Poets Laureate in the Holy Roman Empire John Flood, 2011-09-08 Petrarch's revival of the ancient practice of laureation in 1341 led to the laurel being conferred on poets throughout Europe in the later Middle Ages and the Early Modern period Within the Holy Roman Empire Maximilian I conferred the title of Imperial Poet Laureate especially frequently and later it was bestowed with unbridled liberality by Counts Palatine and university rectors too This handbook identifies more than 1300 poets laureated within the Empire and adjacent territories between 1355 and 1804 giving wherever possible a sketch of their lives a list of their published works and a note of relevant scholarly literature The introduction and various indexes provide a detailed account of a now largely forgotten but once significant literary sociological phenomenon and illuminate literary networks in the Early Modern period A supplementary Volume 5 of Poets Laureate in the Holy Roman Empire A Bio bibliographical Handbook will be published in June 2019 Ekphrastic

Image-making in Early Modern Europe, 1500-1700 Arthur J. DiFuria, Walter Melion, 2021-12-20 In epideictic oratory ekphrasis is typically identified as an advanced rhetorical exercise that verbally reproduces the experience of viewing a person place or thing more specifically it often purports to replicate the experience of viewing a work of art Not only what was seen but also how it was beheld and the emotions attendant upon first viewing it are implicitly construed as recoverable indeed reproducible This volume examines how and why many early modern pictures operate in an ekphrastic mode such pictures claim to reconstitute works of art that solely survived in the textual form of an ekphrasis or they invite the beholder to respond to a picture in the way s he responds to a stirring verbal image or they call attention to their status as an image in the way that ekphrasis as a rhetorical figure makes one conscious of the process of image making or finally they foreground the artist's or the viewer's agency in the way that the rhetor or auditor is adduced as agent of the image being verbally produced Contributors Carol Elaine Barbour Ivana Bi ak Letha Ch ien James Clifton Teresa Clifton Karl Enenkel Arthur DiFuria Christopher Heuer Barbara Kaminska Annie Maloney Annie McEwen Walter Melion Lars Cyril N rgaard Dawn Odell April Oettinger Shelley Perlove Stephanie Porras Femke Spielberg Caecilie Weissert Elliott Wise and Steffen Zierholz

The Uses of Humanism Gábor Almási, 2009-11-13 This book is a novel attempt to understand humanism as a socially meaningful cultural idiom in Late Renaissance East Central Europe Through an exploration of geographical regions that are relatively little known to an English reading public it argues that late sixteenth century East Central Europe was culturally thriving and intellectually open in the period between Copernicus and Galileo Humanism was a dominant cluster of shared intellectual practices and cultural values that brought a number of concrete benefits both to the social climber intellectual and to the social elite Two exemplary case studies illustrate this thesis in substantive detail and highlight the ambivalences and difficulties court humanists routinely faced The protagonists Johannes Sambucus and Andreas Dudith both born in the Kingdom of Hungary were two of the major humanists of the Habsburg court central figures in cosmopolitan networks of men learning and characteristic representatives of an Erasmian spirit that was struggling for survival in the face of confessionalisation Through an analysis of their careers at court and a presentation of their self fashioning as savants and courtiers the book explores the social and political significance of their humanist learning and intellectual strategies The Primacy of the Postils John M. Frymire, 2010 Drawing on an extensive collection of Catholic Lutheran and Calvinist sermon collections postils this book offers the first comprehensive systematic presentation of standard preaching texts in early modern Germany including their creation print production use and censorship Johannes Sinapius (1505-1560) John L. persuasive influence The period witnessed a boom in new translations and multivolume editions of Arabic authors and European philosophers and scientists incorporated and often celebrated Arabic thought in their work especially in medicine philosophy and astrology But the famous Arabic authorities were a prominent obstacle to the Renaissance project of renewing European academic culture through Greece and Rome and radical reformers accused Arabic science of linguistic corruption plagiarism or irreligion Hasse shows how a mixture of ideological and scientific motives led to the decline of some Arabic traditions in important areas of European culture while others continued to flourish

Images of Language William Jervis Jones, 1999-04-15 This volume consists of six essays on interrelated themes focusing on key aspects of language reflection during the period 1500 1800 with particular emphasis on the seventeenth century German speakers are seen attempting to discover and define the nature of adjacent languages whilst also shaping and demarcating the identity and image of their native tongue The first essay outlines and illustrates what European linguists believed in an age before the advent of comparative philology about the historical genetic position of German within the circle of Classical and modern European languages Three further essays explore the surprisingly rich diversity of approach and method in earlier foreign word purism the puristic use of lexis and metaphor with special reference to gender specific imagery and prominent reaction to the intrusive foreign word in German military usage The last two essays span a wide range of attitudes and reaction to the French language among German speakers and early German perceptions of that marginal and in the popular view excessively contaminated language English The work makes frequent reference to contemporary views of other languages including Hebrew Greek Latin Italian and Spanish Documented with much new material from about 300 original sources these essays bring to light the ideas aired by many hitherto neglected personalities whilst also deepening our understanding of better known figures and their work
