John Soane Architect:

Sir John Soane Architect Dorothy Stroud, 1996 Sir John Soane 1753 1837 has come to be regarded as one of the great architects of late 18th and early 19th century Europe and contemporary architects and designers are becoming increasingly influenced by the subtleties of the unique Soane style Dorothy Stroud's classic book which is appearing in paperback for the first time in an updated second edition is the culmination of a lifetime's research It brings together all the threads in her previous writings on Soane combining a concise biography of the architect with a comprehensive and fully illustrated survey of his works After studying in Italy Soane built up a considerable private practice and a reputation that secured his appointment in 1788 as architect to the Bank of England where over a period of forty five years he designed a vast complex of courts and offices With his appointment to the Office of Works in 1815 he became responsible for public buildings in Whitehall and Westminster which entailed the designing of a Royal entrance and gallery in the House of Lords new Law Courts Privy Council Offices and a State Paper Office As professor of architecture at the Royal Academy from 1806 he was to play a leading role in the improvement of architectural education in Britain and he was active in the founding of what is now the Royal Institute of British Architects Although much of his work was thoughtlessly destroyed towards the end of the 19th century a substantial number of buildings and parts of buildings survive especially outside London as a testimony to his genius Amazon

John Soane, Architect John Soane, Royal Academy of Arts (Great Britain), 1999 Without doubt the most brilliant architectural innovator of his day Sir John Soane 1753-1837 displayed a remarkable ability to adapt and modernise the language of classical architecture The range of his built designs from the ingenuity of his own house in Lincoln's Inn Fields later left in trust to the nation to the opulence and originality of the Bank of England places him on a par with other leading European Neoclassicists such as Ledoux and Schinkel His architectural vocabulary remains influential to this day This landmark publication considers Soane's architectural achievements as well as his life and public role It reproduces over one hundred of Soane's drawings and contains specially commissioned photographs of his original models and existing buildings Contributors discuss all of the architect's major commissions including the Dulwich Picture Gallery the Law Courts at Westminster and the Bank of England

John Soane Margaret Richardson, 1999

Sir John Soane Peter Thornton, Helen Dorey, 1992 Sir John Soane 1753 1837 the son of a bricklayer rose to become one of England's greatest architects as well a remarkably astute collector of objects and works of art His house in Lincoln's Inn Fields in London was bequeathed to the British nation by a private Act of Parliament in 1833 for the benefit of Amateurs and Students of Painting Sculpture and Architecture and the building itself and the collections within now comprise a unique and extremely popular public museum Soane was at the very center of artistic activity in late Georgian England and his collections reveal the intellectual preoccupations of his day Amassed over his long lifetime during his travels and from his friends and professional contacts they include paintings by Hogarth and Turner Greek Roman and Egyptian antiquities Chinese ceramics and a vast number of drawings clocks models furniture gems jewelry manuscripts and other objets d art that reveal the breadth of Soane s tastes and interests This handsome book focuses on more than 120 works from Soane s collections ranging from paintings and sculpture to a watch given by Queen Anne to Sir Christopher Wren Peter Thornton Curator of Sir John Soane s Museum and his research assistant Helen Dorey have written lively commentaries to the 130 illustrations 99 in full color providing information about the objects themselves and their history and at the same time shedding light on Soane s life character and cultural pursuits Soane prepared his museum personally spending huge sums of money and gathering items for their intrinsic value their appearance or their associations His goal was to create a poetic setting using architecture to evoke the spirit of antiquity For this reason he arranged his collections not didactically by periods or cultures but rather mingled together offering a springboard for the imagination Sir John Soane The Architect as Collector is the first book to focus purely on the collections of this working architect who acquired his treasures as an anthology of antique architecture and decoration and whose hope was that future generations would find in them a source of reference and inspiration The Works of Sir John Soane Sir John Soane's Museum,1924 Crude Hints Towards an History of My House in Lincoln's Inn Fields John Soane,2015 In 1812 the architect Sir John Soane 1753 1837 wrote a strange and perplexing manuscript Crude Hints towards an History of my House in Lincoln s Inn Fields in which in the guise of an Antiquary he imagines his home as a future ruin inspected by visitors speculating on its origins and function Never published in his lifetime the manuscript has been meticulously transcribed and provided with an explanatory Introduction and footnotes by Helen Dorey Deputy Director and Inspectress of Sir John Soane s Museum Originally published as part of an exhibition catalogue sixteen years ago this new edition has been extensively revised and updated The text is accompanied by nineteen illustrations seventeen of them in full colour John Soane, architect ,1999 Sir John Soane's Influence on Architecture from 1791 Mr Oliver Bradbury,2015-03-28 Through examinations of internationally renowned architects Bradbury demonstrates that Sir John Soane s influence has been truly international in the pre modern era reaching throughout the British Isles and beyond to North America and even colonial Australia Through his inclusion of select detailed case studies Bradbury contends that Soane s is a continuing not negated legacy in architecture The Architecture of Sir John Soane Dorothy Stroud,1961 John Soane, the Making of an Architect Pierre de la Ruffinière Du Prey,1982 Describes the early career of the English architect John Soane and examines the development of his style of architecture John Soane's Cabinet of Curiosities Bruce Boucher,2024-06-11 An in depth study that sheds a fascinating new light on Sir John Soane 1753 1837 and his world renowned collection Sir John Soane s architecture has enjoyed a revival of interest over the last seventy years yet Soane as a collector the strategy behind and motivation for Soane s bequest to the nation has remained largely unexplored While Soane referred to the display of objects in his house and museum as studies for my own mind he never explained what he meant by this and the ambiguity surrounding his motivation remains perennially fascinating This book sheds light on a side of Soane's personality unfamiliar to most students of his life and work by examining key strands in his collection and what they reveal about Soane and the psychology of collecting Topics include the display of antiquities his fascination with ruins both literal and figurative his singular response to Gothic architecture and his investment in modern British painting and sculpture These aspects are bookended by an introductory biographical chapter that highlights the ways in which his family and career informed his collecting habits as well as an epilogue that analyses the challenges of turning a private house and collection into a public museum John Soane, Architect Margaret Richardson, Maryanne Stevens, 2015-04-07 First published on the occasion of the exhibition Royal Academy of Arts London 11 September 3 December 1999 Title page verso
