Committee on Resources of American Libraries. National Union Catalog Subcommittee,1969 The Supervisors Service Bulletin ,1925 Music and Metaphor in Nineteenth-Century British Musicology Bennett Zon,2017-07-05 In a word I shall endeavour to show how our music having been originally a shell fish with its restrictive skeleton on the outside and no soul within has been developed by the inevitable laws of evolution through natural selection and the survival of the fittest into something human even divine with the strong logical skeleton of its science inside the fair flesh of God given beauty outside and the whole like man himself animated by a celestial eternal spirit W J Henderson The Story of Music 1889 Critical writing about music and music history in nineteenth century Britain was permeated with metaphor and analogy Music and Metaphor examines how over arching theories of music history were affected by reference to various figurative linguistic templates adopted from other disciplines such as art religion politics and science Each section of the book discusses a wide range of musicological writings and their correspondence with the language used to convey contemporary ideas such as the sublime the ancient and modern debate and in particular the theory of evolution Bennett Zon reveals that through their application of metaphorical frameworks taken from art religion and science these writers and their work shed light on nineteenth century perceptions of music history and illuminate the ways in which these disciplines affected notions of musical development Books for All Providence Public Library (R.I.),1928
