The Pastoral Continuum Paul Spencer,1998-01-29 Paul Spencer presents the definitive study of the ways of life of the cattle herding peoples of East Africa drawing on many years of research This region has offered a prime example of a traditional culture resisting the inevitability of change it provides the best known and most extensive instance both of cattle pastoralist society and of social organization based primarily on age Pastoral peoples were once dominant in the East African interior but development of the market economy has progressively polarized the region and forced them into the most marginal drought ridden areas in this ecological trap they have become a peripheral underclass The Pastoral Continuum examines the richness and resilience of their cultures and illuminates the role of indigenous practices and institutions in adaptation and survival The pastoralists systems of age organization in particular are notable for their resilience it is demonstrated that these are bound up with problems of growth and succession in family enterprises and that marriage is a critical link in the web of alliance that governs the problematic relations between old and young Spencer s exploration of the development of the pastoralist phenomenon yields a unique view of its place in the modern world and its prospects for the future This landmark work by a leading authority will be of lasting value to any reader interested in traditional social systems of this kind

State formation and the structure of politics in Mamluk Syro-Egypt, 648-741 A.H./1250-1340 C.E. Winslow Williams Clifford,2013-02-19 Winslow Williams Clifford is one of the few historians so far who have addressed the history and culture of the so called Mamluk Sultanate 1250 1517 on the basis of theoretical models This volume is a posthumous publication of his doctoral thesis submitted in 1995 at the University of Chicago Through his skillful application of social theory Clifford succeeded in providing highly convincing evidence that the Mamluk Sultanate did not as was maintained for a long time constitute a static form of oriental despotism but was rather a highly differentiated society It was primarily based on compliance with a complex system of order that had established itself during the rule of the first sultans Arapahoe Politics, 1851-1978 Loretta Fowler,1986-01-01 The Northern Arapahoes of the Wind River Reservation contradict many of the generalizations made about political change among native plains people Loretta Fowler explores how in response to the realities of domination by Americans the Arapahoes have avoided serious factional divisions and have succeeded in legitimizing new authority through the creation and use of effective political symbols Taming Oblivion John W. Encyclopedia of Social and Cultural Anthropology Alan Barnard,Jonathan Spencer,1996 Providing a guide to the ideas arguments and history of the discipline this volume discusses human social and cultural life in all its diversity and difference Theory ethnography and history are combined in over 230 entries on topics Writing in the Field Ivo Strecker,Shauna LaTosky,2013 This festschrift is situated within the contexts of the Writing Culture debate the Rhetoric Culture project and the legacy of anthropologist Stephen Tyler s work on language and representation While Writing Culture 1986 alerted readers to the power of ethnographers over their field Writing in the Field alerts readers to the power of the field over its ethnographers Rather than reprise familiar debates about writing and representation the book s individual chapters elucidate how anthropological fieldwork is a highly fraught provisional and incomplete practice enmeshed in the gaps between self and the other The book s emphasis on the concepts of pathos epiphany and dissociation is developed through essays that are personal yet not merely subjective for they draw on and contribute to deep traditions of thinking about culture and rhetoric Series Ethnologie Forschung und Wissenschaft Vol 24 This fine collection of essays is a fitting tribute to the positive influence of Stephen Tyler an original and influential anthropologist of protean gifts E Douglas Lewis School of Social and Political Sciences U of Melbourne Identities on the Move Günther Schlee,2018-09-03 Originally published in 1989 this book examines how the inter ethnic relationships of the clans of the pastoral Rendille Gabbra Sakuye and some Somalis of northern Kenya and southern Ethiopia came about It also examines the uses to which these inter ethnic relationships are put for example in managing herds Oral history is combined with cultural comparison and the analysis of social structure Blending synchronic and diachronic perspectives the book synthesises historical ethnology in the Continental tradition with social anthropology Historically it overturns some established ideas about how the Horn of Africa was settled Anthropologically it shows how relations may exceed the bounds of the ethnic group as the conventional unit of study Ten Gods Emily Lyle,2012-12-21 The various Indo European branches had a shared linguistic and cultural origin in prehistory and this book sets out to overcome the difficulties about understanding the gods who were inherited by the later literate cultures from this early silent period by modelling the kind of society where the gods could have come into existence. It presents the theory that there were ten gods who are conceived of as reflecting the actual human organization of the originating time. There are clues in the surviving written records which reveal a society that had its basis in the three concepts of the sacred physical force and fertility as argued earlier by the French scholar Georges Dumézil. These concepts are now seen as corresponding to the old men, young men and mature men of an age grade system and each of the three concepts and life stages is seen to relate to an old and a young god. In addition to these six gods and to two kings who relate in positive and negative ways to the totality, there is a primal goddess who has a daughter as well as sons. The gods like the humans of the posited prehistoric society are seen as forming a four generation set originating in an ancestress and the theogony is explored through stories found in the Germanic, Celtic, Indian and Greek contexts. The sources are often familiar ones such as the Edda, the Mabinogi, Hesiod's Theogony and the Rāmāyaṇa, but selected components are looked at from a fresh angle and taken together with less familiar and sometimes fragmentary materials yield fresh perspectives which allow us to place the Indo-European cosmology as one of the world's indigenous religions. We can also gain a much livelier sense of the original culture of Europe before it was overlaid by influences from the Near East in the period of literacy. The gods themselves continue to exert their fascination and are shown to reflect a balance between the genders, between the living and the ancestors and between peaceful and warlike aspects expressed at the human level in alternate succession to the kingship.

The Gifted Passage Stephen D. Houston, 2018-01-01. In this thought provoking book preeminent scholar Stephen Houston turns his attention to the crucial role of young males in Classic Maya society drawing on evidence from art, writing and material culture. The Gifted Passage establishes that adolescent men in Maya art were the subjects and makers of hieroglyphics, painted ceramics and murals in works that helped to shape and reflect masculinity in Maya civilization. The political volatility of the Classic Maya period gave male adolescents valuable status as potential heirs and many of the most precious surviving ceramics likely celebrated their coming of age rituals. The ardent hope was that youths would grow into effective kings and noblemen capable of leadership in battle and service in royal courts. Aiming to shift mainstream conceptions of the Maya, Houston argues that adolescent men were not simply present in images and texts but central to both.

Comparative Social Dynamics Erik Cohen, 2019-02-22. These original articles relate to major themes in the comparative study of the dynamics of cultures, modernization and social and political change. The authors, ranking scholars in their fields, provide fresh and important insights to the study of topics such as the interface of anthropological and sociological theory, the dynamics of Latin America. Shared Symbols, Contested Meanings Loretta Fowler, 2018-08-06. Fort Belknap reservation in Montana is home to both the Gros Ventre and Assiniboiné Indian tribes. The two thousand inhabitants of the reservation recognize an array of symbols, political ritual and sacred which have meaning and emotional impact for all, yet there is sharp disagreement between the two tribes and among the various age groups about the interpretation of these symbols.

Anthropologist Loretta Fowler here examines the history and culture of the Gros Ventres over two centuries seeking to discover why the residents of Fort Belknap ascribe different and often opposing meanings to their shared cultural symbols and how these differences have influenced Gros Ventre identity General Catalogue Santa Barbara State Teachers College and Junior College, Santa Barbara State Normal School of Manual Arts and Home Economics, University of California, Santa Barbara, 1929 Homosexuality in the Ancient World Wayne R.
