Ladies, Women, and Wenches Jane H. Pease, William H. Pease, 2017-10-01 Pursuing the meaning of gender in nineteenth century urban American society Ladies Women and Wenches compares the lives of women living in two distinctive antebellum cultures Charleston and Boston between 1820 and 1850 In contrast to most contemporary histories of women this study examines the lives of all types of women in both cities slave and free rich and poor married and single those who worked mostly at home and those who led more public lives Jane Pease and William Pease argue that legal political economic and cultural constraints did limit the options available to women Nevertheless women had opportunities to make meaningful choices about their lives and sometimes to achieve considerable autonomy By comparing the women of Charleston and Boston the authors explore how both urbanization and regional differences especially with regard to slavery governed all women's lives They assess the impact of marriage and work on women's religious philanthropic and reform activity and examine the female uses of education and property in order to illuminate the considerable variation in women's lives Finally they consider women's choices of life style ranging from compliance with to defiance of increasingly rigid social precepts defining appropriate female behavior However bound women were by society's prescriptions describing their role or by the class structure of their society they chose their ways of life from among such options as spinsterhood or marriage domesticity or paid work charitable activity or the social whirl the solace of religion or the escape of drink Drawing on a variety of sources including diaries court documents and contemporary literature Ladies Women and Wenches explores how the women of Charleston and Boston made the choices in their lives between total dependence and full autonomy

Classes of Ladies of Cloistered Spaces Marilyn Booth, 2015-01-20 Zaynab Fawwaz c 1860 1914 was as a forceful voice in support of women's rights to education and work choices in colonial era Egypt Her volume of 453 women's lives al Durr al manthur fi tabaqat rabbat al khudur Pearls scattered in times and places Classes of ladies of cloistered spaces 1893 6 featuring Boudicca Catherine the Great Zaynab the granddaughter of the Prophet Muhammad Victoria Woodhull the Turkish poet Sirri Hanim and many others built on the Arabic Islamic biographical tradition to produce a work for women in the modern era grafting European Turkish Arab and Indian life narratives amongst others onto Arabic literary patterns In Classes of Ladies of Cloistered Spaces Marilyn Booth argues that Fawwaz's work was less exemplary biography than feminist history in its exploration of achievement but also of patriarchal trauma in the lives of women across times and places. She traces Fawwaz's creative use of her sources, her presentation of biographical narratives in the context of the political essays she wrote in the Arabic press, her publicised dialogue with the President of the Board of Lady Managers of the 1893 World Columbian Exposition where she attempted to send the volume, and how her inscription of a feminine ancient history diverged from that of men writing history in 1890s Egypt. Ladies of the Canyons Lesley Poling-Kempes, 2015-09-17 Ladies of the Canyons is the true story of remarkable women who left the security and comforts of genteel Victorian society and journeyed to the American Southwest in search of a wider view of themselves and their world. Educated, restless and inquisitive, Natalie Curtis, Carol Stanley, Alice Klauber and Mary Cabot Wheelwright were plucky, intrepid women whose lives were transformed in the first decades of the twentieth century by the people and the landscape of the American Southwest. Part of an influential circle of women that included Louisa Wade Wetherill, Alice Corbin Henderson, Mabel Dodge Luhan, Mary Austin and Willa Cather, these ladies imagined and created a new home, territory, a new society and a new identity for themselves and for the women who would follow them. Their adventures were shared with the likes of Theodore Roosevelt and Robert Henri, Edgar Hewett and Charles Lummis. Chief Tawakwaptiwa of the Hopi and Hostiin Klah of the Navajo. Their journeys took them to Monument Valley and Rainbow Bridge, into Canyon de Chelly and across the high mesas of the Hopi, down through the Grand Canyon and over the red desert of the Four Corners to the pueblos along the Rio Grande and the villages in the mountains between Santa Fe and Taos. Although their stories converge in the outback of the American Southwest, the saga of Ladies of the Canyons is also the tale of Boston's Brahmins, the Greenwich Village avant-garde, the birth of American modern art and Santa Fe's art and literary colony. Ladies of the Canyons is the story of New Women stepping boldly into the New World of inconspicuous success, ambitious failure and the personal challenges experienced by women and men during the emergence of the Modern Age. Urban Appetites Cindy R. Lobel, 2014-04-28 Glossy magazines write about them, celebrities give their names to them and you'd better believe there's an app or ten committed to finding you the right one. They are New York City restaurants and food shops. And their journey to international notoriety is a captivating one. The now booming food capital was once a small seaport city home to a mere six municipal food markets that were stocked by farmers, fishermen and hunters who lived in the area. By 1890, however, the city's population had grown to more than one million and residents could dine in thousands of restaurants with a greater abundance and variety of options than any other place in the United States. Historians, sociologists and foodies alike will devour the story of the origins of New York City's food industry in Urban Appetites. Cindy R. Lobel focuses on the rise of New York as both a metropolis and a food capital, opening a new window onto the intersection of the cultural, social, political and economic transformations of the nineteenth century. She offers wonderfully detailed accounts of public markets and private food shops, basement restaurants and immigrant diners serving favorites.

from the old country cake and coffee shops and high end French inspired eating houses made for being seen in society as much as for dining But as the food and the population became increasingly cosmopolitan corruption contamination and undeniably inequitable conditions escalated Urban Appetites serves up a complete picture of the evolution of the city its politics and its foodways
