodynamically informed assessment and practice when working with those suffering from mental illness addiction homelessness and cognitive visual or auditory impairments as well as people in prisons in orphanages and on child welfare The volume supports the idea that becoming aware of ourselves helps us understand ourselves a key approach for helping clients contain and name their feelings deal with desire and conflict achieve self regulation and self esteem and alter attachment styles toward greater agency and empowerment Yet autonomy and empowerment are not birthrights they are capacities that must be fostered under optimal clinical conditions This collection uses concepts derived from drive theory ego psychology object relations trauma theory attachment theory self psychology relational theories and intersubjectivity in clinical work with vulnerable and oppressed populations Contributors are experienced practitioners whose work with vulnerable populations has enabled them to elicit and find common humanity with their clients The authors consistently convey respect for the considerable strength and resilience of the populations with whom they work Emphasizing both the inner and social structural lives of client and clinician and their interacting social identities this anthology uniquely realizes the complexity of clinical practice with diverse populations
