the Soviet Union in 1989 this desire to preserve and restore has grown stronger In one of the most striking and little studied shifts in postwar European history the traces of a long neglected Jewish past have gradually been recovered thanks to the rise of heritage tourism nostalgia for ruins international discussions about the Holocaust and a pervasive longing for cosmopolitanism in a globalizing world Examining this transformation from both sides of the Iron Curtain Michael Meng finds no divided memory along West East lines but rather a shared memory of tensions and paradoxes that crosses borders throughout Central Europe His narrative reveals the changing dynamics of the local and the transnational as Germans Poles Americans and Israelis confront a built environment that is inevitably altered with the passage of time Shattered Spaces exemplifies urban history at its best uncovering a surprising and moving postwar story of broad contemporary interest
